British Cruiser Is Sunk

TEUTONS IN FRONT OF BREST

Two More Forts at Novogeorgievsk Are Captured

Petrograd Reports Russian Victories on the Bug

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 19, via wireless to Tuckertown.—German torpedo boat destroyers have sunk a small British cruiser and a British destroyer by torpedoing them in an enagement of small craft off the west coast of Jutland, the German admiralty announced today. The admiralty announces that the naval airship raid on London on Tuesday night important establishments in the city and on the Thames were bombarded with good results.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 19, via London, 3:26 p. m.—A further advance on the part of the German army which is attempting to capture the important fortress of Brest-Litovsk was given out here officially today. The statement says that the outer positions of the fortress near Rokitno, before Brest-Litovsk, were entered.

Announcement was also made of the capture of two forts north of Novogeorgievsk, which has been invested by the Germans for several days. In taking these forts 1000 prisoners and 125 cannon were captured.

North of Biesk German troops have captured the railway from Bialystok to Brest-Litovsk, it is declared.

KOVEL IS SAFE.

PETROGRAD, via London, Aug. 19, 1:55 p. m.—Russian successes on the left bank of the Bug river, where the Germans have been pushed back southwest of Voldava, and in the region of Wladimir-Wolynsk, have allayed fears for Kovel (on the main railroad line between Brest-Litovsk and Lutz), although government institutions already have been withdrawn from the city.

British Land Force

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 19. — Additional troops have been landed by the British at Suiva bay, Gallipoli peninsula. This announcement was made here officially this afternoon.

The war office admits that, after heavy fighting in which no satisfactory pogress was made, the British advance was halted. Losses on both sides were very large.

The Wilson liner Grodno of Hull, 1955 tons gross, has been sunk. Her crew was saved.

The Danish motor boat Jutlandia, from San Francisco for Copenhagen, with a general cargo, was detained at Kirkwell Monday by the British authorities for examination.

Russian reports do not concede the total loss of Kovno, asserting the Germans have captured only the fortifications on the left bank of the Niemen, while positions on the right bank are still held by the defenders. South of the Bug the Germans are on before Brest-Litovsk, which is ...ia's greatest military station and ...ilroad center of much import-... Novogeorgievsk, which has ...en invested for the last ten days, is in imminent danger, as the Germans are making constant progress. Reports from both sides indicate

SCORES DEAD AND MISSING IN STORM

LOOTERS REPORTED KILLED

By Associated Press

GALVESTON, Aug. 19.—(By Courier.)—The total missing and known dead from an area of 100 miles wide along the Texas coast, extending on both sides of Galveston today, is 193, with the known dead less than 100. Galveston city and island missing and dead were 12. Galveston, though suffering a proportionately small percentage of fatalities, has sustained heaviest property losses.

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 19.—With information from Galveston and other points on the Texas southeast gulf coast slowly sifting through, it seemed certain early today that the terrific tropical storm of this week had exacted only a comparatively small loss of life and that the loss of property in the city of Galveston, at least, was small as compared to the storm of 1900. The great seawall saved the city of Galveston from even a worse horror than that of 1900. According to available reports, the total of lives lost throughout the storm district is less than 200.

The damage in Galveston this week is placed at $3,000,000 with the loss of fourteen lives. In 1900, eight thousand persons met death and the property loss reached $15,000,000.

Earlier reports placed the damage at Galveston as high as $15,000,000, but this apparently was disproved by later advices brought out by newspapermen and other persons.

DEATH SUMMARY.

Virginia Point 50.
Brazos Life Saving Station 19.
Galveston 12.
Patton 10.
Morgans Point 7.
Hitchcock 7.
Laporte 7.
Port Arthur 5.
Beaumont 20.
Sylvan Beach 3.
Lynchburg 3.
Seabrook 3.
Houston 5.
Dickinson 1.
On boat Sam Barnard, 2.
Jennings Island, 3.
Freeport, 1.
Sour Lake, 1.
Orange, 1.

Reports from Beaumont say fifty-six were lost when the dredge Sam Houston went down in Galveston bay. It is also reported that dredge San Jacinto with a crew of fifty and a tug are missing. Thirty persons who boarded a steamer at Port Bolivar Lighthouse may have perished when the vessel broke from its moorings and drifted into the gulf.

Fires in Galveston were reported under control last night, this item of damage alone having been estimated all in excess of $350,000.

LOOTERS REPORTED SHOT.

Train service and telegraph and telephone facilities, destroyed early Monday night, still were out of commission with prospects of their restoration within the next twenty-four hours very doubtful.

The only means of transportation was by boat.

Reports of looting by negroes and the killing of several of the looters by soldiers have not been confirmed, and it is stated the city was placed under martial law as an act of precaution.

The Galveston seawall was not washed out, according to the Associated Press representative who left Galveston at 1:30 a. m. yesterday.

The greatest damage in Galveston was along the beach and to buildings that received the force of the floods of waters whipped over the seawall by the hurricane.

The causeway connecting Galveston island with the mainland was washed out from both the east and west ends, according to the Associated Press man. The boulevard along the Galveston seawall was washed out for many blocks.

BUILDINGS WRECKED.

The United States Weather Bureau had heralded the storm two days in advance and everyone had ample time to seek places of safety. Inaccessible fires at the height of the storm caused panics among the thousands who had taken refuge in the business section, but the fires burned themselves out and the city was plunged into darkness.

HURL CHARGE AT BRITISH CONSUL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The direct connection of A. Carnegie Ross of Berkeley, British consul-general of San Francisco, with the alleged recruiting of soldiers for the English army in San Francisco in violation of international neutrality regulations was definitely alleged this morning when the indictments recently placed on the secret file were withdrawn and put on public record. The true bills declare positively that Ross paid over various sums to Ralph K. Blair to be used for the purchase of tickets to transport the recruits from this city to New York. The alleged connection between Ross and Kenneth Croft, local society man, who escorted the party eastward, is alleged in quoted figures and telegrams.

Whether or not Ross will be indicted by the government is a question which could not be answered today but it is known that the grand jury is still engaged in the investigation. The indictments set forth that he paid the following amounts to Ralph K. Blair which the latter placed in his account in the Anglo California bank.

March 31, $400; May 13, $240; May 18, $960; June 8, $2409.50; June 15, $2115 or a total of $6124.50.

From Blair's account there was paid, says the true bill, April 7, Thomas Cook and Sons, $452.20 for seven tourists' tickets to New York; June 8, $1938 for 30 tourists' tickets; June 15, $1820.09 for 27 tourists' tickets and one first-class ticket, the latter supposedly for Croft; on June 2, Southern Pacific Company, $425.40. The number of tickets is not mentioned. This totals $4635.60, leaving a balance of $1478.90.

Allies Agree Cotton Is War Contraband

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—"The allied governments have agreed in principle that cotton is contraband of war. The exact date when this announcement shall be made is still under consideration, as well as other details in connection with the proclamations."

This statement was authorized today at the British embassy.

As soon as the official announcement is made it will be disclosed also that the allied governments have prepared to stand behind the market to prevent ruinous depression of prices and minimize hardships to planters.

DR. JOHNSON ELECTED BY N. E. A.

Near-Riot Follows When Nominating Board Reads Report

Dr. David B. Johnson, president of the Winthrop Normal and Industrial School of North Carolina, was this afternoon elected president of the National Educational Association following the hottest contest for an office in the history of the big educational organization. His only opponent was Miss Grace C. Strachan, district superintendent of schools of New York City, whom he defeated by a vote of four to one.

Dr. Johnson, contrary to the expectations of most of those present at the meeting, which is the annual gathering of the association, received 479 votes; Miss Strachan received 184, and one ballot was cast for Miss Fannie Fern Andrews of Boston. The total vote cast was 664.

On but one other occasion in the fifty years' existence of the educational organization has there been any dissension in the choice of a president. Heretofore it has always been the custom to accept the report of the nominating committee without question. This committee today rendered its report in favor of Dr. Johnson, favoring him by a vote of 39 to 6 for Miss Strachan. After H. J. Waters, chairman of the nominating committee, had read the report, Thomas E. Finegan, New York State Board of Education member, submitted a minority report, recommending Miss Strachan's election.

CATCALLS INTERRUPT SPEAKER.

The election was marked by numerous disputes, shouts and even catcalls. For instance, Miss Strachan attempted to make a speech after she had been placed in nomination, whereupon J. R. Downey of New York objected. James Y. Joyner of North Carolina, one of Dr. Johnson's campaign managers, pleaded her cause, whereupon such a clamor arose that Miss Strachan took her seat.

Then Joyner started to make a speech advocating the election of Johnson. He was greeted by jeers and catcalls and Dr. Joseph Swain, who presided, had to call the meeting to order. Joyner pleaded with the delegates to follow precedent by adopting the report of the nominating committee.

Miss Mary C. Curtis of New York occasioned some anger and much laughter when she objected to the distribution of more than one ballot to each active member present on the ground that "possibly more than one ballot would be voted by one person." The tellers chosen to count the ballots were appointed by the two campaign managers.

JOYNER TAKES FLOOR.

The motions and statements flew thick and fast about the floor of the convention for a period of several minutes after the majority and minority reports of the nominating committee had been read, until James Y. Joyner took the floor and made a plea that "this convention conduct itself in the dignity which an organization of this kind should at all times maintain." A move was made that Finegan's motion be tabled, but this was withdrawn by the mover at the suggestion of Joyner, who is a strong Johnson partisan.

Finegan, in presenting his report to the convention, described Miss Strachan as one of the leading educators of the country; a woman who is a genius for organization; one who would put money into the association's treasury; a friend of the teacher, and a woman who has herself been a teacher all her life. During the course of his address, one of the educators in the middle of the crowded theater took the floor and protested, asking Dr. Joseph Swain, first vice-president of the organization, who presided as chairman at the request of Dr. David Starr Jordan, the president, if Finegan were reading a minority report or a political speech. The dissenter was silenced, and Finegan permitted to proceed.

GALLERY WARNED.

Another disturbing element was furnished by a gallery full of associate members who were allowed into the meeting on the understanding that they would make no demonstration. They disobeyed this order when the name of Miss Strachan was mentioned and had to be warned by Secretary D. W. Springer.

Finegan's motion for the adoption of a substitute report of the minority was seconded by Miss Elizabeth Bray and Miss Grace Fitzgerald, both of California, who made stirring speeches in favor of the New York woman.

VOTE ON CANDIDATES.

After considerable argument pro and con it was decided to vote on all of the candidates presented in the report of the

LEVIATHAN SUNK WITHOUT WARNING OFF IRISH COAST

By Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 19.—A torpedo from a German submarine fired, it is said, without warning, sent to the bottom of the Atlantic at 9:15 a. m. off the south coast of Ireland the White Star liner Arabic, on her way from Liverpool to New York.

The White Star Company says that 375 of the 423 persons on board were saved. This leaves 48 unaccounted for.

The first reports were that all of the passengers and crew had apparently been rescued by another steamer. Subsequently, however, it was reported that the Arabic had gone down in 11 minutes and that only 375 had been saved.

The British steamer Magnolia reports by wireless that the steamship Sunsley also was torpedoed, but at the time the message was sent was still afloat and was picking up survivors.

The White Star Line, after first announcing that there were 410 persons on board, later gave out a corrected statement giving the total number as 423. There were 152 second cabin passengers, forty-eight in the steerage and 243 members of the crew.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The White Star Line announced late today that the captain of the Arabic has reported to the line at Liverpool that the vessel had been sunk without warning. It was also announced that 350 survivors had landed at Queenstown.

ARABIC READY FOR ATTACK

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A message received a few minutes after the one announcing that the vessel had sailed contained the information that the Arabic had aboard 130 cabin passengers and forty-five in the steerage. This message contained no reference to the reported sinking of the vessel.

The Arabic, one of the few large White Star vessels remaining in the trans-Atlantic service, sailed on her last outward voyage from this port on July 28th last. She had aboard 188 passengers and approximately 16,000 tons of cargo, almost all of which was war supplies. Aeroplanes and automobiles formed the chief portion of the cargo.

Attack by a German submarine apparently was feared when the vessel left New York, for around her steering gear there were piled numerous sand bags as a protection against gun fire. This also was taken as an indication that in case she were sighted by a U-boat the big liner intended to take a chance at getting away, trusting to her speed.

The crew usually consisted of about 240 men. It was assumed today that she had this number aboard when she left Liverpool yesterday. All the crew, it was said, were of foreign citizenship.

Captain Will Finch commanded the ship. Fifteen boatloads of the Arabic's passengers and crew were saved, according to a cable dispatch received here at 2:30 p. m. by the White Star Line. The dispatch follows:

"The Arabic sailed Wednesday afternoon with a cargo and mails and 175 passengers and was sunk by a German submarine at 9:15 o'clock this morning off the south coast of Ireland. Hopeful that all passengers and crew have been saved, as fifteen boatloads were rescued."

According to this account, a periscope was sighted as the steamer went in from St. George's Channel, and it soon became obvious that a hostile submarine was in pursuit. The Arabic put on full steam and out distanced the submarine.

On the occasion of the apparent attempt to dynamite the Arabic last month, the explosive, which was discovered by a private detective, was concealed under a settee in the woman's parlor in the cabin amidship. A thorough search of the liner was made by detectives before she sailed on her last eastward trip on July 28th, but no explosives were found.

On her recent trips the Arabic has carried far fewer passengers than on normal voyages in times of peace.

There were 105 passengers in the cabin, of whom five were Americans and eighty in the steerage on the last voyage to Liverpool. The Arabic has been utilized to carry great quantities of war munitions purchased in the United States for Great Britain.

Fastnet, off which the Arabic is reported to have gone down, lies close to the lane of steamship traffic between England and America. It is about forty miles west of Old Head of Kinsale, near which the Lusitania was sunk. German submarines have been active in these waters since the declaration by the German government in February of a naval war zone around the British Isles.

The Arabic, a twin screw steamship, arrived in New York on her maiden trip on July 5, 1903, having been launched at Belfast on December 18th of the previous year. At that time she was one of the largest steamships engaged in trans-Atlantic trade.

POLICE GUARD LEO FRANK'S REMAINS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The body of Leo M. Frank was brought here early today. Detectives and police were on hand to guard against any demonstration, but few persons were gathered at the station.

Mrs. Frank, who accompanied the body of her husband on the trip from Atlanta, was greeted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Otto Stern, and others of Frank's relatives.

Frank's body was taken under police guard to an undertaker's establishment near the home of his father, Rudolph Frank. Otto Stern, brother-in-law of Frank, said the funeral tomorrow would be private.

MOTHER THANKS PEOPLE.

Mrs. Rudoph Frank, mother of Leo Frank, gave out a statement today in which she thanked the public for the kindness and sympathy extended to the Frank family. She said she and her husband had received a large number of messages of sympathy from Southerners during the last two days. She declined to announce when the funeral would take place. By 10 o'clock a quiet crowd of more than 300 people had gathered in front of the Frank home.

LEAVES WEDDING RING.

By Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 19. — Governor Harris today conferred with the State Prison Commission before taking further action for investigating the lynching of Leo M. Frank. The governor expects to give out a statement later.

O. B. Keeler, a newspaperman, employed in Atlanta, but residing in Marietta, in a published article today, says that Frank's wedding ring was delivered to him at his home last night by a man unknown to him. Keeler says a note in an envelope with the ring read:

"Frank's dying request was that his wedding ring be given to his wife. Will you not see that this request is carried out? The note will be delivered to you by a man you do not know and who does not know you. Make no effort to find out his identity. You are expected to destroy this after reading it."

CHOOL COMMISSIONERS CHALLENGE TAX ASS'N

ıperintendent Barker Answers Charges Made; Elected Executive Head

...owing facts and figures purporting ... for every cent asked for in ... budget. Superintendent of ... C. Barker last night answered ... report of the Tax Association, ... it was charged that money was ... unwisely, that a general state of ... existed and that the budget ... prepared by the Board of Education ...

"Don't if we don't know that the Oakland schools are among the best regulated in the United States, people from the outside do know it," Barker bitterly exclaimed, "and it seems to me a shame at this time, when the teachers of the entire world are in our city, we should be attacked on generalities."

Barker was unanimously elected executive head of the school department, with supreme power in all departments, after a protest.

Commissioner W. H. Edwards chalenged J. W. Barnard and E. W. Wilkins of the Tax Association, who were present, to show where they could save the $145,000 which they claimed in their report could be lopped from the school budget.

CHALLENGE NOT ACCEPTED.

"Oh—well—we said that several months ago. We could not lop your budget critically now, because we do not know what contracts and debts you have made since."

"Still you are going down to the supervisors tomorrow and do a little talking," said Edwards.

"Well," said Williams, "we hope to have itemized figures there. "When I say the budget was unscientific I refer to this. There are nothing but totals."

"But this is not in the hands of the supervisors," said Williams.

"It will be, tomorrow, when the matter comes up," answered Barker.

"I think," said Williams, "that the board should prepare its budget two months early and give us time to analyze it scientifically."

OPPOSE PEOPLE'S DEMANDS.

"You see," said Edwards, "this is what we are up against. The people demand improvements. You don't want them."

Williams finally stated that as the board had passed the budget to the supervisors he would discuss the matter there.

"You don't need to do that," said Edwards. "If you have any recommendations to make we will be willing to consider them and amend our budget tomorrow if it is necessary."

"We don't seek publicity, but just want help," said Barnard.

Superintendent Barker protested vigorously a tax association report, which he termed an attack on the schools, published last week in a San Francisco newspaper.

"It is not fair that we should not have a little word of commendation, if the tax association is so fair," he said, "especially while the eyes of the educational world are upon us."

Following the protest Superintendent Barker was unanimously elected executive head of the school department, with supreme power in both business and educational departments.

The meeting last night was a gayly spirited one. Superintendent Barker and the school directors came in evening dress, planning later to attend the N. E. A. ball. Miss Brown and Mrs. Hawes appeared resplendent in silks and fur coats. Their entrance created a mild sensation.

WOOD LATH DISPUTE.

City Architect J. J. Donovan reported on the dispute over the use of wood lath in the Tompkins school. "Metal lath is needed only in theaters and assembly halls," he said. "The city building department approved the use of wood in this case for economy's sake." It was also reported that all wood and burlap had been treated with fireproof paint.

It was voted to hold up the contract for program clocks at the Clawson school pending an investigation of different makes.

J. S. Lavenson, representing the Chamber of Commerce Commercial Club, asked that the school vacation which was to have ended August 25 be continued to August 30. "The N. E. A. is the biggest thing the city has ever seen and the teachers should attend every session," he remarked.

Superintendent Barker recommended Mr. Lavenson's suggestion be carried out. "It would guarantee good attendance the last days of the convention," he said. The order was voted to extend the vacation as requested.

James Higgins, dismissed janitor, asked for opening of his case. A hearing was granted, over Director Aber's protest. The recommendation of Superintendent Barker orders for athletic supplies in the schools were rescinded. "As the supervisors will probably cut out playground work," he said, "we would be further low in the apparatus. Let us wait and see what is come.

WILL ATTEND MEETING.

Barker also asked if the board desired him to attend today's budget meeting of the supervisors.

"I don't think any of us should. If they're going to cut, let 'em,' said Dr. Kelly.

"But there are some things it would be better to cut than others," said Barker. "I am thinking of our efficiency. I would like some members of the board there, too." It was decided to send representation.

The request for Japanese classes in the public schools, to be paid for by the Japanese themselves, was granted, the district attorney's office declaring the plan legal. It was also decided that parents must furnish students with individual towels in all elementary schools. Teachers in vocational and grammar schools who work more than six hours per day were ordered paid for overtime, $100 per year extra for a 6-hour day, $200 for a 7-hour day, and $300 for an 8-hour day. Mrs. F. H. Rogers, widow of the custodian of the Manzanita school, who has done her husband's work since his death, was given the position at $75 per month.

Claims were granted as follows from the general fund:

M. J. Bolter, $16.15; A. D. Campbell, $22.50; E. M. Crow, $15; Bon Osen, $15; M. W. Reynolds, $15.

Oakland Special Fund, $8529.31; Oakland High Special Fund, $2613.22; Library Fund, $3.26; School Tax Fund, $1328.70; Clawson School Construction Fund, $13,914.62.

STEAL $15,000, LOCK WOMEN IN CLOSET

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Police are closing in on the bandits who last night looted the Hamilton Apartments of $15,000, after having locked two women in a closet with the unconscious form of a Japanese servant. Mrs. Dorothy Stanton and Mrs. Beth Jeannette were the victims of the robbers and of the unusually harrowing experience.

At midnight, half an hour after the robbers had fled, the women burst open the door of their prison and gave the alarm.

As the women were about to retire a knock sounded on the door of their apartment. Opening the door, Mrs. Stanton was confronted by two men, one short and the other tall, who presented revolvers and threatened to shoot if she made an outcry. Before them they forced the Japanese servant, who they overpowered in the hallway. His struggles to escape were ended by a blow dealt by one of the robbers with the butt of a revolver.

Tossing the body of the Japanese into a closet, the robbers pushed the women in and locked the door. They then ransacked the bureaus, taking, say the women, several pieces of valuable jewelry. Before leaving the men switched off the lights and nothing was known of the robbery until the women, with the aid of the Japanese, who recovered his senses, liberated themselves.

FIGHTING IN WEST.

On the western front there has been no serious infantry fighting since the advance at Hooge. The French, however, are more active. Paris announces violent artillery engagements in the Artois region, in the Champagne, beyond the Meuse and in the Vosges. Attacks with grenades by the army of the German Crown Prince in the Argonne are reported to have been repulsed.

An Austrian squadron attacked the Island of Pelagosa, in the mid-Adriatic, seized by the Italians early in the war. Attempts to make a landing were defeated.

Closing on Brest

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, Aug. 18, via London, Aug. 19.—The German forces advancing on Brest-Litovsk have defeated the Russians near Biala, to the west of the fortress, within range of the guns of the stronghold, while a short distance northwest of the fortress the southern bank of the river Bug has been cleared of Russians, according to an official communication made public tonight.

GLORIES IN KOVNO'S FALL.

A Reuter's dispatch from Amsterdam says a dispatch received there from Berlin asserts that Emperor William sent telegrams to Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Generals von Eichorn and Litsmann congratulating them on the fall of Kovno. That to Von Hindenburg said:

"Kovno, the bulwark of the inner line of the Russian defenses, has fallen into German hands. For this brilliant feat of arms the Fatherland is indebted, as well as for the incomparable bravery of its sons, to your conspicuous initiative. I express to your excellency my warmest appreciation.

"Upon General von Eichhorn I confer the order Pour le Merite, and upon General Litsmann the Oak Leaves of Merit."

Lighten Embargo

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 19. — Announcement of minor modifications of the embargo on the export of wool to countries approved as "safe destinations" is regarded as the first step in a policy of a freer exportation of wool, which had been advocated by the trade. Negotiations are under way for a considerable extension of exports to the United States.

A decision is not expected before next month, as it will be necessary for Great Britain to ensure the retention of enough supplies for the winter military needs of herself and her allies. It is pointed out that a freer wool trade would do something to reduce England's growing balance of imports over exports, as well as to steady the wool market.

War Summary

Further additions to the British forces in the Dardanelles have been made, London announcing that more troops have been landed at Suvla Bay on the Gallipoli peninsula.

The German victory at Kovno is not complete, according to the Russian claim. Petrograd asserts that the Grand Duke Nicholas' forces still hold all the fortifications on the right bank of the Niemen.

Board Will Be Compelled to Bring Mandamus Proceedings.

The Board of Supervisors will be compelled to bring mandamus proceedings against the city council to force the fifteen cent tax provided by the charter, if the city will not otherwise furnish this sum for the city schools. Mandamus proceedings were also recommended to the mothers' clubs urging playgrounds, by the board of supervisors, who this morning passed on the city school budget.

The board, Supervisor John F. Mullins pointed out, by charter provision, has no right to levy playground taxes. The city council, on the other hand, is ordered to by charter provision.

The Board of Supervisors this morning met with the Board of Education on the matter. Cuts of several thousand dollars were made and the session continued.

BARKER OPENS CASE.

Superintendent A. C. Barker opened his case by offering the summary of the budget and also the itemized list of costs for both high and elementary schools. "We prorate their expense," he said.

"When I last looked at the books," said E. W. Williams, the assistant superintendent, was charged to maintenance. Since then this has been changed on the books. The Tax Association waved into this."

"They are and have been charged to supervision," corrected Barker. "As to kindergarters, we have more now, and they are opened longer. It is necessary to increase teachers as the city grows. This is moderate."

"How about housing the students?" asked Kelley.

"We want portable schools—in fact we have put them in betterments and asked the city to aid."

"Has the city given you the 5 cent tax necessary?"

"I believe we got 2½ cents," said Barker.

MULLINS PROTESTS.

"This 5-cent tax is a mandate," said Mullins. "The city is compelled to fix this tax if the Board of Education wants it. Mandamus the council.

"The Board of Education is absolutely unfair to us. If the city refuses you some of this work it won't be done. We are as anxious for a low tax rate as the city, and our tax-levying is optional. With the city it is mandatory."

"We have estimates on playgrounds," said Barker. "These are on the school yards and are conducted exactly as the municipal playgrounds. We furnish the teachers and supplies, and Mr. Dickie aids us. The city gives us the overhead. We have also asked the city for these salaries.

"The charter puts this entirely up to the council and playground commission," said Mullins, "so what right have you to do it, and why do you ask the board of supervisors to do it?

"I think we have a legal right," said Barker. "There is no question but that the city could do it."

MULLINS SCORES BOARD.

"In every case," said Mullins, "the Board of Education asks us for every cent that the city is supposed to furnish.

"We have no right to act on these things. The Board of Education has never been fair. I want the people to understand this, so they will understand our action. I could never see the right of the Board of Supervisors to do this. You never demanded these things of the council, but set the women's clubs onto the supervisors.

"You never refuse a club's request; just put it up to the supervisors and let us bear the brunt.

"The board obligated itself to build a Lafayette assembly hall on our budget last year. What have we now? A mothers' club on our backs and another request for $45,000 for an assembly hall at the Lafayette, and a flimsy pretext."

ADDED A ZERO.

"We have cut the new buildings $50,000," said Barker, "over your figures. The stenographer made a mistake and added a zero to the first sheet."

"That's better than the assessor did—he rubbed two off!" said Mullins.

"This correction and our 25% blanket reduction makes a $120,000 reduction, approximately," said Barker, "and now in regard to reductions. I was asked to suggest reductions. You can reduce the overhead and improvements to what they were last year; let the organizations meeting in schools pay janitor's overtime, and can reduce equipment and insurance. I question the wisdom of reducing the insurance. You cannot reduce teachers. Playgrounds might be. Dr. Cubberly's report shows that the number of pupils per teacher is high now. I think after the 20th the school attendance will be heavier. That means a little more money from the state."

"It is a waste of time for us to fix a budget," said Murphy, "and then find the money is spent for entirely different purposes. It is a farce."

"We are limited to maintenance," said Heyer.

TOO MUCH HELP?

"It has been said that the tax rate last year was raised by equipments," said Williams. "This year there are no new schools, but still the budget is bigger. There are too many salaries in the offices. Still they can't do their work. Understand, the Tax Association has every faith in Mr. Barker."

WANTS AUTOMATIC PIANO.

"There was an increase in salaries last year," said Barker, "with the opening of new schools. The opening of schools caused a new distribution of pupils. There were 40 to the teacher instead of 50. This raised the rates."

"How about piano players in schools?" asked Williams. "We have had them 15 years," said Miss Brown.

"Why not automatic pianos?" asked Williams.

"There is a spirited campaign on for more school expenditures," said Barker.

"Do you claim that spending money means efficiency?" asked Williams. "What measuring rod shall we use? San Francisco schools stand high."

"Any college can tell you differently," said Miss Brown. Barker presented a campaign folder from San Francisco showing the city to be 100th in expenditures for schools among cities of over 50,000 in the United States. This was attested by W. H. French and C. W. Pike of San Francisco.

Mrs. H. C. Hortman urged that the playgrounds be maintained. Mrs. H. C. Ingraham urged grounds in Melrose, and Mrs. A. C. Christensen also protested the playgrounds being cut."

"This is entirely up to the city council," said Kelley. "We have absolutely nothing to do with it. You should see the city council."

"You can mandamus the council," said Murphy.

ROUTINE BUSINESS.

Chairman John Mitchell of the Board of Equalization filed laws on state taxes. Report that they were considering the detention home plans was filed by the State Board of Charities. A payment of $2756.56 on the county infirmary contract was ordered. Request for a redistricting of Piedmont was filed by Mayor Oliver Ellsworth and referred to the committee of the whole. Request that R. Smith be named iron inspector on the infirmary was filed by the Building Trades Council.

Norway Presents Demand on Berlin

By Associated Press.

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Aug. 19, via London, 12:20 p. m.—The halting yesterday of the Norwegian mail steamer Haakon VII and the seizure of mails on board by a German submarine have been followed by a protest to Berlin and a demand for the return of the mails to Norway. The Haaken VII was bound from Bergen to England.

The postmaster - general announced that the commander of the German submarine ordered the jettisoning of all printed matter and packages destined to countries hostile to Germany. All letters and remittances are said to have been taken aboard the submarine.

have none until after all details had been received. He assumed American consuls would send reports and the State Department was not ordering any.

The Arabic's tonnage is 15,801 gross and 9,552 net. She is 600 feet long, 65 feet beam and 41 feet in depth. She was built in Belfast in 1903 by Harland & Wolff.

On her last eastward trip the Arabic arrived in Liverpool on August 6 from New York.

Following the receipt of a cablegram announcing her safe arrival, the Bureau of Combustibles in New York City allowed the fact to become known that two sticks of dynamite had been discovered on board on July 27, the night before she sailed from New York.

Once before since the beginning of the war the Arabic had a close call. A cable message from London on March 27 said the steamer had been pursued by a German submarine in the Irish Sea on the voyage which ended on that day.

Announcement also was made today of the sinking of the British steamer Sermino of Hull, 2256 tons gross. Her crew was saved.

APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

Owing to the absence of Francis S. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction of Illinois, who was to serve as chairman of the N. E. A. committee on Resolutions, Dr. Ellwood P. Cubberly, professor of education of Stanford University, has been appointed chairman. Another member of the committee, Superintendent John R. Carr, of Bayonne, New Jersey, was unable to be present, and Superintendent C. E. Chalsey, of Detroit, Michigan, was appointed to take his place. Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the University of Maine, was also appointed to fill the vacancy.

The other members of the resolutions committee are Fanny Fern Andrews, Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford, J. Stanley Brown, F. P. Claxton, Wm. T. Foster, John H. Francis, J. Y. Joyner, Alexis F. Lange and Carroll F. Pearse.

Europe Demands That War End

Conferee on Peace Reports to Wilson

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. — There is a general demand in Europe for an end to the war, but no definite move for peace has received encouragement, according to a report made to President Wilson by Miss Emily Balch of Washington. Miss Balch was a representative of the recent women's peace conference at The Hague to Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Russia, Holland and Great Britain, in the interests of peace plans brought forward at The Hague meeting.

Miss Balch told the President that when the belligerents do meet to discuss peace terms the women peace advocates will gather and advocate disarmament and other peace measures. The conference of women, she said, will oppose any peace terms which involve placing the nationals of one country under the rule of another. Such arrangement, she thought, would lead to further wars.

GERMANY REJOICES IN FALL OF STRONG FORT

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 19, via London, 2:15 a.m. —The fall of Kovno is hailed with joy by the entire German press, which, however, prints no details of the capture.

The newspapers devote columns to a discussion of the military strength of the fortress and draw the conclusion from the general staff's report of the capture of more than 400 guns that the victory is one of the most important of the war.

The fall of the fortress on the birthday of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria was hailed as a splendid omen. The formal birthday celebration arranged in the monarch's honor by Austrians and Germans was doubly enthusiastic because of the victory.

nominating committee, with the exception of that for the office of president.

The following were elected:

First vice-president, Lewis Starr Jordan of California; second vice-president, Mrs. J. M. Greenwood of Kansas City; third vice-president, Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford, state superintendent of instruction of Colorado; fourth vice-president, John D. Loiter, city superintendent of schools, Phoenix, Ariz.; fifth vice-president, John E. Bray of Nevada, sixth vice-president, Miss Josephine Preston, state superintendent of instruction, Washington; seventh vice-president, Walter R. Siders of Idaho, eighth vice-president, W. N. Sharbs of Florida; ninth vice-president, Miss La Stone of Vermont; tenth vice-president, J. George Becht of Pennsylvania, and eleventh vice-president, Frank L. Crone of the Philippine Islands.

Miss Grace M. Shepherd of Boise, Idaho, was re-elected treasurer of the association. There were no contests for these offices.

The meeting was opened by President [illegible] and Secretary Springer by the reading of various reports and the transaction of routine business. The recommendation of the executive committee that the sum of $4490 be appropriated to defray the expenses of investigation during the next year by various committees of the association was adopted.

TO INVESTIGATE THRIFT.

The association adopted a report instructing the president to appoint a committee to make an investigation of the best manner in which the subject of thrift may be introduced into the public schools of the country. This action was taken at the recommendation of S. W. Straus, president of the National Thrift Congress, who has offered through the teachers' organization prizes of $1000, $250 and $100 for the best essays on the subject.

Dr. Carroll G. Pearse, president of the Board of Trustees, submitted a report for that organization which was adopted as was the report of Miss Grace Shepherd, the treasurer.

The committee on resolutions was granted further time to bring in a report. [illegible] Friday, August 27.

MASS FOR REV. McSWEENEY.

FRUITVALE, Aug. 19. — A requiem mass was celebrated this morning for the late Rev. Thomas McSweeney at St. Elizabeth's church. The members of the third order of St. Francis attended in a body. Rev. Father Maximillian, pastor of the church officiated over the services.

SCORES DEAD AND MISSING IN STORM

From one-half to two-thirds of the buildings which lined this front have been wrecked and most of the buildings about the docks are little better than ruins. This, however, is attributed to the wind, as the piling on which these buildings were erected still stands. Back of the sea wall in the vicinity of Tremont street all the smaller frame buildings have been wrecked or wrenched from their foundations.

All bath houses, together with piers extending out into the gulf, have been washed away and a four-masted schooner hurled in the gulf lies halfway across the sea wall. The sailors from this vessel were rescued by soldiers at Fort Crockett.

THREE DISASTROUS FIRES.

There were three disastrous fires in Galveston since the storm. The first of these, which broke out in a laundry near the Santa Fe depot, occurred early Tuesday morning. This building, with the one adjoining, was burned to the ground. Later a fire started in the store of the Galveston Dry Goods Company, and at noon Wednesday there was a fire in the warehouse of the Direct Navigation Company. It was estimated that these three fires alone cause damage of approximately $250,000 in excess of that created by the storm. Late reports received at Texas City stated that the fire was subsequently gotten under control by the use of engines pumping water from the streets.

IN NEED OF SUPPLIES.

The greatest need of Galveston now and the 20,000 or more people who remained in the city during the storm, is food and fresh water. At noon Wednesday it was reported there was scarcely enough water to last another day, and much of this would be required for baking bread. Nearly all the stores of groceries were water soaked, packages of crackers bringing a price of 50 cents each. Efforts to supply provisions and water are being made as rapidly as possible.

Both ends of the causeway were washed out, and it will be several weeks before direct rail connection can be resumed. Gangs of men are busily engaged in clearing the railroad tracks of the debris which is piled on them between Texas City Junction and Texas City. The warehouse and dock people of Texas City have placed these facilities at the disposal of a committee of Galveston people, and as soon as rail communication can be made ample supplies can be sent across the bay in barges from United States transports.

Ten large steamers, it is estimated, were torn from their moorings and were blown over Galveston bay. Seven of them are aground. Some were blown from 3 to 8 miles inland by the force of the hurricane and water.

An estimate of the dead in the section about Galveston and Houston was placed at seventy-one by a representative of the Associated Press from Galveston, who last night arrived at Houston after a thrilling trip. Reports from other places, however, told of deaths of which reports had not reached him.

STORM WARNING SOUNDED.

The storm was predicted two days in advance by the United States weather bureau and every resident had ample time to seek a place of safety.

While the storm was at its height in Galveston fires began to break out. At 8 o'clock Monday night the first alarm was sounded. The wind was blowing at sixty-two miles an hour. Horses attached to hose wagons were terrified by the storm and refused to move. Firemen pulled the hose from the wagon and ran with it half a mile to the fire. Upon their arrival, however, the water supply had been destroyed. The fire burned itself out. This occurrence was repeated half a score of times during the period of the storm.

It was reported from Beaumont, Tex., that Captain Harper of the dredge Haden, his wife and several children were rescued late Wednesday by the steamer Katherine, after they had clung to the branches of a willow tree in the Sabine Neches canal for fourteen hours. The houseboat which the Harpers occupied capsized. Refugees who arrived in Beaumont from Patten, Tex., said they waded through four feet of water from Patten to Port Bolivar, where they were picked up by rescue boats.

From Texas City came a story of the heroism of Sergeant Petty of the United States Army. Tuesday morning, according to reports, Petty swam nearly a mile, carrying the baby of the express agent at Texas City to safety. He then returned and carried out of danger the agent's wife and an older child. Sergeant Petty formerly was a member of a government life-saving crew at Galveston.

Sight Dredge Boat

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 19.—An Associated Press representative at Galveston reached Houston late last night, having made the trip by means of the launch Sunflower, an 18-foot rowboat and an automobile. He left Galveston at 10 a. m. He said that en route he sighted the Sam Houston dredge boat, which had been given up for lost by the owners.

"We headed for Dickinson Bay," said the correspondent, "but were delayed two hours when our boat broke down. Finally a small rowboat came along and we transferred to it and went to Dickinson Bridge, where we took an automobile into Houston."

SEAWALL REPORTED SAFE.

The Associated Press man was accompanied by a telephone lineman, who carried a field telegraph instrument. They hoped to re-etsablish communication between Houston and the island city.

The Galveston seawall is intact, according to the word the two brought. The causeway was washed out from both east and west ends, but the drawbridge was uninjured. The Galveston seawall boulevard was washed away for several blocks from Seventeenth street east.

The terrific force of the wind and waves which battered the seawall at Galveston can be somewhat estimated from the fact that the big granite monuments at the foot of Tremont street, torn from their bases, were hurled completely across the boulevard, while many of the iron light poles were uprooted from their concrete bases and blown for blocks," said the correspondent.

Between 14 and 20 persons, it is feared, may have perished in the collapse of a hotel at Virginia Point, according to Rev. T. J. Sloan of Houston Heights and Sheriff C. D. Kemp of Wharton, who arrived here late Wednesday.

Sloan and Kemp said they were passengers on a Galveston interurban train, which was stalled on the causeway during the storm Monday night. All the passengers in the car, numbering 48, sought refuge in the hotel, a two-story frame structure. The motorman refused to leave his car.

"About 2:50 o'clock Tuesday morning," said Kemp, "the hotel started to go to pieces. Its walls parted with a roar and in a moment those inside were struggling in the waters which surged over the causeway. Twenty members of the party never were accounted for, but it is possible some of them escaped death."

CONFIRM HOTEL DISASTER.

W. E. Ragsdale of Houston, a traveling salesman, confirmed the story of the hotel collapse.

"With several companions I left the hotel ten minutes before it collapsed," said Ragsdale. "We swam in eight feet of water surrounding the structure. Among those inside were nine women and two children. Four of the women were saved, but the two children were lost."

Dr. Powell said the greatest property damage in Galveston is on the beach.

"Practically all the houses east of Twentieth and near the boulevard were destroyed," he said. "A strip about one-half to two blocks wide to Fortieth street is damaged.

"The wharves were slightly damaged. Piers 10 and 21 suffered the most."

When the storm approached, 5000 persons sought refuge in the depot, according to Dr. Powell. Five hundred people were housed in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

All saloons in Galveston were closed Tuesday morning by order of Mayor Fisher, Dr. Powell said.

TWENTY DEATHS REPORTED.

By Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 19.—Reports of 20 deaths at Anahuac, in Chambers county, during the storm were brought here today. Two thousand refugees are here from Port Arthur. There is one case of smallpox, but little danger of a spread of the disease.

NINETEEN DROWNED.

By Associated Press.

FREEPORT, Tex., Aug. 19.—Nineteen persons were drowned at the Brazos United States life saving station in the storm Monday night, according to reports received here. The only known dead, most of whom are said to be excursionists, were the wife and child of Captain John P. Steinhart, keeper of the station.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 19.—Confirmation that nineteen persons are missing since the collapse of a government lighthouse at Surfside, near Freeport, about fifty miles below Galveston, was brought to Houston today by Homer D. Wade of Freeport. Twenty-one persons took refuge in the lighthouse during the hurricane.

ISLANDERS' FATE IN DOUBT.

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 19.—No reports have been received here early today from March Island, 150 miles southwest of New Orleans, where more than 100 persons are believed to be marooned or lost. They were not warned of the approaching hurricane. Boats of the Louisiana State Conservation Commission have been ordered to go to the rescue.

GREATER THAN 1900, REPORT.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Galveston advices to the Treasury Department today describe the storm as equal to that of 1900, and said:

"Only six reported dead, other than those on dredges and towboats."

TAX HURTS ITALIANS.

POLICEMEN WILL TRY ARMY LIFE

Granted Leaves of Absence to Join Citizens' Training Camp.

A resolution authorizing Chief of Police W. P. Woods to grant leaves of absence to three members of the police department for a period of not longer than 15 days to enroll at the Citizens' Military Training Camp at the Presidio in San Francisco was presented this morning by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety P. F. Jansson and was carried.

A report showing the problems on the waterfront which he hopes to settle in the 12 months during which he is to be employed by the city was filed by M. E. Miller, consulting harbor engineer. The communication outlines work enough for a corps of army engineers for several years. It was placed on file as follows:

"CHAOTIC CONDITION."

"The Oakland waterfront, today, is in a most chaotic condition. Scarcely any two franchises or leases or users of the waterfront are upon an equal footing. No official general schedule of port charges exist. The net results of this heterogeneous state of affairs is that the municipality is facing a fifty-year period of waterfront demoralization and financial losses which compute well into the millions. No more important task is before the city government than to disentangle and readjust the whole situation to the end that the harbor will be placed upon a permanent businesslike footing and made at least self-supporting. The following summary of subjects to be reported upon, partially covers the problem and will convey an idea of the magnitude of the task of working out a complete readjustment.

"Summary of contents of the principal subjects to be examined into and reported upon in connection with specific recommendations designed to permanently dispose of the Oakland waterfront problem—as a whole—upon a square deal basis to all concerned.

"The memorandum of agreement, dated September 23, 1908, between the city of Oakland and the S. P. R. R. Company. Fourteen separate items of agreement—to analyze—to prove the grossly unfair character of the whole transaction.

"Long wharf—its cost—present value—cost of removal—tonnage over it per annum—its revenue capacity—cost of upkeep and a discussion of the engineering features.

"Municipal dredger—total cost to date—its value, cost of operation to date in monthly periods—interest—depreciation—number of days operated each month—yardage handled each month—total yardage.

"Municipal pile driver—same data as for No. 3.

FRANCHISES AND LEASES.

"Waterfront franchises and leases—complete tabulation thereof and analysis of inequalities and inequities—revenue actually received—revenue that should be received.

"Schedule of waterfront charges for wharfage, dockage, tolls and rents. Full discussion of present conditions and recommendation.

"Present harbor revenues and expenses. Discussion of conditions.

"Present physical condition of the Oakland waterfront structures—capacity future needs, etc.

"Showing of conditions in Key Route Basin—cost of reclamation tide lands—building railroad tracks—freight sheds—water and oil fuel pipe lines required, etc.

"Present organization of Harbor Department.

"Reclamation of West Oakland marsh lands: Cost of—method of payment by property owners.

"Estuary quay wall portion of the harbor. Discussion of present condition and future requirements, etc.

"Livingston street wharf—discussion of present and future use.

"Brooklyn Basin leases, terms and conditions thereof to be discussed (subject to result of recently started suit to recover).

"Waterfront lands on the estuary between Washington street and Franklin street, now in possession of the S. P. R. R. Company. Is it not city property?

"Sanitary conditions of the whole waterfront."

CHAPLIN IS BANKER IN FRANKLIN FILM

Latest Comedy Shows Funny Man at His Best.

The motion picture fans of Oakland, and particularly the admirers of Charlie Chaplin have been anxiously awaiting the release of his latest comedy, "The Bank." The film was announced for showing at the Franklin a week ago, but a few days before the opening date, advice was received from the manufacturers in Chicago that through an unavoidable accident, which they regretted exceedingly, the prints could not be shipped until a week later. However, the film arrived in Oakland this morning and will be presented at the Franklin today, tomorrow and Saturday.

It is reported that Chaplin has instilled new and original ideas into this production that make it distinctly different from all others, but at the same time carrying out the comedian's naive humor. Chaplin is well know for his extemporaneous action in the taking of scenes. In this play it appears all to be acted out on the spot without forethought and this fact would give rise to the common belief that Chaplin does not prepare for his comedies. As a matter of fact he studies his character for days and even months to learn just what they do and how they act under given circumstances. But when he comes to the taking of the scene, he lets this knowledge trickle out as the action calls for, so that nothing is forced.

In addition to "The Bank," a dramatic production, "The Scarlet Sin," featuring Hobart Bosworth, will be included in the bill, which will be shown three days, commencing today.

Burglar Raids Three Berkeley Residences

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—With a fairly complete description of his personality in the hands of the police a burglar who is believed to have committed several recent raids upon residences in this city gained the nighttime of the patrolmen in Central Berkeley last night and broke into three cottages in quick succession. In each case the intruder worked coolly, jimmying open the front doors and ransacking the rooms thoroughly.

E. W. Brenton of 2319 Ellsworth street was the only victim of the burglar who is a loser to any considerable amount. From his home a quantity of jewelry amounting to $50 in value, may be missing, although the thief overlooked in his hurry a diamond brooch and $8 in coin.

Mrs. Harold P. M. ..., of Dwight way, reported that a few articles of value were taken from her home.

BURGLAR HURRIEDLY LEAVES.

A burglar entered the home of Anthony Francis, 1950 Fifty-third avenue, yesterday afternoon, after ringing the front door bell. Francis and his wife were at home, but had not answered the door bell. When the intruder saw them he fled. E. R. Voorhees, 257 Twenty-fourth street, reported that his store was entered and gum, candy and cigars valued at $5 stolen.

LOST IN OREGON.

BAKER, Ore., Aug. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Word of San Francisco have been lost in the mountains of Grant county since Saturday, and there is much anxiety for their safety.

Trade Commission Continues Sessions

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The third day's session of the federal trade commission, which is meeting in the Merchants Exchange building, was featured by the appearance as witnesses of the principal officers of the Associated Oil company, which has been charged with unfair methods of competition in the sale of oil. Frank Buck and Seward Simons were presented by F. A. Searls, also in behalf of the California Fruit Canners' Association, spoke on canned goods and dried fruit conditions, as did Albert H. Gaggenheimer, president of Guggenheimer & Co.

WIFE BRINGS SECOND ACTION FOR DIVORCE

For the second time within a month Mrs. Ruth Durbrow, 1217 Delmont avenue, Berkeley, has sued Rees Lewis Durbrow for a divorce. The first complaint was dismissed a short time after being filed. An identical complaint was filed today.

Mrs. Durbrow says that her husband sent her to their ranch in San Mateo county so that he would be free to pay attentions to another woman. He refused to allow her to return home after a few days, she says, it is further recited. On another occasion the plaintiff operated her automobile and went to the ranch so that he could be near the other woman, with the result that their friendliness became notorious.

The couple were married in Oakland in January, 1914, and have two children, custody of one of whom the mother asks, explaining that she desires the child only so long as she keeps it within the state. She also wants a division of their community property and $75 per month for support.

Socialists Vote New War Credits

By Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM via London, Aug. 19, 1915, 6 p. m.—The Socialist party in the parliament has voted, according to the Vaniea Varwaerts, to abandon its rule for the war credits asked by the government.

The proposed new war loan of [illegible] is one of the principal matters before the session of the Reichstag, which opens today. Subscription of the loan, if any developed, was expected to come from the Socialist members, but recent advices from Berlin have indicated that the government leaders expect little or no opposition to their proposals for carrying on the war.

CLUB PLANS EXCURSION.

Members of the La Freda Club have planned a launch excursion and picnic for August 22. They will cruise around the bay, visiting the battleship Oregon, then Winehaven and Monticello Grove, where a dance and picnic will be held. The committee in charge is Frank I. Yelton, Samuel J. Miller and William Rischel.

CAR MEN ON STRIKE.

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 19.—Motormen and conductors of the West Pennsylvania Traction Company struck today to enforce the recognition of the union. The tie-up affects towns with a population of approximately 75,000 and fully 5000 factory workers were unable to reach their work.

Corporation Taxes of State in High Record

By Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 19.—State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson has announced that the total amount of corporation franchise taxes collected up to last Monday night when the rush for this portion of the fiscal year became dormant, is $[illegible].

This is the largest sum of money in similar taxes in the history of the state.

The collections represent $[illegible] more than was due at this time because many of the smaller corporations, whose taxes are comparatively light, chose to pay for the entire year at this time, instead of six months later, when the tax will again be due.

The franchise tax is expected to bring in about $[illegible] more this year than ever before. It will be several days before final figures will be available as how many corporations are delinquent.

FACES THIRD TRIAL.

For the third time George H. Walbey, a former special police officer was placed on trial in the superior court today charged with a statutory crime in which two young tramps are the complaining witnesses. The other two trials resulted in disagreements by the juries. Attorney George McDonough is appearing for the defendant and Deputy District Attorneys W. B. Smith and O. D. Hamlin are prosecuting the case.

ARK DIRECTORS ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Visiting Delegates Met in Oakland and Taken on Tour of Inspection.

[illegible] were given a royal welcome [illegible] of the United States, Canada and [illegible] were the guests of the Board [illegible] of Park Directors, assembled on the clubground island, at an all [illegible] luncheon at Municipal Park and [illegible] inspection of the Oakland parks. [illegible] visiting delegates are attending the [illegible] annual convention of the [illegible] Association of Park Superintendents and Directors, now in session in San Francisco.

Mayor John L. Davie was invited to deliver an address of welcome to the visitors, but declined, explaining that he was unable to attend.

The party consisted of over 100 delegates, escorted from San Francisco by superintendent John McLaren of Golden Gate Park, and members of the San Francisco board of park directors. They were met by the Oakland directors at the foot of Broadway at noon, and taken to Municipal Park, where a luncheon was served under the trees on the [illegible] lawns. Short talks of welcome were delivered by Dr. Samuel H. Buck, president of the park board, and [illegible] Directors Walter D. Cole and [illegible] H. Haverman. Responses were made by G. N. Armijo of New Mexico, [illegible] president of the association, and Richard H. Cuttenil of Seattle, the secretary.

The visitors were taken in automobiles to the city parks, lakeside and lakeshore and around Lake Merritt, to the Municipal Auditorium, to the city hall, out to Trestle Glen and Sather parks, and to some of the larger playgrounds.

A short halt was made to the attitude of the Pioneer Mothers [illegible] consideration was paid to beautifully planted grounds on this side of the bay. The tour ended with an inspection of the University of California campus and the Greek theater.

The delegates praised the Oakland park system highly and spoke particularly of the wonderful advantage of having a natural body of water, such as Lake Merritt, in the center of the park system. They commended the plan to acquire the Sather and Trestle Glen properties.

DIGNITARIES OPEN EPISCOPAL SYNOD

Bishops of Eighth Province Join in Impressive Ceremonial

The Primary Synod of the Eighth Province Episcopal church opened this morning at St. Paul's in this city with fifteen Episcopal prelates and more than 400 ecclesiastical dignitaries in attendance. Hundreds of prominent church-goers from various coast points are interested observers of this religious convention.

Toward the close of the impressive opening service holy communion was rendered. This service, starting at 10:30 o'clock, was marked by a processional in which the attending bishops from each diocese and missionary district in the province, excepting that of Arizona, together with several hundred clergy and lay deputies, took part. The vested choir of St. Paul's rendered special music which added to the beautiful solemnity of the scene. At this dedicatory meeting the Rev. Alfred Lockwood of Spokane delivered the address. Three broad general topics are to be the important issues of the synod. They are "Missions," "Religious Education" and "Social Service."

The three canonical functions of the province, "Missions," "Religious Education" and "Social Service" will provide the general discussional topics of the gathering. The synod will be in conference for three days. Following the services in St. Paul's the conferences will all be held at Claremont Hotel. From 3 to 6 tea will be served at the Palm room, and at 7:30 o'clock the synod banquet will be held. Prominent men from all sections of the province will lend to the brilliancy of this banquet by after-dinner speeches.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION.

The conference on religious education will be opened at tomorrow's synodical meeting by the Rev. Stanley S. Kilbourne, director of the department of collegiate education of the General Board of Religious Education. This and [illegible] church schools and Daughters of the King.

Friday's program opens with holy communion at St. Clement's chapel, Russell and Claremont court, Berkeley. The business session starts at Claremont Hotel at 9:30 o'clock. Special work in the province, including that of the church divinity schools and the Deaconess Training School, will be discussed.

Under the same general discussional subject "Special Work in the Province" in the afternoon race work will be taken up. This will include the Chinese, Negro, Japanese and Indian. The Right Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, D. D., bishop of Oregon, will conduct a conference on "Social Service."

In the evening a meeting in the interest of Christian education will be held in St. Mark's church, Berkeley. The speakers will be Rev. Stanley S. Kilbourne, [illegible] of the department of collegiate education of the general religious educational board, and President Brannon of the University of Idaho. At Christ church, Alameda, during the same time as the meeting at St. Mark's, a meeting will be held in the interest of social service. Bishop Sumner of Oregon and Bishop Paul Jones of Utah will preside.

The conference on clergy pensions will form the main part of Saturday's program. This will be led by Right Rev. William Lawrence, D. D., bishop of Massachusetts.

MASS MEETING SUNDAY.

On Sunday a missionary mass meeting will be held at the municipal auditorium, commencing at 5 p. m. Congregations from all Episcopal churches about the bay will be in attendance. United choirs from the parishes about the bay will lead the singing.

It is announced that at Sunday services in various churches the pulpits will be occupied by special preachers attending the synod. A list follows:

AUDITORIUM

It is necessary, to fittingly produce the Mozart Ballet and the Dance of the Great Black Opal and the other various dance creations of La Loie Fuller and her company at the Oakland Civic Opera House, tonight, to provide an orchestra capable of playing grand opera or classical music. Paul Steindorf, the eminent director Oakland, consented to arrange the orchestrations and to get the music together for Miss Fuller and her director, Georges George, the latter, who for a number of years has been the director of the French government orchestra and the Paris municipal orchestra, came to this country with Miss Fuller. He has been directing, alternating with Max Bendix, the eighty-piece orchestra at the exposition.

The seats for this entertainment are now on sale at Kahn's and at the Auditorium and also through committees, and among the patronesses for Miss Fuller are: Miss Mollie Conners, Mrs. F. C. Havens, Mrs. Samuel Marks, Mrs. I. D. Requa, Mrs. Ed. H. Garthwaite, Mrs. Reme Chabot, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. John Conners, Miss Wellman, Mrs. Matilda Brown, Mrs. M. F. Childs, Mrs. F. A. Webster, Mrs. J. R. Scupham, Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Mrs. W. H. Crane, Mrs. G. B. N Gray and other prominent Oakland women.

The most spectacular attraction in several seasons will again return to Oakland this time as the opening dramatic attraction of the new Civic Auditorium Opera House for one week commencing Sunday, August 22, when Guy Bates Post will reappear in the title-role of Richard Walton Tully's sumptuous Persian romance, of "Omar, the Tentmaker."

Mr. Tully, who is a native of California, is universally recognized as one of the foremost dramatists in America, and in his latest work he has surpassed his previous successes, "The Bird of Paradise" and "The Rose of the Rancho," both of which are pleasurably recalled by all theatergoers.

Scenically, the equipment for "Omar, the Tentmaker" is so massive and elaborate that only the largest stages in America will accommodate the succession of huge settings which are a conspicuous feature of the attraction. It is doubtful if the alluring and picturesque atmosphere of the Orient has ever been so faithfully reproduced upon the stage as in "Omar, the Tentmaker." This lavish stage adornment is the achievement of Mr. Tully himself, in association with Wilfred Buckland, who for ten years served as art director for David Belasco. Mail orders are now being received for all performances, including the popular priced Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

MACDONOUGH

D. W. Griffith's spectacular motion picture production in twelve reels, The Birth of a Nation, or as it is more generally known, The Clansman, continues to be the attraction at the Macdonough theater where it is being shown twice daily, a matinee at 2:10 and the evening at 8:15.

Although the Birth of a Nation is now in its sixth week at the Macdonough, its popularity continues unabated. In The Birth of a Nation, is a love story which arrives at a degree of poignancy unapproached in any drama of the stage. The Birth of a Nation or The Clansman will give its final exhibition at the Macdonough Sunday night.

The return of "The Melting Pot," Israel Zangwill's great play dealing in its largest aspect with the musical makeup of the United States, as a moving picture adds interest to the inspection of the new silent art. And when Walker Whiteside, one of the most skilled dramatic artists in the world, is found playing the leading role of the great Jew's stage piece before the camera, the wonder grows as to when and where the possibilities of the photoplay will find a stopping place.

The Macdonough management has secured this most remarkable film attraction for one week commencing next Monday. Matinees will be given daily in conjunction with a continuous evening performance.

BROADWAY

The introduction of a little colored baby into the Roy Clair Players in this week's production of "The Prince of Milwaukee" proved one of the greatest surprises as well as one of the biggest hits of the season. The little tike is used in Babe Barker's musical number "Oh What a Beautiful Baby" in which the little comedienne is scoring a tremendous hit at every performance given at the Broadway theater.

The musical numbers are easily the feature of the week's show. Even they contain a surprise, for Bobbie Tremaine, erstwhile chorus girl, appears in a solo.

Frank Harrington renders three numbers in his inimitable manner "Heidelburg," "The Stein Song" and "La Boheme," all of these numbers are being well received by the patrons of the local playhouse. George Archer received a letter requesting that he sing "My Bird of Paradise" and that obliging young man is singing it, and applause is not lacking on the part of the audience to show appreciation of the work.

ORPHEUM

Quite true to promise, the new show at the Oakland Orpheum this week proves to be a fun fesuval of the finest kind. There is no doubt that people love to laugh, and they are laughing this week at the Orpheum as they never laughed before. It is all fun from start to finish.

William Morris has the crowds in a perfect storm of gaiety with his sketch, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," that is probably as funny a thirty-minute play as can be found on the boards. Then "Seven Days" is a very "Niagara of fun" as the bill boards put it so that altogether the blues get the worst of it in easy fashion.

In "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" which William Morris produces as the star feature of the program there is enough fun to fit out an entire three act play. Mr. Morris played in the original production of this great comedy in New York and Chicago and London. That probably is why it is such a gem of comedy on the Orpheum stage.

An immense hit is scored by the Three Steindahl Brothers in a musical recital of extremely high class.

FRANKLIN

The latest Essanay-Chaplin comedy, "The Bank," heads the new bill which opens a three days' run at the Franklin theater today. "The Bank" is one of the strongest comedies produced by that famous fun-maker, Charlie Chaplin. It is a two-reel production and is packed with fun in every foot. It is filled with Chaplin's characteristic antics that have placed him in the front rank of all comedians. There is also a wealth of real humor throughout the two reels and its comic situations provoke the risibilities of all.

Hobart Bosworth will also appear on the bill in a powerful dramatic feature entitled, "The Scarlet Sin." This film is reported to be the kind of production that scores instantaneous success. It contains a tremendous appeal as a result of its excellent story, which shows a minister fighting against monstrous odds, both in his family and amongst his diocese, a hard and crude collection of miners.

Commencing Sunday, Theda Bara will be seen in an adaptation of the famous novel and play, "Lady Audley's Secret."

OAKLAND PHOTO

As the wife of the poor artist who poses in the nude for his successful rival in order to aid her husband financially, Miss Frederick is completely overwhelming in the intensity and strength of her portrayal. This stirring photoplay will make an indelible impression upon all the minds of those who witness it.

With all of the feminine emotions, with which the characterization teems, and of which Miss Frederick is so completely mistress, are presented on the screen with such force and realism as can come only from histrionic perfection and well balanced situations and incidents. Carefully produced, "Sold" will never be forgotten, both for the intrinsic charm of the subject and the unsurpassable emotional ability of Miss Frederick.

On the same program William Faversham will be seen in Sir Gilbert Parker's best known creation, "The Right of Way."

PANTAGES

Pantages patrons are being offered one of the best balanced and most interesting bills in several months, this week. One of vaudeville's prettiest acts, that of Bothwell Browne, and the fantastic production of the Hanlon Brothers forming the headline attractions.

"The Green Venus" in which Browne and a company of four principals and a chorus of eight girls appear offers a charming combination of comedy, pretty girls, tuneful music and gorgeous costumes and settings.

The Hanlon Brothers, whose well known Fantasma and Superba productions have been familiar to theatergoers for a score of years, offer a revue of the pantomimic and spectacular work that made them famous.

THERE'S LITTLE EXCUSE FOR TIRED FEET.

People who go around with tired and aching feet as a rule do not realize that there are many things besides shoes that are made for foot comfort.

For example, we sell Arch Supporters, which are quite generally used by very many people, foot soaps made especially to ease tired feet, Tiz, Foot Ease, corn and bunion plasters, etc.

The most popular article sold here for aching feet is called "Foot Comfort." It is a powdered substance which you sprinkle into each shoe. It generally gives immediate relief, especially to the sort of tired feet one gets from tramping upon hot, hard pavements. Since the exposition opened we have sold great quantities of "Foot Comfort." Price 15c a can or two for 25c.

AUTHOR SPEAKS UPON THEATERS

Mary Austin Urges a Public Show House to Remedy Evils.

Caustic comment on theatrical conditions as they exist today, expressed by Mrs. Mary Austin, the noted author, marked an address she made this morning at the summons of the leaders of three conferences in the exhibition amphitheater at Piedmont Park.

Mrs. Austin's address was on the "Responsibility of the Community for Drama and Festival," a subject which she has been investigating in New York. Mayor Mitchel Mitchel among all the many owners and managers.

Condemning the privately owned theatrical enterprise as "perverted" and as responsible for useless "moral waste," she urged in its place the community drama as a panacea for the social unrest, moral waste, the double profit and expense of much policing.

"At the base of much of the unrest of labor, of the riots and violent rebellions of men lies the desire for dramatic expression," she said. "In giving the drama into the hands of the private producer we have left the people without expression for two of their greatest and most valuable impulses—the play impulse and the religious impulse.

GIVES REACTION.

[illegible] drama Mrs. Austin contrasted with the "movie fan" and the individual who goes to the play to laugh.

"The drama should give people an actual physical reaction. Therein lies the success of the farce in which the audience shakes by its laughter. No one cares to see a group of people torn to tatters by emotions not common to most of them.

"People are ashamed to cry together. They're not ashamed to laugh. We've got to get back to doing these things together. That's the appeal of war—it permits people to do openly on the battlefield and in crowds things they are ordinarily ashamed to do."

SAM HUME SPEAKS.

Three other speakers addressed the sessions of the League of Cities. The first, Sam Hume, read a message from Percy MacKaye, poet-founder of the league, in which he advocated the substitution of the "dramatic conflict of pageants" for the dramatic conflict and splendor of war.

Fred Ahern of San Francisco, chairman of the morning, advised a "militant" social service. The third speaker, Alfred G. Arvold of North Dakota, told of the little country theaters established by his efforts in his own state.

Miss Ethel Moore, president of the Oakland board of playground directors, presided as active chairman of the committee of the League of Cities. Mayor James Rolph Jr. of San Francisco is the honorary chairman and Porter Garnett of Berkeley is the secretary. Twelve other prominent people from the bay cities complete the committee: William J. Locke, William Dallam Armes, Miss Marion Delany, Sam Hume, Mrs. Fred C. Turner, Frank P. Deering, Frederick Whitton, Jesse W. Lilienthal, Guy L. Bayley, Harry E. Bassett, Edgar A. Forbes.

In addition to this committee there is a special one appointed for this conference, and including:

VILLA REPLY IS SENT TO AMERICAS

Mexico City Isolated; Telegraph and Rail Communication Cut Off.

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, [illegible] Dispatch to El Paso, Aug. 19.—[illegible]ly cut off from the rest of the [illegible], with shops closed and many of its inhabitants starving, Mexico City is experiencing some of the bitterest results of a long revolutionary rule.

The capital is without real authority at the present time.

When the Constitutionalists made their hurried exit Saturday after throwing the city into turmoil by declaring all of the money then in circulation void, it was believed that the Ayuntamiento, or city council, would take matters in charge.

The following day, however, General Rafael Castillo, at the head of 300 barefooted and ragged Indians, appeared at the national palace and informed the president of the ayuntamiento that he had been detained to take over the city. The new rulers of the capital entered the national palace and took charge of affairs.

VILLA SENDS REPLY.

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 19.—Following is the official text of General Villa's reply to the Pan-American appeal for peace, which reached here last night from Chihuahua:

"I, as general in chief of the Conventionist army, have been informed with satisfaction, of the friendly note which your excellencies have addressed to me and which I received on the night of August 15.

"In replying, I have the honor to inform you that the convention government is strong enough through its own force and power to continue the fight, defending the institutions belonging to the Mexican people, until such a time as the high ideals of the revolution which guarantee a solid and stable peace are realized; but taking into consideration the friendly and brotherly attitude of the United States of America and our sisters, the Latin-American republics of Brazil, Chile, Argentine, Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala and with the end that peace in Mexico must be an immediate fact and constitutional order duly established, we are ready to accept and cordially we do accept the good offices of your excellencies toward calling a reunion of delegates of the contending parties recognized in Mexico. It will be possible for them to reach a satisfactory agreement, thus saving the national honor, well understanding that the conventionist government is willing to make all kinds of efforts to correspond to the good will expressed by your excellencies.

"I want to state clearly that all military chiefs, as well as the civilians attached to the conventionist army, are willing to establish in Mexico a provisional government that will guarantee the elections to which people will be convocated to elect with liberty its officers, as we have no further desire except that the nomination will be in favor of a determined man. I have the honor to reiterate to your excellencies the sincerity of my highest esteem.

"(Signed) FRANCISCO VILLA,
"General in Chief of Operations."

COUNCIL HITS LEGAL SNAG IN ASSESSMENTS

Attorneys Oppose Attempt to Raise Down Town Values; Report Shows Tangle

The work of raising assessments on [illegible] pieces of downtown property from the valuations placed upon them by the city assessor to that placed by the county was commenced by the new administration today, sitting as a board of equalization. The project was dogged by two obstacles. One [illegible] was that a battery of attorneys attacked the jurisdiction of the board to make any changes at this time, almost thirty days after the time fixed by the charter statutes for equalization of assessments.

The other snag was a more serious one, in the opinion of many authorities. The commissioners have practically committed themselves, on the advice of Revenue Expert C. Stuart MacMullen, who has been working under the orders of Mayor John L. Davie, to accept the valuations fixed by the county assessor in making the intended increases. It is pointed out that if the county assessor's figures are accepted for increases, it would also be proper to accept them for decreases, where they are less than those of the city assessor. A large number of property owners are preparing to apply for decreases in their assessments on this basis.

CITY WOULD LOSE.

If an issue is forced along these lines the city will lose instead of gaining by accepting the county assessor's figures, as City Assessor Clay has assessed all property within the limits of the City of Oakland at a sum over $4,000,000 higher than the assessment made by County Assessor Horner.

The problems involved delayed action this morning and action on specific assessments was deferred to an afternoon session. Attorney Carl Abbott of the firm of Fitzgerald, Abbott & Beardsley, led off in attacking the jurisdiction of the council, appearing in behalf of twenty-eight property owners whose assessments are sought to be raised. This firm represents the Downtown Property Owners' Association, of which these twenty-eight owners are members.

The commissioners were under the impression that by following the county assessor's figures on downtown property they would be safe, and would heavily increase the assessment rolls. This opinion was based on a report presented by Revenue Expert MacMullen, showing that the county's figures on "certain parcels of land" were over $2,000,000 higher than those of the city assessor.

ASSESSOR PROTESTS.

MacMullen's figures were subjected to biting criticism from City Assessor I. H. Clay today. Clay filed a formal report with the City Council today comparing the figures on the assessment rolls with those presented by MacMullen. He showed that MacMullen had picked and chosen among the properties which he submitted to the council, ignoring improvement assessments and basing his entire report on land values. Clay's analysis showed tha ton the blocks selected by MacMullen, which represent a total assessed valuation of $33,867,475, the county is high on real estate, while the city is high on personal property. The actual difference between the two, instead of being well over $2,524,255 in favor of the county, is only $132,275.

Clay's report to the council contained a criticism of MacMullen's report and the administration for attempting action "at the popular eleventh hour," referring to Mayor Davie's oft-repeated epithet for the members of boards appointed by former Mayor Mott. The report is in part as follows:

REPORT FILED.

"A communication from C. S. MacMullen, revenue expert, was filed with your honorable body on August 11, 1915, relative to the difference in assessment between the county and city assessors of certain parcels of land in the business district of this city.

"In that report the words 'certain parcels' of land were used; the expert in question picking out certain parcels and not giving you the complete assessment of the land in the blocks referred to. Now, by a peculiar insistence of the state law, assessors are compelled to assess not only land, but also improvements and personal property, and I think that in justice to myself, the public at large and your honorable body I should advise you of the total assessment of the real estate and the improvements made by myself and the county assessor in the following blocks, being the same blocks used by Mr. MacMullen in his report:

Blocks 6 to 197	$15,825,425
Blocks 206 to 251	3,926,700
Blocks 619 to 644	8,116,400
Total	$27,868,525
City real estate:
Blocks 6 to 197	$14,969,050
Blocks 206 to 251	3,681,300
Blocks 619 to 644	7,436,500
Total	$25,086,850
County high on real estate	$1,781,675
County improvements:
Blocks 6 to 197	$3,300,800
Blocks 206 to 251	924,000
Blocks 619 to 644	1,774,150
Total	$5,998,950
City improvements:
Blocks 6 to 197	$4,082,700
Blocks 206 to 251	1,133,300
Blocks 619 to 644	2,322,800
Total	$7,558,800
City high on improvements	$1,559,850
County high on real estate	$1,781,675
Less city high on improvements	1,559,850
County high (total)	$ 221,825
Less county assessment on postoffice site	$ 89,550
County higher than city	$ 132,275

On an assessment of $33,867,475.

"You will notice from the above figures that instead of a difference of $2,524,255, as Mr. MacMullen's "certain parcel" report shows, the full assessment on the entire real estate in the before mentioned blocks shows a difference of $1,781,675, or $742,580, less than the "certain parcel" report.

"On the improvement assessment in the district the city assessment is $1,559,850, higher than the county assessment.

COUNTY VALUES HIGHER.

"On the total assessment of real estate and improvements in the district the county assessment is $221,825 higher than the city, less $87,550, county assessment on postoffice site which the county has been notified by the Government to take off their role, leaving a difference in favor of the county of but $132,275, on a total assessment of $33,867,475.

"As Mr. MacMullen's report was not filed until well along toward the popular "eleventh hour," it would be a physical impossibility to get a comparison of all the personal property assessments in the district, so I have only taken into consideration the assessment on 24 large business houses, with the result that the city assessment shows a valuation of $254,275 more than the county assessment and I am satisfied that had I more time to investigate the difference would be much larger.

"With the county $132,275 higher on real estate and improvements, and the city $254,275 higher on personal property, the net difference of $122,000 shows how much the city assessment is over the county assessment on the total assessment of real estate and improvement in the district and the personal property of the 24 merchants.

"In conclusion, I wish to call your attention to the fact that, after the reductions made by your honorable body which now amount to $323,500, the total of the roll remaining gives you over $1,000,000 more property to tax than the city roll of last year, and over $1,000,000 more than the county assessment of the city of Oakland for this year."

OWNERS THREATEN.

The property owners represented by Fitzgerald, Abbott & Beardsley, who interposed objections to any action being taken by the city assessors on the ground that the proposed [illegible] and contemplated lawsuits if advances should be taken, were as follows:

Ella May Hancock, Frank Powers, T. W. Culver, W. G. Wirfer, A. P. Holmes, W. H. Mathewson, trustee, [illegible] W. Barker, estate Annie Lassen, estate Ella estate, Henry Aronamann, Beatrice Marks, F. H. Fuller, A. N. Wilson, John W. Hancock, John Nicol, F. A. Walker, Edson F. Adams, Louise Campbell, Arthur Brown, Charles Jurgens, Levy estate, Crellin estate, Security Bank and Trust Co., Samuel Livingston, Alexander Friedman and Tessie Appleton.

OTHER ATTORNEYS.

That similar action will be taken by others was indicated by the presence of attorneys representing the firms of Shoob & Church, Reed, Black & Reed, Johnson & Shaw and a number of others.

Renewed attempt to force an issue on the budget was made today by Commissioner W. J. Baccus, who made a fight to have Mayor Davie declare himself as favoring the $1.96 rate, or of explaining how the rate may be lowered, and giving a plan for changes in the budget agreed upon by the other commissioners.

"The ordinance adopting the budget must be passed to print by one week from Monday," said Baccus. "If there are to be changes made they should be made now. We all agreed, did we not, upon the budget as presented here in council last week?"

AGREEMENT DENIED.

Mayor Davie denied that he had agreed, but each of the other commissioners admitted that at the executive session in the mayor's office, the budget was outlined there and later made public, had been virtually agreed upon by all present.

Baccus also renewed his fight to have the actual departmental estimates, and the cuts made by Commissioner of revenue and finance, sent to the improvement clubs, that they may know what is intended. Mayor Davie objected to that matter being further discussed, and no action was taken.

The budget matter came up in connection with a demand by residents in the annexed district south of Melrose for better fire protection. J. A. Janssen appeared before the council and asked that a $5000 appropriation be included for a motor driven apparatus.

"There are nine schools which depend on an old horse drawn outfit for fire protection," said Janssen. "In some cases they have to go miles before reaching the fire. The horses are so exhausted they cannot travel faster than a walk for the last half of the run."

Commissioner Jackson declared that he will not vote for a budget that does not include provision for this essential apparatus.

BIDS RECEIVED.

Only three bids were received for flooring and paving along the estuary quay wall. They were referred to Commissioner Anderson and the legal department. The following firms tendered bids: California Bithulithic Company, T. R. Ritchie, Federal Construction Company.

The following bids were received for electroliers in Telegraph avenue: H. C. Reed, $26.85 each; Robert F. Norling, $58.50; F. L. Carson, $56.40; American Portland Stove and Granite Company, $50.

LA LOIE TO OPEN NEW OPERA HOUSE

[illegible]o event of greater importance in the history of amusement in Oakland has taken place than that of the formal opening and dedication of the new Civic Opera House, which is a part of the new auditorium and perhaps it will be its best used utility. Tonight, to the soft strains of a symphony orchestra, thousands of beautiful lights, beautiful stage settings and draperies, the people of Oakland will be permitted to inspect the new Grand Opera House and to Loie Fuller has been delegated the honor of providing the formal opening program, this being also true of the opening and dedication of the arena and the auditorium proper, some three months ago.

The program to be furnished is one of excellent merit and has been fully described before, but in addition to the dances provided, a short dedicatory program consisting of address of welcome to the people by Mayor John L. Davie, and the turning over of the theatre by the contractors to H. S. Anderson, and a short talk on the various features and future bookings in the new opera house, by Louis W. Buckley, manager of the auditorium. There will also be a special reception which will take place during the intermission between the regular program, at which time the citizens of Oakland will have the opportunity to thoroughly enjoy the big lobbies and rest rooms of the new theater.

Britain Takes Over Munition Factories

LONDON, Aug. 19, 1:03 p. m.—David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, announced today that his department had taken over 190 more establishments for the production of war munitions. The total number of these plants now under the control of the ministry is 535.

To Put on Flesh And Increase Weight

GOOD ADVICE FOR THIN PEOPLE.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to gain a few pounds and stay that way," declare many thin men and women. Such a result is usually not impossible despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood much of the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To corect this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat the flesh making food elements must be so prepared in the digestive processes that the blood will accept and distribute them throughout the body. There is a preparation called Sargol, which works on this basis and which is sold by nearly every druggist on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back. Hundreds have testified to weight increase from its use.

Sargol does not of itself make fat but is simply a combination of ingredients of acknowledged merit that, taken with meals seems to better enable the digestive organs to separate the fattening elements of the food and to prepare them in a form which the blood can readily absorb. Sargol comes in tablet form, is pleasant and easy to take and its action is perfectly natural and harmless. Sargol is sold by Osgood Bros.' drug stores and druggists everywhere, who are authorized to refund the full purchase price if weight increase is not obtained.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while it has produced excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders care should be taken by those using it who do not want to increase weight.—Advertisement.

PLAIN TALK FROM CAPT. ROBERT DOLLAR.

In his testimony before the Federal Trade Commission at San Francisco yesterday, Captain Robert Dollar put in few and plain words considerations of large import as related to American trade and commerce. "Big business"—that is, business organized widely and upon the basis of large capital—is essential, in Captain Dollar's opinion, to modern commerce. If the United States is to do business in a large way in foreign countries, there must be resident American agents in those countries. Such agents may not be sustained by "little business." It takes big business to sustain that sort of representation.

Both very simple and very instructive was Captain Dollar's exposition of considerations involved in transporting our merchandise to foreign countries in our own ships. Answering the familiar argument that the nationality of the transporting agent is a matter of no consequence if the freight rate be right, he remarked that every ship is a direct contributor by the purchase of supplies, employment of men, etc., to the fortunes of its home port or home country. Whenever the interests of the home port or home country come into competition with those of a foreign country, they naturally have preference. More especially is this the fact with respect to subsidized shipping. Japanese ships, heavily aided by the government, are powerful agents of Japanese national interests, chief among them the interest of commerce.

Captain Dollar's criticism of our governmental policy in its attitude towards business, great and small, was impressive alike for its intelligence and its sincerity. Our government, he said, has been persecuting business largely from motives of politics, partly through ignorance of the conditions under which business must be transacted. In destroying or hampering big business, the government has been doing incalculable damage to little business. In the modern organization of trade and commerce big business and little business must rise or fall together. Neither can prosper—nor can the country prosper—when the energies of government are systematically addressed to schemes of restriction and limitation. Capital will not venture where it is subject to the control of a meddling and little competent officialism; enterprise retires when it meets distrust and discredit at the hands of government. While our government has been cramping and crippling business, other countries have been promoting it. While we have been making laws restrictive of operations upon the seas, other countries have been aiding their ship owners. We have the natural and inevitable consequence in current events. Very impressively Captain Dollar remarked that he had found it necessary, under the restrictions imposed by his country, to transfer his own ships to a foreign flag.

AN APPEAL FOR ACTION.

In another column we print a notable appeal for prompt action in the matter of the projected County Hospital. The necessity for such a hospital, apart from the County Poor Farm, is conceded. It has been officially indorsed and ordered. Yet there is delay. Despite the determination of the supervisors to go ahead with the work not even a site has yet been selected. There is no suggestion of taking the matter up with determination and energy.

The appeal for action in this really important matter is happily not associated with any real estate project. Those who have urged the creation of a general hospital within what may be called the hospital zone of Oakland have not recommended any site. They will be content with any selection under which essential requirements may be attained. What they want is action along lines already accepted and approved. Their fear is that through delay and neglect the project may be held indefinitely in abeyance.

All the arguments urged for separation of the County Hospital from the Poor Farm, with the establishment of the former within the Oakland hospital zone apply with equal force in this demand for prompt action. If we may believe only half of what is said with respect to the insufficiencies, inconveniences and inefficiencies of the hospital under present conditions, it is high time for a change both in the names of humanity and decency. The change has been officially ordered and there would seem no reason why the work should not be prosecuted with energy. There will be no more favorable time than now for acquiring a site, and the conditions of the labor market give assurance that the work once begun will not suffer delay for lack of hands.

THE TEXAS STORMS.

The hurricane which blew out of the West Indies has not been partial to Galveston, but has visited several other cities in Texas all along the gulf coast. The aggregate of storm losses will be heavy, but are somewhat widely distributed. The latest telegraphic dispatches lead us to hope the loss of life in Galveston will be below two hundred persons, while about as many more have been lost in Houston, Temple City and other towns. The property loss is tentatively estimated at from $15,000,000 to $35,000,000. It may be found considerably below the first figure.

The present storm is not comparable in destructiveness to the hurricane, followed by tidal waves, of September 8, 1900. In this earlier disaster 6000 lives were lost and property to the value of over $17,000,000 was destroyed in Galveston alone. At that time $1,243,000 was collected and distributed for the aid of the homeless citizens of Galveston. No call for outside aid has yet been made by the people of Galveston and it seems they will be able to meet their losses without assistance.

The present catastrophe will doubtless spur Galveston and other Texas coast cities on to more adequate preparation against these storms. In September, 1875, Galveston was struck by a disastrous hurricane and shortly afterward the State Legislature passed an act enabling the cities along the coast to issue and sell bonds to raise funds for protection against storms blowing in from the sea. Nothing was done. In September, 1886, the city was again storm-swept and there was great loss of life, but even then the work of constructing defenses did not progress further than public discussion.

The holocaust of 1900, however, was a sufficient warning. Bonds were issued in 1901, and in the following year work was inaugurated on a granite seawall and break-water 17,593 feet long, constructed on a foundation of piling forty-six feet under water. The work was completed three years later.

The present storms prove that this seawall is of great protective value, but yet not quite good enough. It should, and doubtless will, be a warning to the people of Galveston to strengthen their defensive works. There is no physical conditions along the coast that render it impossible to protect the seaport cities from the depredations of tidal storms. It will require probably a great sum of money to bring the protective works to perfection, but it can be done.

In the meantime the business and commercial map of Texas will not be changed. The people of the cities merely will take new courage and realize that they must be ever watchful.

REPAIRING A BLUNDER.

A Washington dispatch announces the appointment of Mr. William W. Russell to be minister to Santo Domingo. It appears that President Wilson has at last shown a disposition to remedy, even at a late date, one of the mistakes committed in the first days of his administration. Mr. Russell was formerly Minister to Santo Domingo and was dismissed to make room for James L. Sullivan of New York. Sullivan was totally unfit to fill any diplomatic post and his appointment was one of the worst examples of the practice of the administration in turning out experienced men to make room for political workers. After becoming badly involved in "commercial" affairs in Santo Domingo Sullivan was recalled on leave and Senator Phelan of California commissioned by the President to investigate his official conduct. With a delicate graciousness Senator Phelan classed Sullivan with the "temperamentally unfit."

Now Mr. Russell is to be sent back to his old post to straighten out affairs badly tangled by the Sullivan temperament. He is perhaps the best man in the country to represent the United States in Santo Domingo. He is an experienced diplomat. He entered the service in 1895, twenty years ago, as secretary of legation at Caracas, and later became Minister to Colombia, Venezuela and Santo Domingo respectively. He occupied the latter post from June, 1910, until his removal in 1913. He has the confidence of all Latin-Americans and will be able to render further valuable service in promoting our friendly social and commercial relations with the southern republics.

The Tribune told its readers three weeks ago that Mr. Russell should be reappointed. It was a stupid blunder to remove him to make way for a man of the Sullivan type. It is commendable good judgment on the part of the President to do the best thing possible to repair his mistake.

Dr. H. D. Sheldon of the University of Oregon made a strong appeal yesterday before the Educational Association for civil service in connection with the public school. "There is," said Dr. Sheldon, "too much politics in the school departments of this country." A truer word was never spoken. Oakland knows how it is herself.

SITUATION IN THE BALKANS

How both sides in the European war are trying to dissolve the cross-purposes which keep the smaller nations neutral.

Nearly the entire civilized world is watching the course of diplomacy and international politics as they are calculated to embroil all or a part of the Balkan States in the European war. The states usually classed as Balkans are Rumania, Servia, Bulgaria, Greece and Montenegro, with a population of about 21,000,000. Deducting the 4,600,000 of Servia and Montenegro, there are about 16,500,000 of the population still neutral. Of these 7,500,000 are Rumanians, 4,200,000 Greeks and 4,700,000 Bulgarians. Decisive action was expected on August 14, when the Greek Chamber of Deputies met. Several days have passed without any additions to the present ranks of belligerent nations.

Thrace, Macedonia, Albania and Bessarabia are said to be among the prizes offered by both the Teutonic and the entente allies for the active support of the now neutral Balkan nations. By the treaty of Bucharest at the close of the second Balkan war that portion of Macedonia which had been obtained by Bulgaria at the close of the first Balkan war was taken from her and divided between Greece and Serbia. Bulgaria also lost a strip of land from the Black Sea to the Danube and was compelled to cede back to Turkey not only Adrianople, but the battlefields of Kirk-Kilisse, Lule Burgas and Tchorlu. England and her allies stripped Bulgaria's victories of everything but glory. On the other hand, Rumania has so little to hope for from Austro-German success and the allies have so much to offer that there is little doubt in which direction she will throw her strength if forced out of her neutral position. Greece seems at present to be the point upon which the cross-purposes of the Balkans converge. She has a chance to bargain over Salonika and Kavala and other territories.

The Mir, a newspaper of Sofia, Bulgaria, on July 13th last, printed an editorial article that is still so applicable to the present general situation that we give it in full:

"There is to-day no indication that an understanding can be reached between Bulgaria and the entente powers. Had these negotiations been begun earlier in the war they would have progressed more rapidly. It is also true that if there existed greater confidence between the two parties an understanding would not have been delayed. Nevertheless the principal reason for delay is to be found elsewhere.

"The triple entente calls for the help of neutral nations in the name of justice and of liberty, as well as in the name of the unity of the peoples concerned in a durable peace. With this end in view the entente powers are laboring hard to appease the reciprocal hatreds among the Balkan states and to substitute amicable relations toward the hostile feelings at present existing between the Bulgarians, the Serbians, the Greeks and the Rumanians. The entente powers in the pour parlers with these states persist in this idea.

"This being so, the mission of the entente powers is complicated, not to say impossible. The difficulty arises from intransigeant attitude of the Balkan states toward each other. Bulgaria cannot embark in another war without the guarantee that the treaty of Bucharest shall be torn up. But there is every indication that neither Serbia, Greece, nor Rumania is inclined to grant the concessions necessary to correct the injustice done to Bulgaria at Bucharest in 1913.

"It should be recognized that the Rumanians are more disposed than the others toward an understanding. It may well be that they are not sincere, but that is another question. In any event, up to the present time they have in no wise protested against ultimate concessions to Bulgaria as have the Greeks and the Serbians. These countries declared Bulgaria is without importance in the war; that the entente powers do us much honor in asking our support; and that none of the territory claimed by Bulgaria should be restored to her.

"The Greeks and the Serbians are opposed to the principles set forth by the entente powers and they desire to profit from the present situation. The Greeks have demanded that the allies land 300,000 troops either at Salonica or at Kavala to march, jointly with the Greek army, across Bulgaria's recently-acquired territory and, after conquering these districts, to continue on to Constantinople."

AN APPEAL.

Physicians and citizens ask for prompt action in the creation of a County General Hospital.

Oakland, August 11, 1915.

To the Editor: At a regular meeting of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors Monday, July 12, a resolution was passed pledging the board to separate the County Hospital from the County Infirmary or Poor Farm and to purchase a suitable site for the hospital near the center of population of the county.

This resolution marks the beginning of a change in the policy of conducting these two institutions which have too long been associated under one management. It is the result of a thorough discussion covering a period of several years in which philanthropic people and social workers, the physicians, and those interested generally in humanity and economic problems have demanded that the County Hospital be forever removed from the stigma of the Poor House; that those unfortunate in sickness and unable to pay private hospital and private doctor [illegible] be pauperized on the marks of paupers, but cared for in a humane and intelligent way and returned with unimpaired efficiency and self-respect to society.

There is no difference of opinion among those who have made any study of the question. Alameda county is far behind all the other large counties in the United States in the march of progress in maintaining its present antiquated system. To serve the sick poor rather than to pauperize them is real economy. This cannot be done with the hospital twelve miles from Oakland and seventeen miles from Berkeley. Physicians are called upon to render their services at this institution without pay. While they make regular weekly or bi-weekly calls it is preposterous to suppose that their patients can receive efficient medical care under all emergencies when such a journey is necessary requiring the doctor's time and incidental expense with no hope of pecuniary reward.

The way is now paved to break up this system; the Supervisors have voted to buy a close-in site for the hospital. A score or more of sites have been offered and specifications filed with the Board; many of these sites are excellent, some already have buildings which might be used for temporary quarters far more ample than the buildings where the inmates are now housed, many of these sites can be purchased at very low figures and on easy terms. Why should such purchase be further delayed? The campaign has been a long one. Why wear out with repeated postponement public spirited citizens whose only pay is the sense of rendering service to their community?

The budget for the coming year is now being made up. It must be completed early in September. The call for bids should be closed, the most suitable site available selected, and the levy made before the budget is closed. We appeal to you to use your every endeavor, as you have done in the past, to make this hospital a reality, the Alameda County General Hospital.

A WORD OF APPROVAL.

Oakland, August 18, 1915.

To the Editor: I desire to publicly commend your editorial of last evening: "The Crime of Georgia." It is to be hoped that every newspaper throughout the land will as faithfully and as fearlessly point out the guilt of Georgia's State officials in their relation to this horrible affair that cost the life of Leo M. Frank, for it is at least the guilt of contributory negligence. Why should the prison at Milledgville be so easy of access to a mere handful of men? Why should Georgia's state officials have neglected to safeguard the life of this man when threats of mob violence were fairly vibrating the walls of the prison where he was confined—the helpless object of its fury, scarcely recovered from the effects of a murderous attack by a fellow-prisoner? Georgia is asked to answer these questions. Surely, there is a host of citizens of that state who deprecate this condition and who deplore this vile act.

The time is ripe for the state press and those in official capacity to absolve the law-abiding citizens of the State of Georgia of this guilt and fasten it where it belongs, upon the lawless element that incited and perpetrated this awful deed, by hunting out and punishing, as far as possible, those who were implicated in it. Is this foul deed condemned or condoned by the majority of Georgia's citizens? It is a fair question. In the interests of humanity.

CONCERNING THE "MOOSE" AWARDS

Oakland, Cal., August 17, 1915.

To the Editor: There appeared August 15 in your department headed "The Forum," a communication signed by C. F. Harding, secretary of the Moose Defenders of San Jose Lodge No. 491, L. O. O. M.

While it is not customary for me to answer the ordinary aspersions cast occasionally upon our organization, I believe that this communication coming from inside the order, requires an answer.

It is evident that the writer of the article is laboring under a misapprehension and I intend to set him right. He has been absolutely misinformed as to the correct lineup of prizes. This is:

Oakland Moose Band was awarded first prize for bands, on the unanimous decision of the judges.

Oakland Moose Drum Corps was awarded first prize for drum corps on the unanimous decision of the judges.

Mr. Harding failed to make any mention at all of these contests.

Oakland Moose Drill team was awarded first prize for drill teams, by unanimous decision of the judges.

Mr. Harding failed to make any mention at all of these contests.

Oakland Moose Drill team was awarded first prize for drill teams, by unanimous findings of the judges, who were United States army officers.

For the best exemplification of the ritual, a cash prize of $500.00 was offered, Oakland Lodge was awarded the first prize of $350.00 and San Francisco Lodge the second prize of $150.00.

We are mailing Mr. Harding a photograph of the check we received for $350.00, which should be sufficient evidence that we really won this honor. The cups and prizes won by Oakland Lodge were presented to this organization by Past Supreme Dictator, W. E. Dorn, chief supreme officer of the order on the Pacific Coast. The cups are engrossed with words showing that they are awarded to Oakland Lodge and we will be pleased to show them to the brother from San Jose and his friends at any time.

The uniform bodies of Oakland Lodge of Moose have a deserved reputation not only in the West but over the entire country; they have led for years in every competition in which they have taken part. It has never been necessary to make false statements in order to boost these bodies and we never intend to resort to this method.

W. J. HAMILTON.
Secreary Oakland Lodge No. 324, Loyal Order of Moose.

NOTABLE PERSONS.

Information reached Washington yesterday that Captain R. E. Owen, British royal engineers, son-in-law of William Jennings Bryan, had been "mentioned in orders" by Sir Ian Hamilton, British commander at the Dardanelles, for distinguished gallantry in action.

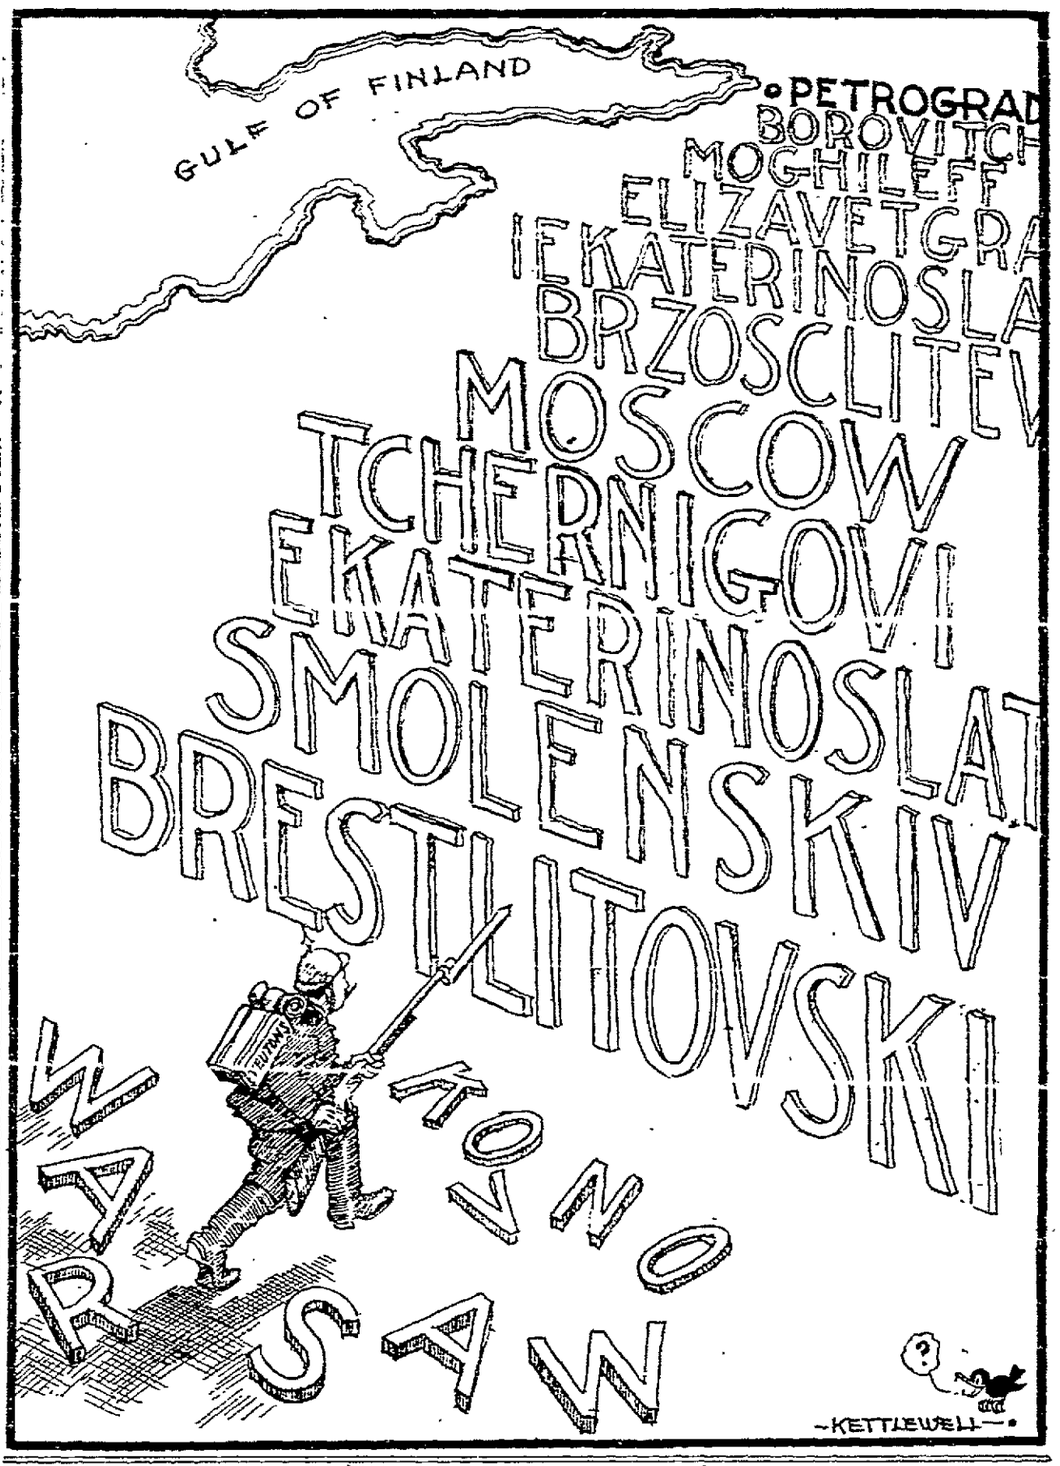
Don Enrique Creel, former Mexican Ambassador to the United States, was sued yesterday by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York for $4500. Creel borrowed the money on bills of exchange. Creel's vast estates in Mexico have been confiscated by Villa.

A member of the papal entourage sent a message to Emperor Franz Josef yesterday on the occasion of his 85th birthday. The message naturally is confidential, but the news leaked out that the pope urged the emperor to strive to hasten the end of the war.

Charles G. Keyes, former county clerk of Los Angeles, and a California pioneer, died yesterday. He was born in 1845 at Brattleboro, Vt., and came to Tuolumne county, Cal., with his parents in 1852. He was sent back to his native state to finish his education and returned in 1864.

The position of the administration, as outlined in the note to Austria-Hungary, refusing to put an embargo on the exportation of munitions of war, was endorsed as "absolutely and unquestionably right" by United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, senior member of the Foreign Relations Committee, in an address at a Republican outing.

IT'S A LONG, LONG WAY TO PETROGRAD!



THE STATE PRESS

What a Difference.

The question is asked as to what has become of the family that used to settle down in quiet and peace to rest at a summer cottage for two entire months. Well, yesterday they covered about 200 miles in their automobile tour, and will probably be willing to rest at the hotel for about fifteen minutes after breakfast.—Santa Rosa Republican.

It Is un-Fair.

Every man who possibly can give his folks a day or so at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition should do so, but the business man has cause to complain when he finds his tardy debtors giving their families weeks at the big show and joining them at week-ends, while he struggles along at home trying to meet the demands of the wholesalers.—Redding Searchlight.

Caressing Occasion.

Hazing by upper classmen, which has been the custom at the Richmond Union High School for the past several years, climaxed on Wednesday morning when fifteen raw freshmen, newly graduated from their grammar grades, were forced to discard their shoes and stockings and run between two rows of sophomores, who beat them with paddles.—Richmond Record-Herald.

That Prunish Feeling.

Prune growers seem to feel that there will be no money lost by waiting until their prunes are dry before selling. The feeling seems to be that the price will not go down and may go a lot higher.—Pleasanton Times.

Scrubbing With Education.

Realizing that Pasadena is an intellectual center, Uncle Sam has decided that the new Federal building here must have an educational janitor. Therefore, the non-educational examination for janitor set for August 16 has been cancelled and an educational examination will be held on August 28. This is for men only.—Pasadena Star.

Playing Low on Hay.

Scenting a scheme to corner the California hay market, a few haymen and dealers in San Jose are hanging on to small lots in warehouses in the belief that the price will be more than $20 a ton after the first rains.—Salinas Index.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A delightful breakfast was given by Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Jonas at their residence on Castro street in honor of the ceremonies attendant upon the entrance of their little son into the Jewish faith. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Brossner, Rev. and Mrs. J. Jonas, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cohn, Dr. Prichard, Dr. Friedlander, Mr. and Mrs. George Mosbacher, Mr. and Mrs. D. Magnes and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander.

Misses Mamie Kent, Ella Hussey, Fannie Stone, Minnie Dow, Messrs. Earl Stone, Charles Fryer, Karl Hoffman and Reno Hutchinson, graduates of the Oakland High School, will enter the University of California at Berkeley this term.

The wedding of Miss Frances Davison of Berkeley and Thomas Hodge of San Francisco will take place next Thursday evening at Trinity Methodist Church, Berkeley.

Mrs. Frank C. Havens of Oakland, Miss Ida A. Harper and Miss Winnifred Harper of Chicago have been at Santa Cruz and will go to Del Monte this week.

Mrs. Meed and Miss Ida Meed have been the guests of Mrs. W. A. Hale in Martinez.

Senator E. S. Denison has returned from Lake Tahoe.

Euripides Aroused.

(Coach, rehearsing the ballet in the Greek theater at Berkeley for the performance of "Iphigenia in Aulis," with motion of gestures showing exasperation): "My young and fair friends, I have just had a night message from Euripides and he says it is enough to have to put up with this Hoboken band in the corner of the amphitheater; this tango step in the dance of the divinities he cannot endure. You must be slow and graceful."

Comparatively Scarce.

Two Points of View.

The Maid—I found a four-leaved clover this morning. There is an old saying that the finder will be married within a year.

The Bachelor—Indeed! I was under the impression that the finding of a four-leaved clover was an omen of good luck.—Indianapolis Star.

Time to Hurry.

Madge—The old farmer said it was five minutes to the station.

Marjorie—Then we'd better hurry up. We've less than half an hour to catch the train.—Judge.

Of the Other Fellow.

Mabel—Have you really found out that absence makes the heart grow fonder?

Marjorie—Indeed I have. Since Charlie went away, I've learned to love Jack ever so much more.—Lippincott's.

SHOWS EVILS OF SEAMEN'S BILL

Captain Dollar Assists Investigation of the Trade Commission.

Details of the La Follette seamen's bill and its effects on shipping have been placed before the Federal Trade Commission and today that body is delving into a mass of data. Four shipping men appeared before the commission to go into the details of the matter.

John H. Rosseter of the W. R. Grace Company gave a striking answer to the query as to what is the matter with the export business, when he set forth that the passivity of the government in not protesting against destruction of cablegrams of a business nature in England by censors had much to do with the present injury to foreign business traffic.

"There are two ends to the cable," he said. "I do not see why this government could not take a hand in the censoring, too. Our firm alone has lost thousands of dollars in wasted cablegrams."

The need for American merchants in all foreign countries to sell our products.

The encouragement of the national administration of foreign trade.

The crying demand for ships to carry American products in place of legislation putting American bottoms out of existence.

The benefits that would accrue if small manufacturers were allowed to combine.

POLICY DESTRUCTIVE.

"If I understand your policy aright, it is constructive. Heretofore, the whole aim of our government has been destructive, to put big business out of the running, thereby destroying small business as well, and American citizens cannot be blamed for not engaging in foreign trade when our government has been antagonistic to it and when they see every other nation with whom we come in contact in foreign lands, are aided and assisted in every way possible by their governments."

"Previous to the European war," said Captain Dollar, "we had practically no ships; since then we started to get them fast until the passage of the seamen's bill when the registration under our flag came to a dead stop. Before the emergency bill was passed it was almost impossible to operate an American ship in the foreign trade, but this bill puts us so completely out of the running, that no discussion of it is necessary, and the exactions are so great that foreign ships can only sail with our products at very much increased cost, thereby compelling us to pay more to get our products to market than any other nation has to pay. The situation is so acute that ship owners don't know which way to turn unless to follow the example of the Pacific Mail and sell out. They are completely discouraged."

EAST BAY TO JOIN MILITARY CAMP

War Students' Committee to Urge Participation in Training.

Plans to have Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Hayward and Richmond represented by a stated number of men in the great business men's military camp to be opened at the Presidio were outlined today by committees of Oakland war students. It is proposed that at least two men from each city shall be sent to take the training course. City officials will be asked to aid in the move.

Piedmont, Albany and Emeryville will be included in the committee's plans.

Enrollments in San Francisco are progressing rapidly, and by the time the camp opens it is expected that more than the complement of 150 men will have been enlisted. This will mean that either the class must be enlarged or some of the applicants turned away, when the last men applying would be rejected. Eight army officers have already been detailed as instructors.

ARMY NATION; PREPARE FOR WAR; WARNING

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—National defense was the inspiration for all the speakers at the Navy League luncheon yesterday at the Palace Hotel.

"If we believe in our country," said Frank J. Symmes, one of the executive committee of the Navy League, "we must be prepared to defend and to protect its honor under all circumstances. The time has come now and there is none who does not realize by looking at the European situation that our country was never in greater need of protection."

Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California and one of the honorary vice-presidents of the Navy League, declared:

"We cannot sit calmly by, because we are between two oceans and enjoy the sun while ripe flap-doodles fall on us in our idiocy.

"People who tell us there is no peril are misleading us. This is a time to have no doubts. The situation is clear. We must prepare ourselves.

"The citizen who does not willingly take his part in the national defense does not deserve the name of citizen."

CONVENTION OF SONS OF ST. GEORGE RESUMED

Following their official celebration at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the grand lodge of the Sons of St. George resumed their convention sessions in Oakland this morning, when they met again at St. George's hall on Grove street. Business details and discussion of election plans were the principal objects of business.

Hundreds of Britons gathered for the celebration yesterday at the fair. E. T. Jeste was chairman of the day, and C. W. Riffee, grand president of the order, was the orator of the day. Tomorrow night the grand lodge delegates will be entertained by Albion lodge of Oakland. A boat ride about the bay and several other features are planned.

LINER NEAR DISASTER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19. — A heavy blanket of fog which has obscured the Golden Gate for the last three days caused delays to shipping and a near tragedy yesterday. The Hill liner Northern Pacific, coming in from the Columbia river yesterday afternoon, narrowly escaped colliding with the rocky sides of Alcatraz Island.

GARRISON BUSY ON NEW BUDGET

Auditor Basing Allowances on Estimated Valuation of $234,781,902.

With the estimates from the different departments of the county government now in his office, Auditor E. F. Garrison is busy compiling the new budget, basing the allowances upon a total valuation of $234,781,902. The budget asks, outside of salaries, for $1,256,000, but this amount has already been "pruned" to $1,038,418, and it is probable that the figures will be further reduced before the budget is submitted to the board of supervisors. The board is now at work on the school budget.

One of the largest increases asked for the new budget is approximately $24,000 more for charities and corrections than was allowed last year. Full allowance of $70,000 has been made for the new detention home and for the new wing for the courthouse.

Auditor Garrison in making his estimates has included everything except the new county infirmary, as the supervisors have not yet determined the sum to be expended upon the buildings during the year.

"It is probable that the county rate will be about what it is last year, that is, $.84, outside of a 14-cent high school levy which was made mandatory by the last legislature," said Auditor Garrison today. "But I am endeavoring to kep the rate down as much as possible, owing to present conditions.

"I believe that in the way of big improvements they should be done so much at a time, rather than heaping them into one year, which necessarily means a big tax rate for that year. By making so much a year the burden on the individual taxpayer is much less."

The budget will be submitted to the supervisors the first of the month. There has been a vast amount of work necessary in compiling the figures furnished from the different departments.

MORTIMER TELLS OF RESERVE BANK

American Trade Relations Another Theme for Big Financiers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Two subjects of vital importance in the financial and business world were discussed this morning at the second day's session of the American Institute of Banks, which is meeting at the St. Francis hotel. The trade relations between this country and South America and the federal reserve banking system were the topics which proved of chief interest to the delegates.

The meeting was called to order by President T. West, and following the invocation by Archbishop Edward Hanna, the branch bank and trade relations with South America were discussed by W. S. Kies, manager of the foreign trade department of the National City Bank of New York. The subject of the federal reserve system was handled by F. A. Delano, vice-governor of the federal reserve bank. Then followed a symposium on new American banking practices, in which three speakers participated.

The first address was by E. G. McWilliam of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles on "State Banks and the Federal Reserve System."

"National Banks and the Federal Reserve System" was presented by Frank C. Mortimer, cashier of the First National Bank of Berkeley.

Russell Lowry, deputy governor of the federal reserve bank of San Francisco, spoke on the "Federal Reserve Bank and Its Influence on Credits."

Auto Goes Over Bank; One Killed; Three Hurt

By Associated Press.

REDDING, Cal., Aug. 19.—J. W. Gilmore, Southern Pacific station agent at Cottonwood, was killed last night and three others were injured when an automobile went over the embankment here into the Sacramento river, a distance of 100 feet.

The injured: Hayden Saunders, who drove the car; Miss Vera Hencratt and her sister, Mrs. Ada Hall, all of Cottonwood. Mrs. Hall's injuries are probably fatal.

ROTARY CLUB HOLDS WEEKLY NOON LUNCHEON

"Sentiment in Photography" was the title of a unique address made before the Rotary Club today at the noon luncheon by F. A. Webster, photographic expert, in which he explained how scenes may be made more attractive by proper pictures. Samuel P. Johnston of the San Francisco Rotary Club spoke on advertising, and W. H. Wellbye, director of the Chamber of Commerce Commercial Club and prominent figure in Oakland's commercial organizations, spoke on "Civic Betterment." Wellbye reviewed the work of the Commercial Club, suggested more work in advancing the city's interests and discussed current affairs at length.

The meeting was the regular weekly affair of the club, and was held at the Hotel Oakland.

CONFERENCE OF MOTHERS.

A conference for mothers of girls, led by Miss Beatrice McCall of Oakland, will be held on Monday, August 23, at 2 p. m., in the Palace of Education, children's bureau conference room, at the Exposition, under the auspices of the American Social Hygiene Association. Its purpose will be to advise parents in the personal hygiene and instruction of growing girls in matters of sex.

ASSAULTED AND ROBBED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—A negro armed with a blue-barreled revolver assaulted William Adair of 35 Ewer place, in front of his home this morning, knocked him to the sidewalk and stole a gold watch and chain.

FIRE SWEEPS TOWN.

MOCLIPS BEACH, Wash., Aug. 19.—Fire of an unknown cause at 2:15 swept away a large part of this town. The Leland hotel, McCammon hotel, postoffice, beach pavilion and four cottages were destroyed. Gertz and Sons' store and one cottage were damaged. Occupants of some of the buildings had narrow escapes.

TRIBUNE'S PAGE for WOMEN and the KIDDIES

Dying Statement of Husband Is Denounced

Kitty Lemberth Bares Soul and Tells Past Life

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19. — Kitty Lemberth, her eyes flashing with the passion felt against her husband, W. D. Lemberth, in the San Bernardino county jail was a living example of the old quotation, "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," when, in an interview she bared her soul that she might slay the soul of her dead husband, who, she says, went to the grave a few nights ago with a black lie on his lips, a lie that may send her to the gallows as one of the instruments of his death.

At times hysterical, with Juanita Dandy, accused as slayer of her own sweetheart, trying to soothe her with loving caresses, the two women found great affection for one another. At [illegible] her past life, which she so stubbornly shielded from publicity for the purpose of "blackening her husband's soul," she said.

WAS FRONTIER WOMAN.

"I was a frontier woman, doing all a frontier woman must," she said. "And it has brought me to this. My God, to the very door of the death cell. And all for 'Bill,' who died a miserable traitor to his wife."

Asked what life as a frontier woman in the wild mining camps meant, she said:

"It meant this: 'When he gambled and caroused, I gambled and caroused. When he drank, I drank; when he would spend days in debauches, I would spend days in debauches; when he went hungry after gambling and drinking, I went hungry; when he was cold, searching for gold in the desert hills, I was cold; when he suffered, I suffered, and—" here she paused, her face pale, her breath coming in quick gasps as she continued, "and when he died last night I suppose he wanted me to die too. That is why he would not speak the truth to save me from a murderer's grave.

DIDN'T KEEP HIS LOVE.

"It was life such as Rex Beach and Jack London have written about. I was a frontier man's mate, and had to do as frontiersmen do to keep his love. I did it, but I did not keep his love. I would have to fly to other men for protection time after time, and for a little admiration, maybe, such as a woman loves for."

She is prepared to face a charge of murder which will be preferred against her and Denny Nicholson by Deputy District Attorney Ben Warmer today. Nicholson is the man who is alleged to have been her lover for many months, and the man who fought a fatal love duel with Lemberth when he came on Nicholson and the woman apparently eloping. The alleged lie Lemberth carried to his grave was his ante-mortem statement to the district attorney charging Nicholson with firing the first shot and with his wife trying to torture him to death when they let him lie five days without attention.

WOMEN LAWYERS CAUSE OF DEBATE

Membership Application to Bar Association Is Disputed.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 19. — The question of admitting women attorneys to membership in the American Bar Association, which created a lively session of the association's general council yesterday was threshed out on the floor of the main convention today.

APPLICATION RECOMMENDED.

The applicant is Miss Helen Hamilton of Grand Forks, N. D. The council agreed by a vote of 37 to 6 to recommend the application, following the report of a special committee that no agreement had been reached regarding the application of Miss Hamilton and one other woman applicant. A question of procedure arose, in the course of which a resolution was proposed denying admission to women as "undesirable." The resolution provoked an uproar and was not seconded. A motion to adjourn was lost by a tie vote and efforts were then made to lay the matter over until tomorrow.

"It seems as though we are trying to dodge the matter," shouted a delegate.

"We are always dodging the women," commented George T. Page of Peoria, president of the council.

RECONSIDERATION MOVED.

The vote in favor of the application was then taken and immediately afterward U. S. G. Cherry of South Dakota moved a reconsideration, as only five negative votes are necessary to defeat an application on the floor of the main convention and,he said, he did not wish the applicant to be defeated. The motion to reconsider was carried 25 to 7 and the issue will probably come up again.

The association has never admitted a woman to membership.

HAIR TINTING ALL THE RAGE

The Absolute and Utter Harmlessness of "Brownatone" Has Made Hair Tinting Safe and Easy.

You need not tolerate gray, streaked or faded hair another day. It takes but a few moments to apply "Brownatone" with your comb or brush and just a little "touching up" once a month should keep your hair the beautiful shade you most desire.

Results always the same—always pleasing. Will not rub or wash off and guaranteed to contain none of the dangerous ingredients so often found in "dyes" and so-called "restorers."

Prepared in two shades. One to produce golden or medium brown, the other dark brown or black.

Sample and booklet sent on receipt of 10c. "Brownatone" is sold by leading drug stores, in two sizes—25c and $1.00. Order direct from The Kenton Pharmacal Co., 574 Pike St., Covington, Ky., if your druggist will not supply you. You will save yourself much annoyance in refusing to accept a substitute. No samples at dealers.

Society

—FRASER PHOTO—

MISS FLORENCE BRAVERMAN, WHO WILL ENTERTAIN FOR MISS HARRISON.—Fraser photo.

It is the diversion of the season to paint chairs for the new theater built in Montecito by Mrs. Miller Graham. Everyone has had a try at it. Picnic parties are arranged for it, and afternoon excursions with the paint pots and brushes.

The chairs are all black. A futurist idea for the modern playhouse. They are very black, having many coats. Because the work was so fascinating and made excuse for so many merry parties, it seemed too bad to give it up. After two coats the chairs were black as ebony, but the painters still came with their brushes and added others. The chairs will probably be painted until it is time for them to dry for the dedication of the theater in September.

This is to be a gala event. The Hensbaws, Keeners, Felton Elkins, and all those who have painted chairs this summer, will be present.

A happy occasion but with a certain uncertainty present about the chairs. Black, they say, invariably "comes off." The men don't care. They intend to wear black evening clothes, any way. But women are wondering. It will be a risk, at least, for light gowns, with possible ruination. It may transpire that a futurist audience entirely in black will grace the black chairs on the opening night.

✡ ✡ ✡

An important event of the gay season in Santa Barbara will be a dance to be given by Mrs. William Griffith Henshaw, Mrs. Harry Chickering and Mrs. Charles Keeney, at the Santa Barbara Country club on the evening of August 30. It will be in honor of Miss Beatrice Miller whose engagement to Lieutenant Gantz was recently announced, and about 150 of the smart set of Montecito and Santa Barbara will be entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Keeney, accompanied by Miss Clarisse Lohse went down to Mira Vista on Sunday. Miss Lonse will remain several weeks.

INTERESTING REUNION.

A delightful reunion of former students of Snell Seminary took place this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Snyder in Oakland avenue where a reception was given for some of the prominent alumnae now visiting California. They included Mrs. Elbridge Gary of New York who was Miss Emma Collier, Mrs. Vernon Cady of New York (Bertha Chapman of East Oakland), Mrs. Charles de St. Maurice of Colusa (Hattie Belle Goad), Mrs. Charles Cobb of Washington (Marieda Snell), Mrs. Dunlap, Mrs. Richard Donald of Portland and Miss Mildred Snell.

The Snyder residence was decorated with clusters of dahlias in varied colors, except in the dining room where ragged sunflowers and ferns made an attractive effect with yellow shaded candles. Receiving with Mrs. Snyder were members of the alumnae who reside in Berkeley or Oakland, among them, Mrs. Walter Henry, Mrs. H. S. Keegan, Mrs. Harry Carleton, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Samuel Hackett, Mrs. Frederick Morse, Mrs. James Cory, Mrs. Oscar Lichfield, Mrs. E. M. James, Miss Lily Cole, Miss Adele Levy, Miss Mildred Van Gulpin, Miss Charlotte Kett, Miss Alice Flint, Mrs. Charles Allardt, Miss Eleanor Knowland, Miss Alice Cochran, Miss Alice Dibble, Miss Katherine Johnson, Miss Goldie Hulin, Miss Ruby Hulin and Miss Mildred Snook.

During the afternoon Miss Ruby and Miss Goldie Hulin gave an informal musical program.

VISITING MISS PALMER.

Miss Erminie Calvin, daughter of Mr. E. E. Calvin who was president of the Southern Pacific several years ago, is visiting Miss Alice Palmer at the W. S. Palmer home in Jackson street. The Calvins now live in Salt Lake where Mr. Calvin is vice-president of the Union Pacific. Miss Erminie recently graduated from a finishing school in New York and will make her debut in society this year. She will spend several weeks in California and during her stay in Oakland is enjoying many of the gayeties of the younger set.

RECEPTION THIS AFTERNOON.

Many guests were entertained at the Home club this afternoon when visiting delegates of the N. E. A. were honored at a reception given by the club. The attractive rooms of the club in East Oakland were decorated with bowls of dahlias that harmonized well with the mahogany woodwork. The visitors were received by Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, president, who wore a handsome costume of wisteria satin veiled with black point de-esprit and by the officers, who include Mrs. Glenn C. Barnhart, Mrs. Robert Leet, Mrs. Lester G. Burpee, Mrs. Charles J. Waterhouse, Mrs. E. C. Smook, Miss Lucy Shinn, Mrs. John McKay and Miss Margeret Taylor. The members were an informal reception committee that made every one of the guests welcome.

FOR MISS CHURCH.

Miss Esther Church, a much entertained bride-elect, was guest of honor at a bridge party given this afternoon by Mrs. Byron Paul at the home of her mother, Mrs. Orr, in Euclid avenue. Among those invited to meet Miss Church were Mrs. Oliver Fletter, Mrs. Wynne Newell, Mrs. R. C. Drew, Mrs. Frank McNutt, Mrs. W. A. Wright, Mrs. Edwin Chamberlain, Mrs. Russell Cordell, Mrs. Charles Cherry, Miss Edith Woodward, Miss Ramona Allen, Miss Adele Scott, Miss Elsie Merriwether, Miss Alma Naismith, Miss Mary Ames, Miss Consuela Osgood, Miss Vivian Middleton, Miss Erma Auerbach and Miss Ruth Houston.

McLOUGHLIN AT SEABRIGHT.

Mr. Maurice McLoughlin of Piedmont, who has been playing in the tennis tournament in Newport, spent last week at Seabright, New Jersey, where he played in a tournament with Edwin Larned, Craig Biddle and other tennis stars. Mr. McLoughlin is being entertained by eastern friends, and will not return to Piedmont for another fortnight.

✡ ✡ ✡

MISS HARRISON FETED.

Miss Theresa Harrison, the fiancee of Mr. Andrew Warner Lawson of Berkeley, is being entertained at a number of social affairs across the bay as well as in Berkeley where she has many friends. Miss Florence Braverman will give a luncheon in San Francisco next Thursday in honor of Miss Harrison and Miss Gladys Buchanan, another of the season's brides-elect. On Monday, Mrs. Richard Heiman will be hostess at a luncheon in their honor.

✡ ✡ ✡

AT LAKE TAHOE.

Miss Elizabeth Bliss and Miss Geraldine King are among the popular younger belles at Tahoe Tavern where they are counted among the expert tennis players. They are both bright and attractive and are among the leaders in gayeties of the younger set at Tahoe. Miss Bliss is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bliss of Piedmont who are spending the summer at the lake.

✡ ✡ ✡

MISS FULLAM A BRIDESMAID.

Miss Rhoda Fullam, daughter of Admiral Fullam who made many friends in California on his recent visit with the Annapolis midshipmen, was bridesmaid at one of the important weddings of the season at Newport, that of Miss Margaret Andrews and Morgan Belmont which took place last Saturday. Miss Fullam and her mother are guests of friends at Newport, but will join Admiral Fullam at Annapolis in September.

✡ ✡ ✡

RETURN FROM LAKE.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lyman King have returned from Lake Tahoe where they were guests at the Tavern for several weeks.

✡ ✡ ✡

AT FALLEN LEAF LODGE.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Woolsley and Harold Woolsley of Berkeley spent last week at Fallen Leaf lodge near Lake Tahoe.

✡ ✡ ✡

RETURN FROM ORIENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Salisbury Field are en route to California from the Orient where they have spent several months. They went to Samoa for the interment of the remains of Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, who was Mrs. Field's mother, and have been traveling in the far east. The Fields expect to be in their Santa Barbara home in time to attend the opening of Mrs. Miller Granam's new open air playhouse in Montecito in the fall.

Santa Barbara society will make this a gala event, among those particularly interested being Mr. and Mrs. Felton Elkins, the Henry Bothins, W. G. Henshaws, Charles Keeneys, Eliot Rogers, Joel Fithians and others who have helped Mrs. Graham with the plans.

BRIDE-ELECT FETED.

Mrs. E. C. Drews was hostess at one of the recent affairs for Miss Esther Church, a bride-elect of the season, entertaining at a luncheon and theater party in San Francisco. Her guests included Mrs. Oliver Fletter, Mrs. Byron Paul, Miss Edith Woodward, Mrs. Peter Daniels and Mrs. William Wright.

Miss Vivian Middleton will give a tea for Miss Church next Monday afternoon and on Friday afternoon, August 27, Miss Ruth Houston will be a hostess in her honor. Miss Constance Osgood will entertain Miss Church and her bridesmaids on the afternoon of August 30.

WEDDING IN BERKELEY.

Miss Nina Irene Mishwitz, daughter of Mrs. J. B. Mishwitz of Oakland, was married last evening to Mr. H. Scott Fraser of Los Angeles at the Park Congregational church in Berkeley. Rev. Yokum officiated and the bride's attendants were Miss Lilly Meyer as maid of honor, Miss Hazel Smith, Miss Dorothy Coffin, Miss Edith Thompson and Miss Rita Friedman. They were gowned in the rainbow colors and wore bridesmaids veils to match their costumes. The bride wore white charmeuse with silver lace, and a long tulle veil, and she carried a shower of lilies of the valley. Earl Hedemark was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Richard Stevens, Arthur Price, H. C. Heffman and James Blackwell, fraternity brothers of the groom. After the ceremony there was a wedding supper at the Hotel Shattuck, where the groom's mother, Mrs. George B. Scott of Los Angeles, is staying. The young couple will live in Los Angeles.

Women in the News

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Josephine Edith Ingalls, a Kentucky belle whose adventures have the flavor of a Parisian romance, was named in an [illegible] complaint filed yesterday by Mrs. Mary Jane Harron in her divorce action against Attorney Howard Harron. Attorney Timothy Healy acted for Mrs. Harron.

Mrs. Ingalls, a young and beautiful brunette, is accused of being responsible for Harron's desertion of his wife a year ago. She is the woman whose hair was pulled by Mrs. Harron last February, when the angry wife gained admittance by a ruse to an apartment at 955 Powell street, where she found Mrs. Ingalls and her husband together.

Mrs. Ingalls has disappeared and her two children by an early marriage have been sent back to relatives in the South. Her buried past has now risen to confront her. She has been a woman of mystery in San Francisco for years.

She was Josephine Edith Wooldridge, born in Louisville, Ky., thirty-two years ago. Her mother was one of the famous Breckenridges of Kentucky. Her father came of a distinguished Tennessee family. In 1903 she was married to Dr. St. John Downing, a well known Chicago physician. Two girls were born to the union. After three years of married life [illegible] Downing [illegible] a divorce.

MOVE IN GOOD SOCIETY.

Mrs. Downing, as she was known then, came to California and established herself in Sacramento. She met J. L. Ingalls, an electrical engineer in the employ of the Southern Pacific, and married him. In 1907 the Ingalls came to San Francisco to live. They resided at the Dolores Apartments, Sixteenth and Market streets. They moved in good society and were apparently happy.

On July 17, 1907, Ingalls came home to dinner at his usual hour and instead of his pretty wife waiting to greet him he found a note. The note said she was going across the bay to take dinner with friends and that she would be back at 8 o'clock.

When 8 o'clock came and Mrs. Ingalls did not appear, Ingalls became suspicious and went out to find his wife. He found her at a hotel on Eddy street, where she was registered as the wife of Julius M. Purnell. Purnell was a contract surgeon in the United States army, with headquarters at Alcatraz.

POSES AS A WIDOW.

Mrs. Ingalls took her two little girls and went to live alone as a widow. Attorney Harron steps into her life during this period, probably during divorce proceedings against Ingalls, according to the allegations of Mrs. Harron.

Mrs. Ingalls and Harron were seen together many times, even as late as last month, he is now supposed to be in Chicago.

CAN'T DIVORCE AND FEED HUSBAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—You cannot cook a man's breakfast and then go to court and obtain a divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty, according to Judge Graham yesterday in the case of Rose against Joseph Bliman.

Mrs. Bliman testified that her husband, who is a wholesale poultry dealer at 1011 Howard street, had struck her on many occasions and had called her profane names.

"Are you still living with your husband?" queried the court.

"Yes," replied the witness, "I cooked his breakfast for him this morning."

"Do you want your wife to get a divorce?" asked the court of Bliman.

"We can't get along together and she wants to return to her folks in Pittsburg," said Bliman. "If she wants a divorce give it to her."

"The divorce laws of this state may be lax," said the judge, "but we don't grant divorces just because a husband and wife have agreed to separate. The case is continued for further evidence."

THREE GENERATIONS WEAR THIS GOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Miss Stella D. Halsey wore the wedding dress of her grandmother and her mother when she became the bride of Harvey D. Allen yesterday in the First Baptist church.

Although Miss Halsey was of the third generation in her family to wear the bridal dress, the garment is said to "be right in style." It is of white silk trimmed with old lace.

It was first worn when Miss Halsey's grandmother became Mrs. Charles Duffield in Cincinnati in 1842. Her mother wore it when married in Chicago in 1883.

Miss Halsey is the daughter of R. L. Halsey of Honolulu, who is inspector in charge of the district of Hawaii. Allen is a business man of San Diego.

MUIR'S DAUGHTERS GET $150,000 CASH

MARTINEZ, Aug. 19.—Partial distribution of the estate of the late John Muir was ordered by Judge R. H. Latimer here yesterday, when $150,000 in cash was given in equal shares to Mrs. L. E. Wanna of this city and Mrs. Buel A. Fund of Daggett, Cal., daughters and only heirs of Muir. In addition to this amount there remains more than $50,000 yet to be apportioned. With the exception of a little personal property and small land holdings, the Muir estate, worth more than $300,000, is in cash in banks in San Francisco.

FERRY AUTO RULES BONE OF CONTENTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Cities and commercial and tourist organizations of northern California have joined hands in a final effort to force the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to provide adequate automobile transportation from San Francisco to Sausalito, gateway to the north wonderland.

An informal complaint and request for investigation has been filed with the State Railroad Commission, by the Central Marin Chamber of Commerce. Back of it stand the people of three counties, who have labored in vain with the railroad for many years to gain special automobile boats during the week and the abolition of the obsolete and unnecessary rule which limits to four a trip the number of machines carried on the passenger boats.

Changeable blue taffeta, indoor gown adorned with shirred bands of the silk and has flounces of Lierre lace. Colored silk berries on skirt points and corsage.

IN BATTLE WITH THUG GIRL BITES HIS THUMB

The thug was forced to beat her nearly to insensibility with a club before he was able to tear his hand loose. In ranking his thumb from between Miss Kilbourne's teeth, the robber dislodged one of the young woman's lower teeth.

MUSIC TEACHER SELECTED.

The board of education of Petaluma has elected Miss Hazel Smith of Oakland to teach music in the grammar schools here. The young woman was graduated from the San Francisco Normal School and comes here highly recommended. In addition to teaching music she will also teach the fourth grade at the Washington grammar school.

ELABORATE BIRTHDAY.

HAYWARD, Aug. 19. — The Hayward chapter of the Order of Eastern Star will celebrate its first anniversary Friday evening, September 24. Grand officers of the order will be invited to attend as well as representatives of chapters in other cities. Committees are now at work on the preparations.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hagan of Oakland are spending some days in Napa with friends.

Miss Olga Anderson of this city is enjoying the summer in Kerman as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Carlson. Another visitor there is Miss Edith Erickson of Berkeley.

Mrs. W. H. Crosline has been visiting her son, George G. Devore, and Mrs. George Devore at their home in Georgetown, Cal.

A recent guest in Oakland was Miss Mary Stafford of Live Oak, who returned last week to her home, preparatory to taking up her school duties at Fort Bragg.

Miss Maude Jones has been a recent guest in Stirling City as the guest of her uncle, Dare Jones.

F. J. Meloney of Oakland spent last Monday in Napa.

Just One Application and the Hairs Vanish

(Modes of Today)

A harmless, yet very effective, treatment is here given for the quick removal of hairy growths: Mix enough powdered delatone and water to cover the undesirable hairs, apply paste and after 2 or 3 minutes remove, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. One application usually is sufficient, but to be certain of results, buy the delatone in an original package.—Advertisement.

DENVER HAN IS HEAD OF VETERAN'S ORDER

TAX COMMISSIONERS TO BE PAID $5000

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 19.—Clyde L. Seavey of Sacramento and Edward A. Dickson of Los Angeles, who were recently appointed State Tax Commissioners by Governor Johnson, will receive a salary of $5000 a year, it was announced today. This is the same salary Seavey was getting as a member of the board of control, which position he recently resigned.

Classic Features

(By LILLIAN RUSSELL)

(Copyright, 1915, by Lillian Russell.)

IF BEAUTY were entirely dependent upon regular and classic features, I am afraid a great many women would fail to qualify as beauties.

Certainly women are [illegible] who are not by nature with good features. But the less fortunate have no reason to lose hope.

Every woman has an opportunity to make herself attractive by using nature's gifts to the best advantage. A glorious pair of eyes can so attract the attention that all other features are unobserved, while a sweet smiling mouth fascinates. Beautiful teeth are most fetching, and a glorious head of well kept hair is a real mark of beauty.

A beautiful complexion will offset irregular features. The nose that is too large or too small, the brow that is too wide or too narrow, and the cheekbones that are too high or too low will be less prominent if covered with beautiful skin. Such defects are greatly minimized by a good color plexion.

One woman complains of too high cheek bones. She can lower them; that is, she can lower their prominence by keeping her complexion in fine condition and dressing her hair rather wide at the sides.

And so it is with the nose. That organ may be unusually large and still escape particular notice if the skin covering is fine and smooth.

Very little powder should be used upon a prominent nose. Of course it should not shine, for that fault draws attention to its size. The powder used should be the exact color of the nose. White powder should never be used at all, for a large nose covered with white powder suggests something that is dead.

Nature provides you with an unalterable frame, but you have absolute power over its development and covering. It is you who passes sentence upon its condition and appearance.

The bones of your body may or may not be well covered and well muscled. Symmetrical or unsymmetrical, you have the power of choice.

Your face may or may not be pleasant to look upon. It is you and you alone who decides that problem.

Hollow cheeks can be filled, angles can be reduced, brows can be straightened by proper manipulations and by proper mental conditions. We all know that happiness is the greatest beautifier, yet women will make themselves miserable over some slight defect that would be modified or unobserved were the face aglow with happiness.

With the rising thoughts follows the rising temperament, which electrifies the features into life and intelligence. Intelligent women are never ugly, unless their faces express egotism and contempt, which is too often the case.

It is waste of time to worry over your too pronounced nose, too thick lips or too high cheek bones. Give the time spent in worrying to attending to the skin and complexion, and happy thinking.

There is more in a beautiful appearance than regular facial features. The face may be molded in classic form and yet be made very unattractive by the condition of the skin.

MISS J. Z.—I do not believe that the low-heeled shoes would spoil your feet in the least. However, as you have to stand so long, I should wear the shoes that are the most comfortable. Many people cannot stand the low heels, but if you can wear them they are much easier on your feet than the high heels.

F. N. B.—The only thing I know that will help you is to gently, whenever you think of it, press back with your thumb the tip of your nose that you have pulled down. This may gradually press it back into place.

SECOND OF FIVE GENERAL SESSIONS HELD

DELEGATES AT SIX OTHER MEETINGS

Peace organizations—and there are several represented—have no place at the general session of the International Congress of Education in the auditorium today. Politics, and its henchman, internal warfare, are the two most prominent things in the convention today, overshadowing every other consideration, even that of education.

The political warfare incident to the choice of a president of the National Education Association, to succeed Chancellor David Starr Jordan, has not stopped the educators, however, from carrying out an extensive program of addresses. This is the second of the five general sessions to be held by the international congress, and is, in view of the election and the important addresses being made, combined, the most important of the quintet.

FEW OTHER MEETINGS.

Few other meetings are being held by the educators today, as the importance of the general session has drawn almost all of the delegates and visitors to the auditorium arena. The League of Teachers is meeting, a conference of the state and national club leaders is being held in Berkeley; the National Association of State Supervisors and Inspectors of Rural Schools has convened in the chamber of commerce hall, the League of the Cities to promote civic drama and other forms of civic art is meeting in Piedmont Park; the International Congress of School Women is being held in the Hotel Oakland ballroom, and delegates to the Congress of Romanic Languages have gathered in the Argentine building at the Exposition.

Richard Welling, chairman of the self-government committee of New York city, told the congress this afternoon that, at best, the colleges set a poor example to students in secondary schools in the matter of self-government. The "honor system," he said, "does not even aim to reach that vast list of outrages, euphemistically described as 'pranks,' by those who think the student incapable of a loyalty beyond his immediate group." He continued:

STUDENT GOVERNMENT.

"The spirit of forbearance, compromise and co-operation taught by student self-government makes not only for good citizenship, but for world peace, and for membership in that larger world civilization which most nations share and from which no nation cultivating these principles need fear of being outlawed.

"Under the German system, neither scholars nor laymen acquire a sense of values, and the result is a community of ill-balanced citizens, each a machine in his own specialty, and the whole liable at any time to become an outlaw nation."

Speaking on "The Cost and Labor of English Teaching," Edwin M. Hopkins of the University of Kansas, said, in part:

"Under the most favorable conditions a college teacher cannot do the best work with more than sixty pupils in freshman composition or a high school teacher with more than eighty pupils in English, and if the conditions are less favorable the number must be correspondingly smaller. In elementary schools the survey is much more complicated, but it already indicates that if there are degrees of impossibility it is far more impossible for an elementary teacher to get any results from English teaching than it is for either the high school or the college teacher."

DR. WOOD SPEAKS.

Dr. Thomas D. Wood of Columbia University, New York, speaking on "Child Welfare and Rural Schools," said in part:

"About half of the 20,000,000 school children in the United States are attending the rural schools.

"The rural school, from the standpoint of health and general fitness for its important use is the worst type of building in the whole country, including not only all types of outbuildings used for human beings but also, those used for livestock and all domestic animals. Rural schools are on the average less adequate for their use than prisons, asylums, almshouses, stables, dairy-barns, pigpens, chicken houses, dog-kennels.

"The healthfulness and attractiveness of the rural school and even more the health and general welfare of the country children are absolutely essential to the entire well being of the children themselves and to the very life and welfare of the nation as a whole.

Harold W. Foght of the United States Bureau of Education spoke on "Efficiency and Preparation of American Rural Teachers," saying, in part:

"The teaching profession has recognized for some time that rural teachers are not generally so well prepared as they should be to cope with the difficult problems confronting them. Indeed, special preparation of rural teachers is a comparatively new thing in the United States. Some educators still hold that any teacher of reasonably good academic and professional preparation should be able to teach a good country school. This may be true enough so far as the universal elements of an education are concerned, but it is quite another thing when it comes to rooting the school to the soil and making it answer the needs of the community where it is maintained. We prepare teachers for kindergarten work, for English and Latin, and for other subjects, why not also for rural schools, where the problems are many and increasingly complex?"

Dies in Portugal, Leaving Two Wills

With the filing of two wills in the $10,000 estate of the late Joaquin Franco, bachelor and well-to-do merchant in West Oakland, who died in Portugal several months ago, has arisen a legal tangle.

Admitting in a will drawn in Oakland just a year ago that he had an illegitimate son 13 years of age living in Portugal to whom he desired to leave the bulk of his fortune, Franco gave a deed of trust to Attorney J. J. Rose of his entire estate with the understanding that his son should fall into the estate when he reached majority.

Upon the advice of his physician Franco went to Portugal in September, 1914. There he became worse and died, leaving a document purporting to be his last will, setting aside the other instrument but making no mention of his son.

Both wills will be filed and it will then be up to the probate court to decide which one shall prevail.

"The Queen's Masque" Played for Alumnae

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—"The Queen's Masque," the 1915 Partheneia of the University of California, was repeated this afternoon in a special performance before an audience of several hundred members of the Collegiate Alumnae in Faculty Glade.

The masque, which was written by Miss Mary Van Orden of the class of 1906, depicts the spiritual awakening of Margot, a being half fay and half mortal, who is called from her careless existence among the elemental spirits of earth by the wooing of Humphrey, a mortal who strays into her woodland retreat.

The character of Margot was admirably portrayed by Miss Maude Meagher. The cast throughout was the same as in the first production, with the exception of the role of Humphrey, which was taken by Miss Clara Mortenson in the place of Miss Carol Eberts, who is now a member of Miss Margaret Anglin's company.

The production of the Partheneia was under the management of Miss Vinnie Robinson, assisted by Miss Grace Bird, Porter Garnet, who directed the original performance, supervised the staging and action.

Graft in Franchises, Says Mayor's Counsel

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—When Attorney William Cannon, representing the United Railroads, referred to Mayor James Rolph Jr. as a law violator in the contempt proceedings before Judge Crothers this morning, Judge Matt I. Sullivan retorted by charging that the United Railroads had purchased their franchises with the aid of graft and corruption and were not in a position to charge anybody.

Edward Rainey, secretary to the mayor, was the chief witness and was interrogated as to whether or not the city's chief executive had stated that he would defy the injunction of Judge Sullivan and go to jail.

WALTER HAYNES, MURDER SUSPECT, OUT ON BAIL

Walter S. Haynes, accused of the murder of Manuel S. Bettincourt at Hayward, was released from the county jail this afternoon on $15,000 bond, furnished by his sister, Mrs. Juilliard of Santa Rosa, wife of former Senator Juilliard.

JOHN BARRETT HERE TO ADDRESS TEACHERS

John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., arrived in San Francisco today and is preparing to deliver an address tomorrow afternoon at a special Pan-American conference of the International Students' Association reunion in Festival Hall.

Tomorrow evening he will deliver an address before the departmental congress on business education in the Technical High School building. His subject has been given as "The Latin-American Field and Opportunity." The congress is a part of the National Educational Association convention being held here.

GREEK TYPE IS STATE'S BEAUTY

Physical Perfection of Californians Pleases Baroness.

The spirit of ancient Greece may be en route to animate a similar aesthetic empire here on the shores of the Pacific, according to the Baroness Rose Posse, president of the departmental Congress of Physical Education, and head of the Posse Normal School of Gymnastics in Boston.

The Baroness, who is at the Hotel Oakland after a month's tour of the state, is inclined to believe that the conspicuous passion Californians betray for tents, sleeping porches and personal beauty may be largely responsible for their captivating exteriors. She could not express, she said, her enthusiasm for sleeping outdoors.

Everywhere, during her motor trip from the north down to this part of the state she saw tents—and then more tents. "Everyone apparently sleeps out in the air," she concluded optimistically. "I am sure that that is one of the reasons why your women are so delightful to look at."

"Yes, they really are—it is impossible not to be impressed with the good looks of Californians. There are states, you know, where you seem scarcely to meet a pretty girl. But, look around you, don't you see a great many—every day? I thought when I reached New Orleans I had reached the realm of attractive women. But since I have been in California I must admit there are more here. Yes, I would say that to a citizen of any state in the Union."

The school founded by the Baroness twenty-five years ago in Boston, is the second-oldest devoted to gymnastics in the United States. There students from all parts of the world are trained for teachers of physical culture. Every branch of physical activity that is of use in developing the body is taught. The school curriculum includes the usual physical culture work plus the allied sports and games such as skating, tennis and swimming.

The specialty of the training, which is along the line adopted years ago by Sweden, where great attention is paid to this branch so little understood in this country, is the corrective effect of exercise on deformities. Possibilities along this line, declares the visiting Baroness, are tremendous. It is her belief that special study and effort will be made to perfect the physical and consequently the mental make-up of American children by this means.

Nominators Busied to Find Candidates

Because the attendance of delegates from some states was insufficient to make the required legal number of a nominating committee for the selection of officers, President David Starr Jordan of the International Education Association appointed additional members to round out the force necessary to work through with the business of choosing officers today.

President Jordan appointed committeemen from Alabama, Alaska, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Philippines, Vermont, Virginia and Wyoming. The full nominating committee, which is to make recommendations to the main body of the convention today for the selection of officers, stands as follows:

C. C. Certain, L. D. Henderson, A. J. Matthews, George B. Cook, Elizabeth Sherman, Z. X. Snyder, Mary Grace Moody, Clifford J. Scott, W. Carson Ryan, George M. Lynch, Emma O. Smith, Isaac M. Cox, W. R. Siders, Etta Q. Gee, Ida S. Baker, E. C. Bishop, J. G. Crabbe, Miss Hanson, Robert J. Aley, C. T. C. Whitcomb, H. M. Slauson, Isabel Williams, John R. Kirk, S. D. Sargent, E. J. Bodwell, B. G. Bleasdale, Frances E. Clark, Thomas E. Finegan, John Milne, Robert H. Wright, E. J. Taylor, L. R. Alderman, George C. Maurer, John H. Bowers, H. H. Baish, Frank L. Crone, Helen C. Putnam, J. E. Walmsley, W. Franklin Jones, F. R. Dressler, C. E. Evans, E. G. Gowans, Guy Potter Benton, Charles K. Graham, Ruth Hoffman, John C. Shaw, J. W. Crabtree, Joseph E. Burch.

Looks for Shift of Trade North

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Senator F. E. Burton of Ohio declared at the Palace hotel this morning that he believed the effect of the La Follette shipping bill on the Pacific coast would be to increase the importance of Vancouver and other British Columbia ports. Senator Burton arrived last night to visit the exposition. He has been for several months in South America.

Senator Burton has been mentioned as a presidential possibility, and he would not deny today that he may become a candidate for the Republican nomination. During his many years in Congress he was a member of the rivers and harbors committee and served on other important committees.

SCHOOL PLAN 'OUTLAWS' GERMANY

Self-Government Expert Makes Statement to Teachers.

Is Germany an outlawed nation, because of the defective self-government system of the students at the first and secondary schools of the empire?

Richard Welling, chairman of the self-government committee, of New York City, told the delegates to the general session of the International Congress of Education in the auditorium arena today that if it is not it is in danger of becoming one.

Moreover, he declared that the system of self-government in the schools of this country will lead to the same condition as exists in Germany. The defective system, he said, results in ill-balanced citizens.

Welling's subject was "Self Government in Secondary Schools." He said in part:

"Pupil co-operation, or self-government advances slowly in the secondary schools. The demand for literature from elementary schools all over the country is continuous. Questionnaires sent out by us to secondary schools met with a limited response.

FOLLOW THE COLLEGES.

"The secondary schools seem to follow the example of the colleges rather than the elementary schools in training for democracy. At best the colleges set a poor example. The honor system applied only to cribbing at examinations, does not even aim to reach that vast list of outrages, euphemistically described as 'pranks' by those who think the student incapable of a loyalty beyond his immediate group.

"The spirit of forbearance, compromise and co-operation taught by student self-government, makes not only for good citizenship but for world peace, and for membership in that larger world civilization which most nations share and from which no nation cultivating these principles need fear of being outlawed.

"Pupil co-operation in the management of various vocational activities as practiced in the Gary Schools must also tend to breed that community spirit from which some day we may hope to see a wise and sane collectivism in the state.

"Under the German system neither scholars nor parents acquire a sense of values, and the result is a community of ill-balanced citizens, each a machine in his own specialty, and the whole liable at any time to become an outlaw nation.

"For over twenty years the George Junior Republic has thriven, and never more than today, under Mr. George's inspired management. This committee is merely applying these principles in the public schools.

FINDS ANTI-WAR SPIRIT EXORCISED

European Mothers Give Sons to Mars, Gladly Says Returned Fighter.

Karl L. Llewellyn, Yale graduate, soldier of fortune, writer, wearing an iron cross bestowed upon him by the German government for his valor while a soldier in the ranks, has arrived in Oakland to recuperate from wounds sustained in battle. He is visiting his brother, Geo. F. Llewellyn, 3883 Cerrito avenue.

"This talk about war not appealing to the masses of Europe is all nonsense," said Llewellyn. "The wounded soldiers are already glorifying war to their children and will do so when the war is over. The mothers of Europe will resist war, but once it arrives they will, to a woman, be glad to give their sons for their country."

League of Teachers Prepare to Adjourn

Preparatory to the closing business of the convention tomorrow the League of Teachers' Associations met in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium hall today, with Miss Grace de Graff presiding.

The National Association of State Supervisors and Inspectors of Rural Schools met in special conference this morning in Chamber of Commerce hall, with Lester S. Ivins presiding. Subjects discussed were "Denmark's Rural Schools," by H. W. Foght, a government expert of Washington, D. C., "Rural School Conditions in Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands," by J. C. Muerman of Washington, D. C., and "The Philippine Rural School Conditions," by Luther Parker of the bureau of education, Philippine Islands. Another session of the association will be held tomorrow.

'Freshies' Warned; It Saves Money

University Law School Teaches Educator a Lesson

Has vocational training subconsciously entered the law school of the University of California?

This is a question that Ernest C. Folsom of Lincoln, Nebraska, believes he can positively answer in the affirmative. Ernest C. Folsom is well known in educational, financial and insurance circles, and is here as a delegate to the N. E. A. Wishing to view the Berkeley campus, he strolled thereon yesterday. He arrived at the law college just as a group of young men were leaving it. To Folsom their youthfulness indicated high school rather than undergraduate law school life.

Approaching the dean of the law department, Folsom asked about the group. This was the reply given him: "These are collegiate freshmen who think they will study law three years hence. I take these boys in hand and give them an opportunity to know what the University will expect of them, and will do for them, if they persist in their plan to become lawyers."

Folsom's vocational thought now enters. He said, "With the dean laying bare a prospective of what is to come, the boys realize what is before them and quite a few desist from going further, they seeing that they would not be adapted for the work. Fully one-half the graduates of our law schools never practice law, so the saving to the individual and to the universities can easily be seen."

WAR IS AGAIN DR. JORDAN'S THEME

Teachers' Ass'n League Hears Educators Talk at Hotel Oakland Banquet.

"What's the use of war? What's the good of it? Think over those two questions and get a lesson. In just one of the battles between the Germans and the French in this war the dead were piled eight deep on the battlefield—just like cordwood. They were the best men of the countries who sent them out to die. More men were lost in one battle than either side lost throughout the entire Civil War.

"Civilization is at its lowest ebb in Europe today. The countries of the old world are merely like citizens living in a community where highway robbers overrun the country.

"You hear people speak of peace at any price. Serbia could not have had peace at any price. Neither could poor, little, innocent Belgium. It wasn't on the market for them. The Russians could have had peace if they had consented to the loss of the Balkans, which they have fought over for the past fifty years. England could have had peace at the price of great dishonor. France could

Commercial Club Will Not Play in Club Tournament

P. A. A. Officials to Rule Against Former 'Originals'

The Oakland Commercial Club is doomed to disappointment if it hopes to enter the Exposition football tournament in November with an eleven composed largely of talent made up of last year's Originals. P. A. A. officials have let it be known that they will decline to give such men as Brunzell, Muir, Brown, Steinbach and others amateur standing, and hence they will not be permitted to compete against the Olympic Club, Multnomah Club and Los Angeles Athletic Club.

The Originals never made any pretense at being a strictly amateur organization, having played repeatedly the last few years for whatever gate receipts they could secure. These gate receipts were divided amongst the players, but rarely amounted to more than enough to cover actual expenses. Manager Thomas of the Originals believes that the P. A. A. officials should take into consideration the fact that the Originals did not have a business of football, and that the only way they could keep up the pastime was to play for the gate receipts. Secretary Hauser of the P. A. A. is firmly of the belief that the eligibility committee of the organization will rule against practically all the stars that the Commercial Club is counting on to take the field in their colors. In this event the club will not be able to participate in the tourney, but will not be prevented from competing as professionals against an amateur team in open competition.

However, under the rules any amateurs who play on the same team with professionals will lose their amateur standing.

On Friday night at Piedmont Baths the fastest swimmers about the bay will swim in a series of races, and in a water polo game. The management of the big local bathhouse has announced that hereafter every Friday night there will be an exhibition of some sort in the natatorium. A local swimming club will be organized which it is hoped will prove an able opponent for the Olympic Club of San Francisco.

Walter Spencer, the speedy swimmer from the Oakland "Y," is the leading factor in the organizing of the new club. Spencer's chief reason for being mentioned in the swimmers' hall of fame is that he gave Ludy Langer, the world's champion, a great race in the 440-yard championships of the P. A. A. last year. The local boy is undoubtedly the best of the middle distance swimmers in this part of the state.

Work with Spencer in the organization of the club are F. H. Armstrong, a stellar performer in the water polo field; Gunnar Sundeman, former coast champion in the breast and back strokes and a fast polo player; Ralph Kendrick, the great little all-around paddler, who swims equally well on his back, side or breast; Billy Blanchfield, the versatile fancy diver, and many other prominent water dogs. With this array of aquatic talent for a nucleus it is safe to predict that a great swimming club will result.

The program for the first of the Friday night swimming feats, which will be a great treat for lovers of water sports, will include a 50-yard dash, a 100-yard dash, a 220-yard race, a 50-yard back stroke race, an exhibition of the fast strokes by aquatic experts, a relay race, and water polo game.

In the 50-yard race are "Toots" Gardner, the junior champion of the Olympic Club; Billy Burke, of the Beach Combers; E. M. Smith, of the Olympics; Eugene Mahr, the San Francisco interscholastic sprint champion; Gus Rissman, and Eddie Love will try conclusions. All of these men are fast and the water should be well churned when the boys cross the finish line.

The same men will probably start in the hundred with the added entry of F. H. Armstrong, the water polo game. The race should be close between E. M. Smith and "Toots" Gardner. The latter has been heralded as the new coast champion because of his fast performances over the short routes in San Francisco recently.

In the two-twenty a great struggle should result when Line Johnson and Walter Spencer dive from the gun. Both of these boys have shown themselves leaders in the middle distance school. Johnson the veteran, Spencer, the climbing novice. At present the edge seems to be in favor of Spencer, but Johnson is liable to upset the "dope" at any time.

A match backstroke race between Gunnar Sundeman and Kendrick over 50 yards is liable to prove the attraction of the evening. Sundeman and Kendrick are the leading exponents of swimming on the back in this district and both are directly in line for the next coast championship. Sundeman swims with great strength the back trudgeon, using the leg scissor kick, while Kendrick swims the "back crawl," using the "up-and-down" leg thrash as it is employed in the crawl stroke.

The relay race between the Beach Combers of San Francisco and the Piedmonters is sure to be a close and fast event. Rex Mason, Malern Foote, Billy Burke, Eddie Hart and Jack Harlem make a combination for the Combers which is hard to beat. The Piedmont team will probably line up: Walter Spencer, Gunnar Sundeman, F. H. Armstrong, Ralph Kendrick and Dave Duncan.

The water polo game, which will conclude the evening's sport, will be played between the same organizations. A practice game was played a week ago and the local team won by a score of 5 to 3 goals.

Coach Richard Dungan of the Piedmont team is one of the most expert advisors in aquatic matters on the Pacific Coast. His reputation extends all the way from Coronado Beach to Portland. There are few men on the coast who have such a complete knowledge of water sports. With the men assembled under him it will not be surprising to find that the Olympic swimmers will have a hard nut to break in the Piedmont Swimming Club.

CALIFORNIANS ARE EASY WINNERS

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—California's tennis stars are more than holding their own here in the big tourney. W. M. Johnson outclassed Washburn of New York; Norris Williams won a hard four game match from Craig Biddle; Clarence Griffin of San Francisco defeated Dick Stevens. In the doubles Griffin and Johnson easily defeated Leroy and Paul of New York, while Washburn and Williams won from Watters and McKinney.

TARGET MONARCHS MEETING TODAY AT SHELLMOUND

Winner Will Tour World Free at Expense of Those He Defeats Today.

One of the main events of today's big shoot at Shell Mound will be the contest between the Schuetzen King William Glindemann, Silver Jubilee King Fritz Hagemann and Golden Jubilee King P. F. Rathjens. All three are known to be crack shots and as the winner in this event will get a free trip around the world, the expenses to be paid by the losers, all the interest is centered on this contest.

The contest between the Directors' Team and the Centennial Team is another feature of the program which attracts widespread attention. About $35,750 cash prizes will be distributed today, besides a great number of trophies and medals.

Here are some of the prominent shooters who will participate in the main events: Ed. J. Goetze, Wm. Goetze, Chas. Thierbach, Nick Ahrens, Theo. Dierks, Wm. F. Garms, Capt. J. D. Heise, E. Pohli, Geo. A. Pattberg, champion shot on the point target; Wm. G. Hoffmann, whose feats on the German ring target is the talk of the town; G. Armstrong, the crack pistol shot F. Azzerotti, who holds the record on the bull's eye target; Capt. H. W. Gaetjen and Chr. Iverson, whose last contest on the military target resulted in a tie; C. Weggenmann, who scored the most points on the King target; Lieut. J. F. Mues, whose shooting records up-to-date give him a fair chance to be proclaimed champion pistol and revolver shot of the Panama-Pacific Shooting Festival; H. Lueneburg, H. Intemann, F. Pape and J. H. J. Seyden.

The next shooting will take place on Saturday, August 21. Special events have been provided and the registrations for this day show that a large number of shooters will be present and the management of the Shell Mound range seriously considers the putting up of a few more target stands, as the present twenty stands are taxed to capacity.

The race track at the Exposition is one of the chief points of interest these days, as thousands of sightseers have been wending their way to the race course, located in the westerly end of the grounds, to see the bangtails work out for the races which start on Saturday.

The Exposition handicap to be run on the opening day is attracting the attention of the followers of the sport as a high-class field of thoroughbreds will go into the hands of Starter C. D. Stevens. Some of the experts who watched George Wingfield's sterling performer Celesta perform recently, claim that the mare is the best in America; she will be asked to carry top weight. The entry of Daniels and Hodge, Loftus, is looked upon as a keen rival of Wingfield's entry, having beaten Celesta at the Denver meeting.

The opening day's program is an attractive one. Six races are down for decision. Two handicaps, one purse event and three selling races make up the card. There is no race that is worth less than $300.

The officials of the association will increase the sizes of the purse if the sport warrants it. The association has been formed by sportsmen who are not promoting the meet for financial purposes.

TOM McNAMARA LEADS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Tom McNamara, of Boston, with a score of 153 for the first 36 holes, led the 110 golfers playing in the Western Open Golf Tournament at the Glen Oak club. The Boston professional scored a par, 70, for the 6339-yard links in the morning and three strokes worse in the afternoon round in which he ran a 42 and 36, his score for the second half being the best turned in.

MORSE WINS PRELIMINARY

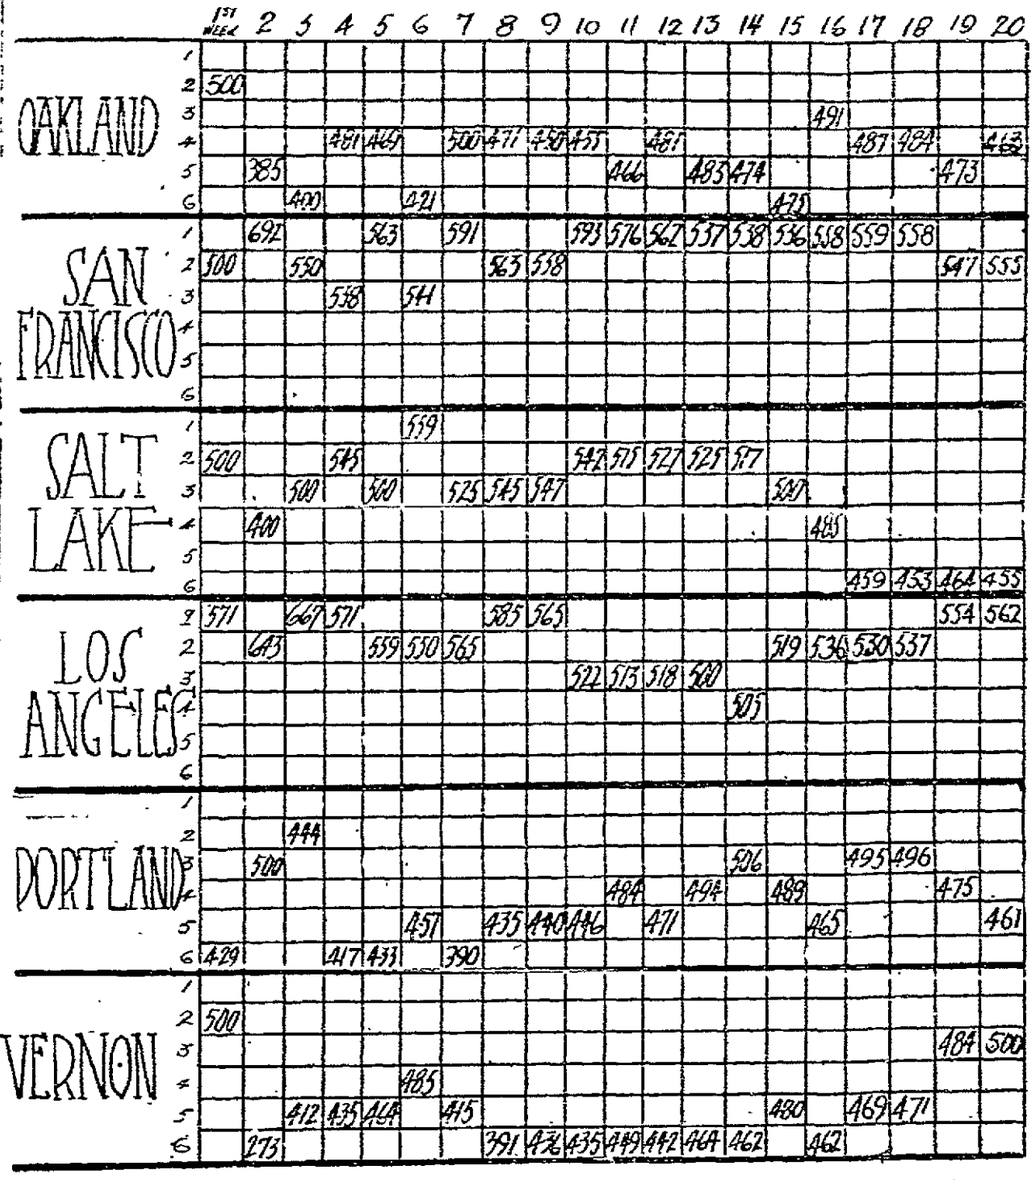
HOW TEAMS HAVE FARED IN 20 WEEKS



The table presented here shows how the six clubs in the Coast League have fared in the twenty weeks of the race which has still nine and a half weeks to run. Oakland has been second but once, and third another time. It has been a second division team for eighteen of the twenty weeks. The Seals have never fallen below third place, and have been the pace setters for twelve weeks. Salt Lake was in first place for one week, while the Angels lead during seven weeks. Portland and Vernon each climbed to second place one week, but Portland has weakened recently, while Vernon is climbing.

Johnny Evers, Broken in Health, Wants to Quit Game and Come to California for Rest

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Johnny Evers, captain of the world's champions, wants to quit baseball at once, go to California and recuperate his health, which is really very poor. He is physically unfit to be on the diamond and his continuance in the game may bring about a dangerous decline. President Gaffney and Manager Stallings have pleaded with Evers to stay with the club while a chance remains to win the pennant. If Evers sticks out this season, it will mean that he will never play ball again. That is the ultimatum the Trojan has handed his superiors, and apparently they are more anxious to try for the flag this year than to preserve to the game the gamest little chap that ever lived.

That determination, refusing to give up even when facing the crisis, has been the secret of Evers' success. He has succeeded where others with the same reverses, physically and financially, would have failed. He has been up and down in wealth and health, and, now, down in health, he can quit the game and still live a life of luxury.

CAREER A CHECKERED ONE.

Injuries, illness and financial reverses have featured Evers' career on the diamond. A pen picture of his life would fill a volume. It has not been free and easy, but with one worry after another. We will cite a few important incidents of his memorable career.

In 1909 was automobile riding in Chicago when the car crashed into a street car, and the driver, a Chicago sporting writer and bosom chum, was killed. Evers was thrown from the car, and it was a miracle that he escaped death. Slightly injured, but recovered.

In September, 1910, broke his left ankle sliding into home. Could not play in the world's series against the Athletics, and the Cubs, for the first time, were beaten for the title. Baseball critics declared Evers' absence lost the series.

In the winter of 1910-1911 opened a shoe store with Charley Williams, then secretary of the Cubs, in Chicago. Invested all of his money in the store, but it was a failure and he was broke.

In 1912 opened another shoe store in his home town, Troy, N. Y. Invested his season's salary. Appointed a business associate manager to look after affairs while he was playing ball in the summer. The friend disappeared mysteriously one day with all the cash on hand, some $5500, and John did not recover a cent.

1914—Signed with the Boston Braves. Received $25,000 from President Gaffney, who took up the Chicago contract, which was $10,000 per. Forced the Boston club to give him $2500 when Bill Sweeney was sold to the Cubs, as he did not want Murphy to profit by his move to Boston. Received $2812 for playing in the world's series, and with his $10,000 salary made $40,343 for the 1914 season.

1914—Daughter died and he refused to play for ten days after the death of the child.

1914—Contracted pneumonia at the National League meeting in December and for a time hovered betwen life and death. Discharged his doctors one day, and against their orders got out of bed.

1915—Suffered broken ankle in April, and did not play again until July.

WITH IT ALL HE'S A STAR.

And still Trojan Jawn is regarded as one of the stars of the diamond. He has been in an automobile accident that caused the death of his pal; he has been broke twice, although he always made big money; he has a fortune again; he saw his mates lose a world's championship because he was a cripple and could not play; he was fired by a magnate after signing a five-year contract; his daughter died; he conquered pneumonia when the physicians declared he could not recover, and now he may refuse to quit the game because his boss sees the big profit of winning the pennant and playing in the world's series.

The 1915 report does not cover Jawn's territory complete. It must be remembered that he was accused of saying something about the National League race being fixed. He was tried, but the verdict was not guilty; just the same he was criticised throughout the country for this incident. He took a punch at Umpire Quigley, and was fined $100. He had another row with Quigley, which finished in an argument with Clarke of the Pirates and brought a suspension of three days.

STANFORD GETS STAR 440 RUNNER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—George Green, Pomona college track and field captain for 1916, will leave next week for Palo Alto, where he will enter Stanford University.

Green will enter the law department of the Cardinal institution. He could not get Blackstone at Pomona, so decided to switch to Stanford.

Green is the best 440-yard man in the south. He has covered the distance in close to 50 seconds. On account of his stellar work last spring he was chosen captain for the coming season.

This makes the second athletic leader for the coming year to leave the Ilum institution for other schools. Just a few days ago Frank McCulloch, the football leader, departed for California and now Green makes ready to enroll at Stanford.

The loss of Green is a severe blow to Pomona on the cinders. George was always good for first in the quarter-mile event and a lap in the relay.

He expects to stay at Stanford two years. He will not be eligible in the coming track season, but will be able to compete in 1916.

BILLINGS BUYS WILLIAM.

Dillon Outgenerals Seals, Which Explains It All

Displays Better Judgment in Pinch Hitters and Pinch Pitchers

(By BILLY FITZ.)

Harry Wolverton is not dead on any alibis for himself by emptying [illegible] and [illegible] of [illegible] after the [illegible] defeats [illegible] by Pug Dillon's southerners. The Angels won after nearly creaming [illegible] for the [illegible] Drop [illegible] to [illegible] Wolverton did [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] Dillon outgeneraled Wolverton all the way through the contest. That's the solemn and unadorned truth, nicely [illegible] the best team with [illegible]

We've had great struggles these two teams have given the fans in the past two years. There was plenty of the old "slug, slug, slug" stuff that the fans love to see, with each team refusing to admit defeat, and each leader calling upon every possible force at his command. Twenty-five players were used in yesterday's game, [illegible] including sixteen. When the game was in the final stages, the silver-haired leader of the north, and his bat boy were the only occupants of the Angel bench. Dillon used four pitchers and had Paul Perritt warming up in the [illegible] in the ninth ready to shoot him in as the sixth.

When Wolverton ordered Ellis walked in the eighth inning he made a mistake, for Dillon sent up Harry Wolter to bat in place of Zeb Terry and Harry worked Reisigl for a pass, filling up the bases. This young Johnny Rawlein was due at the bat and this time Dillon showed his judgment by sending Jack Ryan to the plate instead, and Ryan hit the first ball into right field for a clean blow that scored two runs and put a man on third who scored a moment later on a sacrifice fly.

ANGELS LEAD AGAIN.

This put the Angels in the lead once again by three runs. The Seals came right back at the enemy again, Schmidt singling, Brown flying out and Fitzgerald getting a life with a biff in the slats. Schaller walked, filling the bases. Just about then the cry of "emery ball" went up, and Wolverton, Boles, Meloan, Bodie, Ryan and Umpire Brashear argued, wrangled, examined and debated while the fans yelled for action. Schaller finally succeeded in convincing the ump that the ball then in use had been nicked and it was discarded. Meloan forced Schaller at second, Schmidt scoring. Bodie came to bat and Ryan sent two remarkable curves over the plate, Ping missing them a foot. Bodie shrieked that Ryan was using the "mudball" this time, though there wasn't any mud within a mile, and hasn't been since March. Nevertheless, Wolverton contended that the Angel pitcher was putting a gob of dirt on the ball and holding it in such a manner that it's "break" was abnormal.

DIDN'T LOOK THAT WAY.

To an unprejudiced bystander it looked [illegible] one of his good days. We've seen him pitch that well three years ago, before the emery ball or mud ball was dreamed of. Anyway, Bodie smashed a terrific liner at Metzger and the Angel third-sacker froze to the ball for the final out.

Tiller Cavet made a sorry showing in the first two innings, the Angels pounding him for six runs in the second inning. After that it was a plucky up-hill fight for the Seals, who finally drove Hughes from the box, did the same thing to Scoggins and Williams and came within an ace of winning. Reisigl lost the game but appeared to better advantage than he had yet. Score:

BEER WINS HIS GAME, BUT PRUIETT IS POUNDED HARD

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19. — Oakland and Vernon split a doubleheader, the latter taking the opener, 6 to 5, and the Oaks the other, 4 to 3. The initial season was a slugging match, in which Pruiett was driven from the rubber in the seventh inning. The Oaks' lone run was made on Tobin's single, an error and McArdle's single. Without got a looker in the fourth. Beer was invincible in the second game. The Tigers rallied in the ninth, pounding out three singles which netted two runs.

EXTENDING AND OPENING TWENTY-EIGHTH STREET AND WIDENING WEBSTER STREET AND BROADWAY.

STREET SUPERINTENDENT'S NOTICE REQUIRING PAYMENT OF ASSESSMENT.

In compliance with the law, notice is hereby given that on the 17th day of August, A. D. 1915, I received from the City Clerk and Clerk of the Council of the City of Oakland a certified copy of the written report, assessment and plat accompanying same, made by the Commissioners appointed by the Council of the City of Oakland to assess benefits and damages and have general supervision of the proposed work and improvement of extending and opening Twenty-eighth Street, in the City of Oakland, California, from Webster Street to Broadway, and widening Webster Street and Broadway from Twenty-eighth Street southerly all as described in and in compliance with Resolution of Intention No. 7581 N. S. of the Council of said City of Oakland, passed on the 4th day of March, A. D. 1915, which said report, assessment and plat were filed by the Commissioners in the office of the Clerk of the Council of the City of Oakland on the 29th day of June, A. D. 1915, which said report, assessment and plat were finally confirmed, approved and adopted by the Council of the City of Oakland at a meeting of said Council held on the 12th day of August, A. D. 1915, by its Resolution No. 11902 N. S., and that said assessment therein contained is now due and payable and is a lien upon all property contained and described therein and is therein assessed for a proportion of the cost of said improvement as shown by said assessment.

Notice is also given that all sums levied and assessed in and by said assessment roll are due and payable immediately and that the payment of each of said sums respectively, is to be made to me within thirty days from August 19th, A. D. 1915, and that all assessments not paid before the expiration of said 30 days will become and will be declared to be delinquent, and that thereafter the sum of five (5) per cent of the amount of each such delinquent assessment, together with the cost of advertising each such delinquent assessment will be added thereto.

Dated this 19th day of August, A. D. 1915.

MARTIN STREET EXTENDING AND OPENING.

NOTICE OF SALE—DELINQUENT LIST

Office of the Superintendent of Streets of the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, August 19th A. D. 1915.

Public notice is hereby given that default having been made in the payment of the several amounts due upon the real property hereinafter described and assessed thereon for the cost and expenses of extending and opening Martin Street, from Ayala Avenue to Hermann Street, in the City of Oakland, California, in accordance with Resolution of Intention No. 4829 N. S. of the Council of the City of Oakland, passed February 20th, A. D. 1913, as per report of Commissioners filed with the Clerk of said Council of said City on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1915, and as finally confirmed, approved and adopted by the Council of the City of Oakland, at a meeting of said Council held on the 6th day of July, A. D. 1915, by its Resolution No. 11770 N. S.

NOW, THEREFORE I, PERRY F. BROWN, Superintendent of Streets of said City of Oakland, will on the 19th day of September, A. D. 1915, at the hour of 10 A. M., in my office, being in the building known as the City Hall, in said City, commence to sell said real property at public auction unless the assessments delinquent, together with the costs of advertising at the rate of fifty (50) cents per lot, piece or parcel of land, separately assessed and advertised as delinquent and percentages are paid, and that I will continue said sale until the whole property herein set forth or so much thereof as may be necessary shall be sold, and that I will sell the smallest quantity of each lot, piece or parcel of said real property that will be taken by any person for the amount of the assessment, percentages and said costs of advertising remaining due and unpaid thereon, together with the sum of fifty (50) cents provided by law for each certificate of sale.

CONDITIONS: Real property will be sold subject to redemption within twelve (12) months from the date of sale by payment to the purchaser, the Superintendent of Streets of said City of Oakland, of the purchase money, and fifty (50) per cent in addition thereto, but if not so redeemed, absolute conveyance of the real property so sold will be made to the purchaser or his assignee, provided notice shall have been given as required by Section 3755 of the Political Code of the State of California, as said section existed on the first day of January, A. D. 1895, otherwise upon the purchaser or his assignee having fully complied with the provisions of said section applicable thereto.

NOTICE: The numbers in the first column denote the several lots, pieces or parcels of land designated by the corresponding numbers upon that certain plat entitled "PLAT SHOWING lands to be taken for and district to be assessed to pay the expenses of extending and opening Martin Street, from Ayala Avenue to Hermann Street, in the City of Oakland, California, all as described in and in compliance with Resolution No. 4829 N. TOURNEY TO TAKE PUSHBALL'S PLACE

Watery Tug-of-War and Jousting Matches for College Classmen.

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—The traditional pushball contest is to be no more, according to decision of the executive board of the University of California. The freshmen and sophomore hosts will not use this form of contest to determine their supremacy this year, but instead will participate in a contest Saturday which is wholly different.

The two classes will meet in a varied program consisting of a tug-of-war, a [illegible] water polo game and jousting combats. The first proved to be a success at California day, last semester, and is an enjoyable feature for the spectators while not so enjoyable for the losing side as [illegible] are drenched [illegible] a hose upon which is playing a high-power water hose.

Because of a lack of versatility and interest the pushball contest was abandoned and this new form of battle substituted which will prove more of a contest and will liven up the day.

CLASS WAR CONTINUES.

Five freshmen furnished amusement last night for more than 20 of their [illegible] miles, the sophomores, when they were forced to parade the streets of this city singing the '18 songs and giving shouts of praise for their oppressors and groans for the first year men.

Unlike any previous roundup, the affair assumed the form of a progressive party, entertainment being furnished in front of one of Berkeley's moving picture theaters and also before a candy shop and Stiles hall.

At the first place the babe captives were forced to entertain all those coming out of the theater with vocal selections and at times one of the unlucky prisoners would be forced to approach a member of the feminine sex who chanced to pass and on bended knees, plead for his fate, at times holding [illegible] fair one's hand if she proved equal to the occasion.

Following the first episode, the procession moved through Berkeley's streets and concerts were staged at various prominent corners, much to the enjoyment of sophomore hosts and also citizens of this city who chanced to pass.

NOTED PROFESSOR TO OCCUPY PULPIT

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—Dr Horace M. Kallen of the philosophy department of the University of Wisconsin will occupy the pulpit of the First Hebrew Congregation of Berkeley Friday evening. Dr. Kallen is touring the country in the interests of the Intercollegiate Menoreh Association. He has written several books, among them "William James and Henri Bergson." Dr. Kallen will speak before the congregation on "The Stake of the Jewish People in the Great War." The public is cordially invited to attend.

FIRST JUDGMENT WON IN ELEVATOR SUITS

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19. — The first judgment as a result of the elevator accident in the California-Pacific building, San Francisco, last January, in which two men lost their lives and several were seriously injured was rendered by a jury before Judge Hunt yesterday.

Mrs. Della B. Fitting of Alameda was granted $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Harold H. Fitting, a civil engineer. The judgment is against Mrs. Mary Merrill, owner of the building. Mrs. Fitting asked $100,000.

CHURCH WOMEN WILL HEAR VISITING CLERICS

BERKELEY, Aug. 19. — In connection with the synod of the eighth province of the Episcopal church, a meeting for women under the auspices of the woman's auxiliary will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Mark's parish house, Bancroft way near Ellsworth street. Addresses will be made by visiting bishops and missionaries.

TO VISIT FORESTERS.

BERKELEY, Aug. 19 — Mrs. Lulu Lehman, the grand chief of the Foresters of America will pay an official visit September 1 to Bay View Circle, No. 1052, in the Native Sons hall, Berkeley. She was deputy of this circle previous to her election as grand president. Accompanying her will be a corps of officers of the order.

OFFICIAL ON VACATION.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19.—Deputy Auditor Ernest Mayrisch is now enjoying his two-weeks' annual vacation and has gone to his ranch at Boulder Creek, where his family has been for several months. Mayrisch finds much relaxation from his duties in the wilds of the Santa Cruz mountains.

TO LECTURE ON MEXICO.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19.—Professor Frederick Monsen will this evening deliver an illustrated lecture before the Unitarian club on "Turbulent Mexico." The affair will be a ladies' night, with music by prominent soloists.

ALAMEDA PERSONALS

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Mildred Husbands and Mrs. Ernest D. Porter arrived on the Wilhelmina from Honolulu, having shortened their stay in the islands on their return trip from the Orient.

Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Brown of this city are among the guests at Mt. Forest resort in the High Sierras near Towle.

Professor and Mrs. Halcott Moreno (Adele Brown) have returned from their honeymoon trip, which included a visit to the Big Basin and a trip to St. Louis, where they visited the former's relatives. They are now established in their home on the campus at Stanford University, where Professor Moreno is a member of the faculty of the university.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown are back from their wedding journey and have taken up their residence in Oakland, at 488 Coronado avenue. They spent their honeymoon in the Feather river country, at Quincy.

Beverley Allen, who has been made Professor of English in the University of Nevada, is home for the League of Cities convention and the N. E. A. Professor Allen, who is an Alamedan and a former student at the local high school, is a delegate to the League of Cities convention.

Miss Marion Hall, sister of James Evelyn Hall and George William Hall of this city, has returned to this coast after an absence of a year, during which time she has been the guest of friends in New York.

Miss Mary Pond, who has been away from Alameda for the past six months at [illegible] where she has spent the half year in St. Helena, has returned to Alameda much improved in health.

Mrs. Sumner Loop and daughter, Miss Virginia Loop, have returned from a visit to Tahoe, where they were guests at the tavern for a few weeks.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Norman C. Bates (Helen Sargent) yesterday arrived home from Carmel, where they spent the greater part of their honeymoon. Lieutenant Bates will leave later on for New York.

Mrs. E. Nolle of this city is a guest of Mrs. J. C. Dumas at the Powell cottage, Lagunitas, near Hayward.

WOMEN DOMINATE PEACE SECTIONS OF EUROPE

MISS HALLY PORTER, BERKELEY TEACHER, WHO SERVED IN WAR ZONE, AND HER PUPILS.

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—That there is no weakening in the determination of the allies to drive the armies of Germany back within the borders of the empire is the impression received by Miss Hallie Porter, sister of Mrs. F. W. Searby of 1719 Euclid avenue, who has just returned from a visit to Italy, France and England. Everywhere during her six months' residence in the warring countries she found the spirit of national honor fanned to a white heat with no signs of faltering before the smashing blows of the Teutonic military machine.

"I believe that France and England are just finding their strength after the surprise of the first attack," said Miss Porter this morning. "The preparations that Germany had been making for forty years did not seem to have been fully realized, and neither of the two countries was ready to meet the emergency.

"As far as my personal experience goes, I found Paris safer as a place of residence than London. There were several aerial raids while I was there, and a few bombs were dropped in the city without doing much damage. The defensive work of the French aviators is wonderful, and the people of Paris have the utmost confidence in their alertness.

WOMEN PREDOMINATE.

"The strangest effect of the war upon Parisian life is the predominance of women in the vocations of everyday life. They are acting as tram conductors, running elevators, driving vehicles and cheerfully doing unwonted tasks as their part of the national defense.

"The American hospital in Paris, which I visited, is the most complete and efficacious in its work. Organized by the American colony shortly after the outbreak of the war, it is staffed almost entirely by American surgeons and nurses, and their services are highly appreciated by the French. In fact, I found the warmest feelings toward America and Americans in both France and America.

"Italy, that land which is usually thronged with tourists, I found practically deserted by foreigners. My visit there was made some time before Italy declared war, but I realized that the inevitable would happen, for the troops were being mobilized before I left and before any declaration of intention had been made to the outside world."

GIRL IS ANGERED BY WIFE'S CHARGES

"Just Office Help," She Says and Not Charlie Bone's Affinity.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19. — Miss Emily Strand of Alameda is the affinity of Charles Bone, according to allegations in a remarkable suit which has been filed by Mrs. Margeret Bone against Miss Strand. Charges which Miss Strand indignantly denies and an unusual premarital contract with her husband are features of the suit. Miss Strand, a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Strand of 2025 Buena Vista avenue, declares that she and Bone have been merely good friends.

Mrs. Bone asks for $50,000 for alienation of affection and sets up the charge that her husband left her in July, 1911, transferring his love to Miss Strand. She asks for recovery of a half interest in San Mateo property, alleging that it is partnership holding, because of a prenuptial agreement with Bone. The suit for divorce was filed by Mrs. Bone against her husband last January, after 23 years of married life. Bone is well known in Oakland, having been manager of the McDermott estate.

According to the statement of the wife, Bone was working for a small salary when they were married, and that she had an income. This financial condition is given as the reason for the agreement and partnership. Mrs. Bone also has a suit pending for separate maintenance, there being three suits filed by her in connection with her marital differences.

Miss Strand denies the charges made in the suit brought by Mrs. Bone and declares that she was employed by Bone to do office work and there was nothing but ordinary friendship between them. The Bones have no children. Mrs. Bone resides at 1207 Bush street, San Francisco.

NEEDS MORE THAN HONOR TO SUPPORT BRASS BAND

HAYWARD, Aug. 19—"Musicians, like other men, cannot live on their honor of being of service alone," says a spokesman of the Hayward band in explaining to inquirers why this city has no weekly band concerts.

"Musicians have been drawn through the sieve of hard times this year," he continues. "The European war, industrial inactivity and the excise edict relative to selling liquors at dances have been alternately blamed and exonerated. It is realized that these are only indirectly responsible. Demands for free music have been found more or less directly responsible. A bandstand on the public plaza and more patronage and encouragement are its cure, the local concert band considers.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS GREETED BY UNION

Alameda Hears Noted Women on Susan B. Anthony Amendment.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19—Green Majors opened the meeting held at the Helert auditorium when three distinguished women talked on the Susan B. Anthony amendment and the purpose of the Congressional Union to "see it through" the next session of Congress. Majors introduced Miss Anita Whitney, chairman of the evening, to the audience made up of some of the ardent supporters of the cause of woman's suffrage in the campaign of 1911.

With Miss Whitney was Miss Doris Stevens, New York organizer of the Women Voters' convention, which is to be held in San Francisco, from September 13 to September 18, and which will close with a big mass meeting on the evening of the sixteenth in Scottish Rite hall, when the speakers will be Francis Heney, Mrs. [illegible] Paul, Caul Laughlin and J. Stitt Wilson with others.

Miss Whitney reminded the women of their obligation to help their sisters throughout the union and said, "I am grateful to the Congressional Union for bringing the old supporters together to tell again the thrill of the 1911 campaign. Though we look with pride at the solid white of the west, there is the solid black of the east and south, and we of California feel that we cannot lay down our arms until the rights we enjoy are shared by the women of other states in the union."

Mrs. George Sturgis, wife of Ex-Congressman Sturgis of West Virginia, spoke a few words on "The Susan B. Anthony amendment from the standpoint of a Southern woman. She told of some of the abuses in the factories, mills and coal mines, and of opposition to the child labor law.

"There is work for us to do in getting the right to help in the control of this country," said Mrs. Doris Stevens, "to help in the altering of conditions of which we are not proud. We are not asking for a revolution but merely to extend a thing that has been for the best. We have to get a new idea of nationalism. No foreign government ever recognized the rights of states in time of stress. We [illegible] women of the nation depending on us serve and ready to give our best to the state.

"Nothing begets power like power. Men find out how to accumulate power. Women should concentrate their power now and make it votes of women, make national government feel the pressure of women. No state should hereafter have the right to disenfranchise a woman because she is a woman but should protect her rights. State discrimination should be prohibited."

TAKES HIS LIFE, AS WIFE DID BEFORE HIM

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19. — After calmly seeking to send his mother and children from home that he might end his life, Edward J. Ehrenpfort, former policeman, sent a bullet into his brain. Ehrenpfort went into his bathroom and placing the revolved point at his temple, pulled the trigger.

Ehrenport's mother heard the shot and summoned the police, who removed the wounded man to the Emergency hospital, where he died at 1 o'clock this morning.

About five months ago the suicide's wife ended her life and since that time her husband had been despondent. He was 39 years of age and a native of San Francisco. Two little daughters survive him.

GIVES SEWING BEE FOR MATRON FROM NEW YORK

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Charles Livingston Acker was the inspiration for the sewing bee given by Mrs. Robert B. Valleau at her home at San Jose avenue and Union street, when sixteen of the old friends of the New York matron were guests.

Mrs. Bayard Nourse will entertain with a sewing bee Friday next and Miss Rosslett Henderson will hostess a like affair Tuesday of next week, and Mrs Percy Wood will make Mrs. Acker, who was Miss Laura Sargent, her honored guest at another affair Thursday of next week.

AUTO TOURISTS FROM NEW YORK AT ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19.—The trip from New York to this city is one which most motorists would not essay, but two guests registered at the Crescent Hotel have just made the trip, and are now enjoying the exposition. They are Charles P. Richmond of Salvador, Central America, and his chauffeur, Wm. S. Holdrum, of New York. The visitors arrived in this city Tuesday in an automobile, which was decorated with banners reading "From New York to the Pacific." The Easterners selected Alameda as their headquarters while in this part of the state. They will spend about a week in touring the adjacent country and in visiting the exposition.

ROOF FIRE PUT OUT.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19.—A roof fire in the home at 1187 Regent street called out the fire department. The occupants were moving and had placed waste paper in the fireplace. This, when ignited, went up through the chimney and set the shingles afire. The damage was slight.

BALTIMORE PASTOR TO SPEAK.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19. — Rev. L. B. Wolf of Baltimore, general secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Lutheran church, will speak Sunday evening at Christ Lutheran church, on Haight avenue, near Webster street, this city.

BABE DIES OF BLOWS

Meningitis Follows an Insane Attack

BERKELEY, Aug. 19. — In the horrible beating administered a few weeks ago to little Florence Hendry by a certain girl with keen eyesight means, physicians and police have found, the skeleton in the closet which led to the baby's death at the home of its parents, Mr and Mrs. John E. Hendry of 114 Los Angeles avenue. The woman, who so cruelly whipped the child in a moment of insane delirium is already before the records of the law in the Ukiah asylum for the insane.

She is Mrs. Anna McLennan. For two days she had been employed by Hendry, who is an insurance adjuster, and his wife. On the second day in the absence of the family, she fell upon the girl, but two years and a half old, and beat her until her body was covered with welts and bruises and until the police, summoned by neighbors, had arrived and forced her into manacles.

The supposed cause of little Florence's death was spinal meningitis, but Dr. Clara Burnham, though sufficiently assured to assign that as a cause for death in the death certificate, still is pursuing his own investigation of the case to determine the exact nature of the child's ailment. The frequent basis of meningitis in injuries of a traumatic nature is given as an added reason for supposing the child's hurts led directly to her death.

About Mrs. McLennon little was known in this city. In San Francisco in July she was tried for insanity after threatening murder and at the hearing of her case her husband testified that she had left him without cause and that she had previously been [illegible] of her [illegible]

WINS CONFIDENCE.

She answered an advertisement [illegible] as she secured a situation [illegible] period, she as well Mrs. [illegible] as effective as to be left in charge of little Florence and an older [illegible] on the second afternoon of her employment.

In the middle of the afternoon, neighbors heard a child's cries of agony from the house and a woman's shrieks. They ran into the place to find Mrs. McLennan beating the baby with her fists and a piece of wood she had found. They tore the child from her grasp and carried her to safety, then informing the police.

Officers arrived to find Mrs. McLennan lying on the floor in the climax of a mad spell. With difficulty she was subdued and taken to police headquarters, where she yielded to medical treatment and was so much improved as to be released the following day. Her arrest in San Francisco and incarceration in Ukiah followed several weeks later.

Meanwhile, although the Hendry baby received [illegible] of her injuries, her health steadily failed. Last week she was taken so seriously ill that Dr. Burnham was called and pronounced her trouble meningitis. At the last Dr. T. C. McClevie was called into consultation, but the physicians' united efforts were fruitless and the baby sank rapidly to her death.

NEWMAN CLUB TO GREET FRESHMEN AT BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Aug. 19. — The official welcome of the Newman Club, the organization of Catholic students of the University of California, to the freshman class will be extended on Friday night in Newman Hall, when the officers of the club will be hosts to the incoming students. An informal reception was held yesterday afternoon at an "open house."

Vocal and instrumental solos and short talks will constitute the program of the evening. Among those who will furnish the musical numbers are Miss Irene Grady, Miss Grace Grady and Miss Helene Sheridan. Talks by J. V. Kimber, president of the Newman Club; Miss Gertrude Cullen and C. W. Sullivan on matters of interest to freshmen have been arranged.

MANY ATTEND SERVICE FOR ROBERT COLBURN

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19.—The funeral services for Robert D. Colburn, whose tragic death was the result of an accident a few weeks ago, were held from his late residence, 1312 Clinton avenue. The Rev. George R. Dodson conducted the services and referred feelingly to the passing of Colburn in the prime of his young manhood and to the bereavement of the loving wife, a bride of but six months, and the devoted mother and brother. Music by the Golden Gate quartet formed part of the simple, but impressive, services, which were attended by many of the friends and companions in this city. Many who were not present as well as the nearer friends sent outward expression of their sympathy and grief in the floral offerings which filled every part of the home and were banked about the casket, which was borne from the home by six of his boyhood friends, Ernest D. Porter, W. H. Bissell, Hamilton Murdock, Percy Murdock, Edwin Thomas, and Clifford Dennis. Incineration was at the California Crematory.

GRANTED FELLOWSHIP.

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—Harry L. Jones, a graduate of last May of the University of California, and for the past year manager of the Daily Californian, the student newspaper, has been appointed to one of the business fellowships recently created by New York university. The incumbents of these fellowships are to devote part of their time to service in one or another of certain great New York corporations which are co-operating with the plan, while the rest of their time is to be spent in graduate study in New York university in courses specially planned to prepare them for successful careers in business administration.

SQUEAKING KIDNEYS

Do not hesitate to promptly heed the warning your kidneys give you when they begin to lag in their work. When you feel those little "squeaky" pains in the "small of the back;" loss of appetite; highly colored urine; weariness you cannot account for—it means that your kidneys are not doing their work properly. The result may be fatal if neglected.

The remedy is a simple matter if you act promptly. Go to your druggist and get a box of genuine GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Haarlem Oil has been a standard remedy for all kidney and bladder troubles since 1696. It is imported direct from the ancient laboratories at Haarlem, Holland. Be sure you get the genuine GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. No substitute will give the proper result. Prices, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Your money positively refunded if you do not get prompt relief, and soon feel the old-time "ginger" of youth. Guaranteed and sold by the Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

SERVICE CONDUCTED FOR MRS. SARAH GASSELL

BERKELEY, Aug. 19. — Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Wight Lasell, a resident of Berkeley for the last sixteen years, who died suddenly on Tuesday morning as she was starting for a visit to the Exposition, were held this morning at the family home, 1947 Dwight way. Following the services, the body was taken to Martinez, the former home of Mrs. Lasell, and interment was made in the family plot in Alhambra cemetery.

Mrs. Lasell was born near Cornwall in Contra Costa county and was 56 years of age. She was a member of the Twentieth Century Club and actively interested in other women's organizations. Her death, which came as a shock to the family, was due to an attack of heart failure which seized her on a Key Route train as she was on her way to San Francisco.

She is survived by her husband, L. M. Lasell, who is president of the Alhambra Natural Mineral Water company and proprietor of a mercantile store in Martinez; two sons, L. W. Lasell and Ernest F. Lasell; a daughter, Mrs. Cora Lasell Brown, a sister, Mrs. S. A. Sellers, and her father, R. H. Wight.

URGE TRADE AT HOME POLICY FOR SCHOOLS

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19. — That the board of education urge all contractors who are awarded contracts for new school buildings to employ Alameda labor and patronize Alameda tradesmen is the burden of a resolution which has been adopted by the Alameda city council. The resolution also urges the school directors to employ Alameda architects, if possible. The measure was submitted by Council President E. B. Bullock and unanimously adopted by the council.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 19. — Fire of unknown origin last evening destroyed a barn of the Peoples Water company, located on Postoffice court, near Park avenue. One horse was burned in the flames, and a quantity of hay was destroyed. The fire department confined the blaze to the building, although other wooden structures adjoined it.

N. Y. MARKET AT STANDSTILL

STEEL AND CANADIAN PACIFIC FIRM

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—American Securities on the stock market were quiet today. Prices hardened near the close under the leadership of United States Steel and Canadian Pacific. The closing was steady.

Prices broke with some violence just before 1:30 o'clock when Wall street received word of the sinking of the Arabic. The market, which had been rather irregular except in the war group, turned suddenly active and weak.

NEW YORK STOCK TRANSACTIONS

LINER'S SINKING AFFECTS STOCKS

Effort May Be Made to Start Big Selling Movement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—News of the sinking of a British liner reached the San Francisco Stock Exchange when trading was absolutely at a standstill and the tendency was to approach mining investments with the utmost caution. If the facts are as serious as intimated there will probably be an effort to bring about a selling movement, which up to this time has been discouraged by the continued existence of a short interest and a knowledge that Goldfield and Tonopah prices are about as low as they may be expected to go under normal conditions.

There was light trading in Goldfields today, with Jumbo unsold at $1.55; Merger Mines strong and in demand at 21c, and Kewanas higher with sales at 12c. The Tonopahs were neglected. Great Bend was the target for a number of buying orders and the price advanced form 5c to 6c when selling stopped.

What is Castoria

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Pure Beer Is Next to Milk As Energy Builder

And Doesn't Make You Bilious

The Brown Bottle keeps Schlitz pure and wholesome until it is poured into your glass. It costs no more than light bottle beer.

PEACE DOVE HOVERS OVER AUDITORIUM

Great Gathering of N. E. A. Delegates in Municipal Edifice Give Voice to Song.

Peace, the dominating note of the fifty-third convention of the National Educational Association being held here was given further impetus when Glenn H. Woods, director of music in Oakland schools, led a great gathering in the auditorium theater in the singing of peace songs. A happy response was made to the vigorous leadership of the Oakland singing master and the entire building rang with the songs for world peace.

The evening session of the department congress of music education was marked by the interpretation of music as given in Japan, Hawaii, Hindu China and the Philippines. Short sketches were given by representatives of those countries, followed by the native music. The Japanese representative, K. S. Inui, said:

UNIVERSAL PEACE TOPIC.

In addition to Miss Grace Smith of Berkeley, Charles H. Miller of Lincoln, Nebraska, was to have appeared for an address before the congress, but was compelled to cancel the engagement at the last minute. In lieu of the Miller address, Edward Berwick, acting president of the American School Peace League, addressed the audience upon the subject of universal peace.

While Miss Alice M. Bumbaugh of the Fremont High School, Oakland, was giving her lecture on high school harmony, four young women, Dorothy Seely, Gladys Washburn, Connie Keefer and Irene Piper, demonstrated the theory on blackboards placed upon the stage. For further demonstration of her ideas on harmony as it should be in the high schools of the country, Miss Bumbaugh offered songs by Mrs. Stella Coughlin Jelica; Irene Copeland, with a choral by Mrs. Edith Hibbert, Mrs. Clarence Page, Dan Adamson and Clarence Castell. A chorus consisted of Margaret Grier, Helen Force, Bessie Dunn, Elaine Mosco, Irene Piper, Florence Rodriquez, Hermine Brauer and Bernice Tutt. Miss Lydia Roberts and Douglas Lyle Gould were at the piano.

The departmental congress on educational investigation opened and closed its business yesterday with three sessions. The meetings were held in the main room of the auditorium with Robert J. Aley presiding. Three speakers discussed the general topic of the future outlook and possibilities of American education during the evening session. Miss Grace Strachan spoke on "Elementary Education."

EDUCATION TRACED.

Payson Smith, state superintendent of schools of Maine; Frank Strong, chancellor of the University of Kansas, Harry E. Wilson, superintendent of schools of Topeka, Kansas, took up the topic of the present activity and accomplishments of American education. They traced a long list of deeds performed through the channels of education and predicted even greater strides during the next decade.

The departmental congress on physical education closed its sessions last night in Scottish Rite Hall with a general discussion of the educational value of playground and an address by Albert E. Winship of Boston, Mass. In the discussion on playgrounds appeared John H. Francis, superintendent of schools in Los Angeles, Cal; Frank H. Clark, superintendent of schools in Central City, Colo.; Frederic Burk, president of the State Normal School, in San Francisco, and Richard G. Boone, acting director, school of education, University of California.

Among the speakers in various playground subjects during the session was Harriet W. Thompson of the University of Oregon, who spoke on "Outdoor Sports for Girls." She said:

"The present period is highly transitional for women and finds the majority unprepared to either grasp the situation or to handle themselves efficiently under the changing conditions. Individualism and lack of cooperation are ascribed as the causes. Hence endeavor must be made to counteract the one and develop the other. Study of history, literature, personal experience and physical development throws light upon the subject and suggests a method of procedure.

"From infancy, women have always been unnaturally restricted, physically and mentally, and reach maturity less capable than men. Men have not grown up under like conditions and have developed qualities which enable them to achieve greater progress than women. Therefore, since both are governed by the same laws of growth, the condition under which men have developed must contain elements needed for women's progress.

"That men are free to play from boyhood to old age, unrestricted by tight clothes and convention, and do so, and that women are not so blessed, will account for most of her individualism and lack of co-operation.

"The University of Oregon, cognizant of this and having to provide for recently enfranchised womanhood, has provided a playground for women. Since its operation depends largely upon the weather conditions, its activities are divided into indoor and outdoor exercise, the former emphasizing the development of individual skill and the latter the spirit of play and democracy. In complete operation but two years, it has already resulted in better general health and in a wider acquaintance among the girls."

VALLEJO COUPLE WED.

VALLEJO, Aug. 19. — Manilo Caprini and Miss Mary Mattianda were married at St. Vincent's church Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Father O'Brien, C. P., and the couple are now enjoying their honeymoon trip in the south.

Soap Is Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless) and is better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy; it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

DIGNIFIED EDUCATORS PROVE ABLE DANCERS

The cultured and distinguished educators now gathered in Oakland proved interestingly last evening that they have not neglected their own education in dancing.

At the reception and dance in their honor at the Hotel Oakland last evening they tripped lightly through the latest figures in a manner that proved study, practice and mastership.

The reception was a most happy occasion. An atmosphere of informal, cordial hospitality welcomed the guests, many of whom found their first opportunity to personally greet their noted confreres, and their Oakland hosts.

BALL ROOM CROWDED.

The ivory ball room was crowded and the corridors of the hotel were filled with many of the visitors who strayed from the reception to chat in congenial groups, or form supper parties at tables set in the lounge.

Decorations in the ball room were a simple arrangement of palms and greens. Guests entered from the rose room and were greeted by the reception committee representing the Alameda County Woman's Auxiliary of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club and the Hospitality Committee for the N. E. A., under whose auspices the reception was given. In the corridor at the opposite end of the ball room, punch was served.

There was a picturesque diversity of costume. Many beautiful gowns were worn, and many of the men were in conventional evening clothes. But others were be-spangled. Among the women were silver cloths, cloth of gold costumes, white lace gowns of glistening bullet cuts and taffeta and chiffon effects of velvet. The guests were what they pleased and the independent informality of dress added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

CHARMING RECEIVING LINE.

In the receiving line elaborate evening gowns were the rule. Mrs. A. C. Posey, who was one of the first to greet arriving guests, was attractive in white lace over white satin. Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook wore a very handsome set costume over rose satin, with a sprinkle of pearls.

Mrs. Gordon Stolp was in lavender satin with real lace. Mrs. E. D. Border wore a graceful black crêpon over white silk. Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain was in gray satin with old lace and Mrs. Thomas Hogan also wore gray, a charming costume of soft gray embroidered voile over satin.

LACE OVER SATIN.

Mrs. Joseph Knowland wore white lace over white satin and Miss Eleanor Knowland's costume was a charming effect in salmon pink taffeta and crêpon. Mrs. J. R. Neylan was in black lace and Mrs. John Allen Park of Hayward in apricot satin and lace.

Among other effective costumes was that of Dr. Margaret Shallenberger, of San Jose who is one of the prominent women delegates. She wore black lace over black taffeta. Miss Grace Barnard was in white lace. Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago, who was the center of a group during the evening, was in gray taffeta with a striking band of red across the bodice.

Among the many interesting guests were Dr. David Starr Jordan, Madame Montessori, Baroness Rose Posse, Ferdinand Buisson of France, Professor Tao, a noted savant of China, who is a professor at the University of Pekin, Miss Grace De Graff, Madame Natalie de Morales of Guatemala, and many others.

RAILROAD MEN MEET.

Railroad superintendents from all over the country are gathered in San Francisco today for the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the American Association of Railroad Superintendents at the Hotel Sutter. This morning's program included addresses by Mayor Rolph, President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific, President Charles Burlingame and Vice-President W. R. Burlingame of the Southern Pacific.

DR. JORDAN AGAIN DISCUSSES WAR

not have had it at any price or on any terms whatever. England could have had it, but it would have been dear. Germany did not want it at any price.

"The mission of relief, of assistance to the starving, struggling victims of this horrible thing called war, is the only mission that this country can have at this time. If we went to war we would merely do so over a 'scrap of paper.'"—David Starr Jordan.

PART TEACHERS PLAY.

Dr. David Starr Jordan and Ella Flagg Young were the principal speakers at the banquet in the south room of the Hotel Oakland last evening of the League of Teachers' Associations. Dr. Jordan spoke on war and its effects, and of the teacher's part in the campaign for world peace.

"Teach the children that war is ruinous in every way, that it is barbarous, that it is the worst of economic wastes," he said, "and soon war, hideous, useless war, will be a thing of the past. War is nothing but an excuse for one country to rob the widows, orphans and dependents of another country. It is through teaching the children these truths that international peace will ultimately come."

Mrs. Young's address was short. She spoke on the work of the teacher in the class room, declaring that teachers "must put forth their strength in the pursuit of the object to make the world recognize that actual teaching is the greatest art of any teacher in any school."

D. W. Springer, secretary of the National Education Association, and O. M. Plummer, superintendent of schools at Portland, Ore., also spoke.

HAZEL CARSON TELLS OF BETROTHAL TO GEO. WOODS

FRUITVALE, Aug. 19.—Announcement of the engagement of Miss Hazel Carson, a popular member of the younger set here, and George W. Woods, a young business man, was made this week. The wedding will take place September 3. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Andrew Carson, 3621 Laguna street. Woods is also a resident of Fruitvale. Several affairs are being planned in honor of Miss Carson. The first of these, a miscellaneous shower, will be given at the home of Mrs. Edward McDermed, 2737 Foothill boulevard.

LITTLE LANDERS' SCHEME OF LIFE

Free Lecture That's a Social Document.

"Tell them I went farther on the road to real independence as a Little Lander in six months than I had been able to get in the great city in thirteen years," said a middle-aged carpenter who made his home two years ago in one of the Garden Cities of the Little Lands.

This man, like many mechanics, had been out of work half the time, simply because there are too many carpenters. He consumed in periods of idleness all he could lay by in periods of activity. Result: No progress, and getting a little older all the time.

To depend on somebody else for a job, to pay rent, to buy all he consumed—that is the scheme of city life. How different the Little Lander's scheme of life—

All the advantages of city life, with none of its drawbacks—a happy compromise between the overcrowded town and the lonely country—"a Garden City virtually within the metropolitan district."

Expert teachers to "show you how," organized marketing to take the product at the garden gate and sell it to the swarm of consumers near at hand, a wonderful social and intellectual experience in your own civic center—"for the individual a little land and liberty; for the community, co-operation and efficiency."

Don't fail to hear William E. Smythe's famous illustrated lecture, "Life of the Little Lander," with a hundred speaking pictures, showing the system in operation. It is more than a delightful entertainment—it's a social document of our times. FREE. Everybody invited.

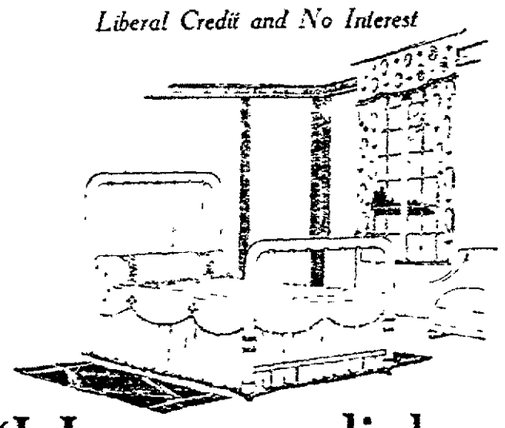
Friday, 2:45 and again at 8:15 p. m., Golden West Hall, Pacific Bldg., 16th and Jefferson sts.

For Little Landers Literature address 303 Phelan Bldg., San Francisco, or 204 First National Bank Bldg., Oakland.—Advertisement.

Liberal Credit and No Interest



'How very light this new bed is'

——"Why, look! I can lift it easily with one hand and roll it across the floor without effort. That ought to be a fine selling point with shrewd housekeepers, for it means no more marring of floors or tearing of rugs and carpets by heavy iron beds."

——He was speaking of the new SIMMONS COLD-ROLLED STEEL BEDS just received. Heretofore most metal beds have been made of hot-rolled gas pipe, heavy in weight and far from smooth. These new Simmons beds are made of POLISHED COLD-ROLLED STEEL—and they are not only 35 per cent lighter in weight, but they have a delightfully smooth, glass-like surface that is absolutely free from scales, bumps or imperfections of any kind.

——These beds come in all the popular colors and in different sizes. The pattern pictured above in the rich Vernis Martin shade, full double size, we price at $10. The pillars are two inches in diameter and the fillers are 1 1-16 inches.
